A HOBART HENLEY PRODUCTION

Here is one of the greatest stories Jack London ever wrote, and one of the most sensational, unusual and extraordinary stories of adventure and romance that the world has ever read. It's the story of a youngster raised like an animal of the wild in the forests and mountains and of his advent into the world of men and love.

"YOU SAID YOU LOVED ME! YOU ARE MINE! The whole world can go to smash and smithereens before I'll let you go!"
"HER AMAZEMENT SHE FELT THE DESIRE TO YIELD! Her head said "No," but her heart said "Yes!" She could not resist; she was his!"
It's a question that every girl and every man has to answer at least once—Should one follow the heart line? One man offered her wealth, fame, and a high station in society; the other, a hulking brute whispered of love in a cottage. Which did she choose, and why?

CONCORD CHAMPIONS IN LITTLE WORLD SERIES

Concord won the 1923 championship banner when it defeated Maynard on Sunday afternoon at Crowe park by a score of 10 to 6 before one of the largest crowds of the season. Concord won three out of four games played. The series was to be three out of five but Maynard went down under the onslaught of Concord in the two games played this week.

The crowds were not so large or as enthusiastic as last year. Very little of Uncle Sam's currency changed hands as in former years when not only the teams would meet but the rival towns would swap bank rolls. The fever heat of the days when loyalty would prompt backing the home team with all the important dollars available was missing in the series this year.

The closing game of the series was featured with good and poor baseball with the latter most evident.

Concord put three runs across in the first stanza after Lonigan gave Donovan life by fumbling his ground er with two out, on which Dick Loftus scored. Loftus reached second on a clean double but would have died here but for Lonigan's misplay. Sheridan hit a single through the pitcher's box sending Donovan to third. Al Loftus picked out one of Connelly's shoots to his liking and before the fielders had chased the ball in Al had both feet on third scoring Sheridan and Donovan. Keefe fled out to Donovan. Concord scored three runs.

Maynard evened up in its half of the first round. Oates grounded out Bulger to Doherty. O'Brien got hit. Mitchell struck out. Wilder hit to Bulger who threw into the crowd scoring O'Brien and Wilder took second. Bosse hit to deep center for three bases scoring Wilder. Gadeau drew a pass and Bosse scored on a pass ball by Keefe. Doherty ground out to first. Score at the end of the wild and woolly first three runs each. Errors by both teams resulted in the scores.

Concord tucked the game away in the second by scoring four runs, on six hits. The breaks were with Concord this inning. A grounder that was easy took a hop over Mitchell's head for a hit and the same trick was repeated a minute later when a sure out hopped over Doherty head for a safe single. Connelly looked to be in distress and Manager Ryan ordered Morrill to warm up. The third out before Morrill got his sweater off saved Connelly for another turn in the box.

In the sixth Concord put two more runs across and in the eighth added one more for luck. Maynard put three runs to their tally in the seventh aided by loose throwing by Concord.

Concord won because it had the better team through Maynard had a high priced pitcher working to bring home the Bacon. In the box Concord extended itself by getting Weinart of the Philadelphia team. Brick Wilder looking trim after a season with the Omaha, Western League team got three hits out of four times up and worked fine. Dick Loftus, Bridgeport Eastern League star, played great ball this series and never looked better. He will help the big league team that gets him and several are after him. Al Loftus gave brother Richard a run for the features as he turned in a nice record at the bat and in the field.

Concord nicked Connelly for nine hits the first two innings. Ragged baseball by both teams with Maynard leading in misplays took interest out of the game after the second inning. Mitchell gummed a neat play when Wilder shot a fast throw apparently to catch a runner making second but which Connelly caught high and threw to third catching Donovan off by ten feet. Mitchell ran him down or instead of throwing to Wilder to get his man tried to catch him and failed. Donovan throwing himself safe across the plate. Wilder and Connelly worked their end of the play pretty but Mitchell gummed the spectacular.

LOSES BOTH LEGS

Maynard Man Maimed by Jumping From Moving Train

This week the Boston papers contained an account of injuries received by a man who gave his name as Frank Wolley, and his address as 7 Prospect street, Maynard. The injured man attempted to alight from a moving train, 500 feet from the station at Plymouth, and slipping fell under the moving train. Both legs were amputated near the knee at the Jordan hospital in Plymouth, and the name of the man placed on the injured list. According to report of relatives of the man in this town, he is reported in an improved condition and will probably recover. A companion of Wolley, James McCartin, of Cambridge, also jumped at the same time from the train to save the walk back and sustained four broken ribs.

FIRE DESTROYS OLDEST BUILDING

Wednesday afternoon, at 3.45 o'clock, Box 45 was sounded for a fire at the last house in Maynard toward South Acton. The property was recently purchased by Martin Peterson, though Harry Parmenter, previous owner, retained half of the house as a sort of keepsake, as it had been in the Parmenter family since 1833. The house was a historical landmark and as there was no water available the fire caused a total loss, leaving not even the chimney standing. It was covered with insurance.

To trace the origin of the house it was found to have been built by a man named Marble, whose daughter married Daniel Whitney. A daughter of the latter married a Parmenter and from that time to a few years ago, some 130 years a Parmenter lived in the house.

One-half of the house was idle at the time of the fire and Mr. and Mrs. Michael Tarasvitch occupied the other. Their furniture was a total loss.

At this meeting only twenty were notified to be present, as that was all that Mrs. Draper and her assistant were able to look after. However, the others who signified their intentions of taking the instruction will meet on Wednesday and Mrs. Shepard, who is the local director, will notify the remainder where and when the next class will be held.

WHERE'S HE BEEN?

Few people living in Maynard for the last half-century can boast of not having been in South Acton for a period of forty-five years. Robert White, Great road, was last Sunday the guest of his son, Robert, in South Acton, and says it is his first time there in forty-five years, and he is not so sure that the town is so greatly changed after all.

LONG TIME IN BUSINESS

T. F. Parker has Been Catering to Maynard Public

Thomas F. Parker, thirty-two years has enjoyed prosperity in Maynard. Talking of his business this week, Mr. Parker was heard to say that he entered business as a jeweler and watchmaker, later he converted his store to what is now the oldest established hardware store in Maynard. "From my front steps," says Mr. Parker, "during the past thirty-two years I have watched the town of Maynard grow. I have seen most of the mills of the American Woolen Company being erected; I have seen most of the business section of the town; I have seen the town grow from a population of 2,700 to 7,000. During that time I have changed my business and continually increased my patronage, and at the present time I still have a great many of my original customers who patronize my store. Of all the storekeepers who were in business at that time, I can see three who have withstood the sands of time and are still in business. They are P. J. Sullivan, C. H. Persons and W. B. Case."

Shortly after the change of his business from jewelry to hardware, Mr. Parker had a five and ten-cent basement in his store, and that was long before the pilgrimage of Woolworth to Maynard. He safely boasts of selling his wares now to grown men whose fathers were among his customers and in many cases he says he has sold skates to three generations in one family.

In the development of the town he saw the advent of the C. & H. railway and also saw it go through more silent than it came. Mr. Parker was also the first subscriber to a business telephone, and one of the first to use an automobile.

HORACE SEYMORE

Horace Seymore, one of our life-long residents, passed away at his home in South Sudbury, March 29. He had been sick, but had improved and had gone to work, which was too quick; causing a relapse of bronchial pneumonia of three days.

Horace Seymore was the son of Charles Seymore and Lucy Dutton. His earlier home was in West Sudbury, an old family farm. He married Miss Lizzie Noyes. Several children were born to them. "Horace" was one of our older residents, respected by all as a kind man in his family and to neighbors and friends. He was interested in all the affairs of the town and exceptionally so in things pertaining to history and very patriotic. The town was largely indebted to him for the credit received at the celebration of the settlement of Marlboro; organizing a company of "Minute Men" and a company of ancient pieces of warfare from this town and adjoining towns for use on this occasion. Sudbury made a good showing in the parade. Mr. Seymore had been in the painting and papering business for several years, since the removal of Hurlburt-Rogers machine shop, where he was employed. He was a good citizen and will be missed. He is survived by wife, three sons and three daughters, also one brother, Charles Seymore.

The funeral services were from the home, Monday afternoon, April 1st, conducted by Rev. Elbridge Whiting. Many relatives were present and immediate family except one son, now in California. Vocal selections were rendered by Mrs. Henry Eaton, Mrs. Parker Oviatt, Mrs. Laurence Winship and Roland Gutler. There were many beautiful floral tributes. The grandsons acted as the bearers. Interment was in the family lot in Mt. Pleasant cemetery.

Card of Thanks

To all who assisted us in any way during our recent bereavement, in the loss of husband and brother, we extend sincere thanks. Mrs. Lizzie Seymour and family.

POLICE DOG TO EXHIBIT SAGACITY

Champion From South Acton Kennels to Trail Bandit and Face Gunfire

Dog lovers will have a treat Friday afternoon, the first day of the fair, when one of the best trained police dogs in the world will give a demonstration of his amazing ability and thorough training. No similar fair in the state will have such an opportunity as is afforded by the present of Champion Caesar Von Jena-Ost, a champion Caesar Von Jena-Ost, a champion Zeltgeist kennels of South Acton. Caesar will give an exhibition of his powers at 3 o'clock in the afternoon in the large show tent to be used on the second day for the Acton Dog Show, the best of its kind and class.

Caesar is the winner of many bench shows and field trial competition honors. He will go through all his stunts for the entertainment of the crowd, under the guidance of his trainer, William Boyer. The dog is one of the best trained in the country and been taught to trail criminals by scent to capture them, hold them until the arrival of the police, then assist in the actual arrest if necessary. He will resist gunfire, from various weapons, and will throw down and hold the criminal if any attempt to escape is made, and will successfully retrieve any objects, including weapons which the criminal may attempt to discard in order to destroy evidence and make conviction harder.

The training of the remarkable dog also includes life saving, well scaling and commands of obedience so difficult as to be thought almost impossible of accomplishment by any dog of any breed. The first time one sees this remarkable exhibition of sagacity and training they begin to realize the reason police dogs have attained such phenomenal popularity.

Caesar came into special local prominence recently when he trailed and found a three year old child who had been lost in a swamp for 24 hours. The scent was given him from the child's clothing and he took to the trail and followed it unerringly to the child. Caesar is one of the big attractions of the Acton Fair. He will be a universal favorite with the young and old.

HIGH CLASS DOG SHOW
One of Acton Fair's chief attractions for young and old is the dog show which this year will come on Saturday in a big tent all to itself. Under the leadership of Mrs. Fred W. Wood of Concord and Boston, dog lovers from far and wide have come to recognize the Acton Fair Dog Show as one of the best of its kind. "This year it will be better than ever," promises Mrs. Wood.

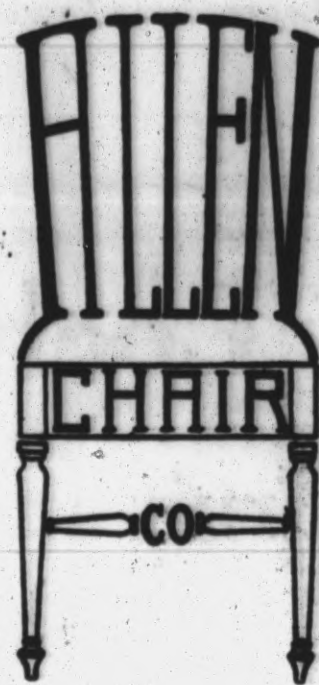

The show this year will be particularly strong on hunting dogs, the classes of setters and hounds being well filled and promising keen competition. Among the more prominent entries received early were Boston terriers from the Hudson Kennels of F. L. Bradford, four shepherd police dogs, from Mrs. John Kelliher, wife of the chief of police of Lincoln, fox hounds from H. S. Schofield, three setters from James O'Neil of East Acton, and collies from W. N. Heilduman of Maynard. Mrs. Wood is exhibiting two shepherd police puppies and a beautiful English greyhound that has taken more than fifty first prizes and ribbons in dog shows. Mrs. Grady of Stow has entered three Boston terriers, Mrs. Hazen of Littleton has entered two Great Danes, and Milton Kimball of Pepperell has entered foxhounds.

Last year's show benched 206 dogs and the present indications are that a considerably larger number will be entered this year.

NO FAKIRS IN MIDWAY

Acton Fair has solved its midway problem by running the attractions itself. It is practically impossible to keep fakirs out in any other way but the fair would not have the right flavor if there was not a chance to spend nickels and dimes in ways which you do not intend. So the Acton Fair management has set up a 100-foot covered section with booths in which the regulation opportunities to spend money painlessly and joyously are provided. It is a whole lot different when all the nickels and dimes go to the support of the fair instead of to some outsider of more or less doubtful standing.

Gardener Loses Chance To Gloat

Letter To The Editor:

May I have a word with the boys who pilfered my cabbages? I want to tell them how they dashed my hopes. You see, I am an amateur agriculturist. I had good crops this year, a cornucopia of vegetables. But I really prized those cabbages, for a reason. A neighbor told me I could not raise cabbages on that land. Bountiful Nature was on my side and the cabbages grew big and well filled out. This week I intended to confound that near farmer by showing him my dozen or more fine cabbages. Now I cannot. You boys pilfered them just the wrong time. Why didn't you wait until next week? I would have expanded my chest as I pointed to those cabbages and that near-farmer would have wilted. All summer I planned my revenge. And you stole the evidence and exhibit just as I was about to taste the sweets of victory. Now you see that the embryo sauerkraut you pilfered was more than just ordinary cabbages. They were golden tributes to my ability as an agriculturist. Gee! when I think of how I planned to gloat over that fellow, and now I cannot, all because you pinched the cabbages a week too soon, I could kick you all over the lot.

Of course I wouldn't do it. I was a boy once and I think I still have a well developed streak of boy to-day. I know you did not realize that so much was at stake. You did not know that pinching my cabbages under the circumstances was not the sporting thing. They were just cabbages to you. Let's have an understanding now that you see my side. You wrecked my chance to gloat over the bird who said I could not raise cabbages on that land. Now let's call it square with the understanding that you will join with me in protecting the crop on that lot in the future. If you see other boys pilfering that particular lot, kick them off.

I didn't mind losing the turnips so much, or the pumpkins, either.

AMATEUR AGRICULTURIST.

LEGION POST STARTS DRIVE

New Officers of Maynard Post Seek More "Buddies"

MAYNARD, Oct. 3—A membership drive will be inaugurated at a meeting of Frank J. DeMars Post, American Legion, to be held Thursday evening at Legion Headquarters. Every veteran of the World War is urged to affiliate with the local post. There are hundreds of veterans in town who are not members and the membership drive is planned to interest them and have them join with their buddies in making the Maynard Legion one of the largest and best in the state.

In unity there is strength. Not only the power of numbers but what is more important a large membership is effective in aiding the welfare work of the Legion throughout the state and nation. The Legion remembers when others forget. It remembers its buddies who are still in hospitals, those who are disabled and the families of the disabled.

The Legion stands in the watch towers protecting the interest not only of the disabled veterans but of all veterans. Its work never ceases. Only when the time of trouble comes is this realized by many and at that time the importance of a strong organization of veterans is fully realized.

New officers were recently elected by Frank J. DeMars Post. The new administration wishes the interest and aid of every veteran of the world war. It wishes them to enroll as members and take an active part in the affairs of the Legion. To kindle a warm interest that will substantially increase the membership is not an easy task. The Legion officials realize this, therefore they ask the cooperation of every veteran in making this membership drive a success. A strong Legion Post not only is a help to the veterans but it will be a beneficial influence on the life of the community.

Wins Radio At Acton Fair

Maynard, Oct. 3—Was the Acton Fair one of the best ever held? Just ask Walter Brayden, Sudbury street. Walter attended the fair, attracted by the many excellent attractions. He dropped into the radio booth of the Acton Drug Co. where Atwater Kent radio sets were on exhibition. A very courteous young man suggested that Walter leave his name and address on a ticket and perhaps he might become the winner of an Atwater Kent radio free. Walter is always accommodating, he did as he was bid and then forgot all about it as he viewed the wonders of the fair. Miss Geraldine Clapp of West Acton later drew Walter's name from among 3000 other tickets and he was announced the winner of the Atwater Kent electrical set. Walter heard of the good luck, called at the booth and when he started for home he had his radio set model 40, an Atwater Kent speaker, tubes and everything. Walter was surprised at his good luck and so was Walter's dad when he delivered his luck at the home. Ernest Cooper proprietor of the Acton Drug Company who gave the radio free was just as pleased as was Walter. He was pleased because of the wide interest in his radio exhibit, where 3000 people registered their names and addresses. "It was a great fair," smiled Walter. "You bet it was," quoth Mr. Cooper.

Fastidious Women Take No Chances on Hairdressing

Back in the days when women were women—not Governors—and Greece ruled the world, nations bowed in worship at the shrine of beauty.

Today the world has changed but little in that respect, and it is the wise woman who seeks to preserve and enhance the blooming flower of her youth and her beauty.

The one thing which nature will not tolerate is neglect. Neglect your health, or your skin, or your hair, and nature will exact her toll of falling health, falling hair and ugliness.

She will do to your hair and to your skin what she does to flowers long neglected. She will make it wither and grow old. She will make you bald while still young.

Aiding nature and abetting her, assisting when she has failed and improving when she has fallen short, making the beautiful more so, and the plain beautiful.

Such is the service that The New Mode Beauty Shop of 3 Walden street, over the Post Office, is doing for the women of this vicinity.

The New Mode Beauty Shop does all branches and all types of hair cutting and treating.

Women have found that the New Mode Beauty Shop has facilities for doing all kinds of work well. And every woman who has ever patronized this shop for hair cutting has found that they are ready to give the best in service and satisfaction and that they are up-to-date in everything.

Further, we all judge such shops by the appearance which they present and many women have been sold on the appearance of the shop alone. If such were the case generally the New Mode would be very popular for the shop is large, roomy and light, clean at all times, and instruments are cleaned and sterilized after using. This insures absolute cleanliness.

The proprietor of the New Mode Beauty Shop, Miss Hazel E. Miller, studied and had training under a well known beauty culturist, Mrs. C. E. Wetherbee. Under her tutelage she learned all of the varying types of work and then started the New Mode Beauty Shop over three years ago.

From the time that the New Mode Beauty Shop was first opened until this date it has enjoyed increasing popularity, and the business has many satisfied customers and "rooters."

Equipment at the New Mode Beauty Shop is all up-to-date and new and is kept that way due to the continual buying of newer and better equipment.

One of the things that the New Mode specializes in is the washing and treating of hair after permanents have been given, and in this they have become very expert; after your next permanent whenever it may be, or at once, have your hair treated at the New Mode Beauty Shoppe.

It is located at 3 Walden street, over the post office and the telephone number is Concord 397-R. Call Miss Miller for your appointment now.

STOPPING BANDITRY

An Eastern judge, in advocating a stringent Federal anti-pistol law, said that a pistol is of no possible use in the possession of honest, law-abiding citizens, because of the element of surprise.

On another page of the same issue of the newspaper in which this statement appeared, was an article describing the shooting of two armed bandits by the son of a storekeeper they were attempting to rob. Evidently, in this case, the surprise was on the part of the bandits who had expected unarmed, unprotected victims.

In the old days, said Judge Franklin Taylor of Brooklyn, when people were permitted to possess pistols, it was customary to see a pistol hanging on a shop wall behind a counter. The mere presence of that arm was a warning to the crook. Today the crook knows the law has removed that menace to him. I believe that if it were once known in the underworld that shops were armed again that shopkeepers stood an equal chance with the thief and that adequate police details were there to pursue fleeing bandits, such a menace would go further to stop banditry than any other.

Small arms legislation of one kind or another restricts the possession of weapons in many of our states. Crime is increasing daily. Murders, assaults and robberies are commonplace. And yet the reformers keep up their chant that further disarming of law-abiding citizens would stop crime!

THE EVERLASTING TARIFF

According to qualified observers Congress is at last on the verge of passing a tariff bill. It will be a compromise bill, striking some sort of a middle ground between the duties advocated by the extreme high protectionists and the insurgents who are in favor of very low duties. At any rate, it will be a tariff.

Thus does Congress play ducks and drakes with a business question that should not be a political issue.

New York, March 31.—When the Naval Conference is over, if a satisfactory results, every nation represented will have increased its strength in all categories which are today regarded as relevant to the next war.

This is the gist of the cable report of Frank H. Simonds, noted authority on international affairs, published in the current issue of The Review of Reviews magazine, which he is representing at the London conference.

"It has been made clear," Mr. Simonds continues, "that in no country is there going to be any reduction of tonnage except in capital ships. And this reduction is merely registration that in the general world the battleship, for a variety of reasons, has passed out of the picture as an instrument of defense.

"As far as the United States is concerned, we started this conference with a total tonnage of just about 1,200,000 tons, and we shall finish it with the same figure. But within these limits we shall have disposed of something like 250,000 tons of obsolete and obsolescent capital ship and destroyer tonnage, and have undertaken to replace this by about the same value of big cruisers, small cruisers, and airplane carriers."

Mr. Simonds estimates that American naval expenditures before the next scheduled conference of nations meets in 1935 will be a million dollars.

"The question of Anglo-American equality has been settled and a basic agreement on parity will probably survive any outcome of the conference," he continues, "but it seems now to have been a mistake to call the conference before some preliminary exploration has been done, particularly in the French situation."

The international political situation, rather than any unwillingness on the part of an individual nation to reduce, has proved the impassable obstacle of the conference, his Review of Reviews article continues. France, for instance, has offered to modify her naval plans if Britain and the United States assure her by treaty of security against potential European foes, but the policy of isolation precludes this step.

"Real reduction, or even effective limitation, will be postponed to the next conference," Mr. Simonds believes. "The reason lies in the present impossibility of adjusting political questions. To get parity with Britain we must build. To keep pace with us Japan must build. To guard against German or Italian dangers—real or imaginary—France must build. To be equal with France—Italy must build. In the face of their building Britain cannot stand still. There is the reason why any conference called before political atmospheres have changed must end, not in the reductions, but expansions, and in limitations which must be briefly illusory."—Review of Reviews.

TERCENTENARY PROGRAM 17th

Hon. J. M. Merriam to Be Speaker; Real Observance to be in June

Hon. John M. Merriam, chairman of the Framingham Tercentenary committee, will speak on "Sudbury's Part in Colonial Affairs," at a mass meeting in the First Unitarian Church, Sudbury, at 8 o'clock on the night of April 17. The affair will be under the auspices of the Town's Tercentenary committee.

Invitations are extended to the townspeople and to people in sister and daughter towns of Sudbury. The real Tercentenary celebration will, however, be in June and it will be an open air affair. There will be a parade and sports in the morning and in the afternoon there will be speaking on the town common, with Professor George Barton presiding. The speakers will include Attorney John E. Rice of Marlboro, Professor Clifford H. Moore of Harvard College and others. Several brass bands will play and there will be community singing. There will be a caterer on the grounds all day and the committee urges all townspeople to invite which means from far and near. In brief the affair will be an "Old Home Event."

MAYNARD

Complaints have been filed with the Board of Health of several overflowing cesspools. A member of the Health Board reports that an inspector of the State Board of Health is to make an inspection of the cesspools of the town especially of those complained of. Ralph P. Fletcher was re-nominated for the office of inspector of Slaughter by the local Health Board.

The public schools will close on Thursday April 17 for a ten days Spring vacation and will reopen on Monday April 23.

Local employees of the Edison Company were given a physical examination by a specialist of the Life Extension course of the company yesterday. The examination was free and was taken only by those who wished it. Its purpose is to protect the health of the employees.

Geo. P. Parker Dies at 92 Years

West Acton, April 2.—George B. Parker, aged 92, the oldest man in town, died yesterday morning at his home on Arlington street.

Mr. Parker was born in Windsor, Vt., and came to Acton 75 years ago. If he had lived until today he would have been just 92 years and 7 months old.

Mr. Parker was quartermaster of Isaac Davis, G. A. R. post, for 30 years and a member of Acton Lodge, I. O. O. F., and the West Acton Baptist church. He served in the Civil war in Company E, 26th Massachusetts Regiment.

He was a widower, his wife having died 17 years ago. He is survived by one son, Herman W. Parker, president of the Stoneham Savings Bank.

A. Brooks Parker, moderator of the town meetings, is his nephew. There are five grandchildren, whose mother was Mr. Parker's only daughter. She died several years ago. Funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon.

Eclipse of Sun Visible in California

MRS ISABEL M. LEWIS CHART SHOWING PATH OF THE ECLIPSE.

In order to maintain unbroken the historical record of solar eclipses, it has been arranged to send Mrs. Isabel M. Lewis, the observatory woman astronomer, to Honey Lake, Calif., to observe the total eclipse there at 11:05 a. m. on April 28. A specially built camera with a 46-inch focal length and a powerful lens will be used by Mrs. Lewis to observe the sun's corona—a beautiful gaseous glow that is visible only when it projects beyond the sun's disc during the eclipse. The chart shows that the total eclipse will be visible only in California. The eclipse will last a second and a half and the moon's shadow will be only half a mile wide.

ENUMERATING PEOPLE AT USUAL PLACE OF ABODE

If a person dies between April 1 and the time the census-taker arrives, he will be counted as being still alive in the 1930 decennial census, according to instructions which have been sent out by the Census Bureau in Washington. Children born after April 1 will not be counted in the census, although they may be two or three weeks old by the time the census-taker arrives at their home.

Population figures in the 1930 census will be compiled as of April 1, although the entire month will be needed to complete the census taking. The 1930 census reports will picture the United States as it was on one particular day, despite the fact that the population of the country is continually changing in size and moving from one place to another.

Getting everybody counted once in the place where he belongs and nobody counted more than once is one of the biggest problems the Census Bureau has to consider, for each district must be credited with its proper population if apportionment of representation in Congress is to be correct. Detailed instructions have been issued by Census officials, telling the enumerators whom to count and whom not to count.

All persons will be enumerated as being residents of whatever place is their "usual place of abode" on April 1, regardless of where they may be when the census-taker arrives.

Each census-taker will count a number of persons who are not actually in his district when the census is taken. Among these will be the following:

- 1. Persons temporarily absent, either in foreign countries or elsewhere in the United States on business or visiting.
- 2. Persons attending schools or colleges located in other districts.
- 3. Persons ill in hospitals or sanitariums in other districts.

On the other hand, a number of persons who are actually present in the district at the time of the census will not be counted in the population of that place. Among these will be the following:

- 1. Persons visiting in the district.
- 2. Transient boarders or lodgers who have a permanent place of abode outside the district.
- 3. Students or children living or boarding in the district in order to attend school, but not regarding the place as their home.
- 4. Persons who eat or work in the district but who sleep in another district.

It is not, say the census authorities, a question of where a person votes, or where he pays taxes or owns property. It is a question of where he lives; the "usual place of abode" for the purposes of the census is the place which one would name in answer to that question. Sentiment and local attachments are not to be considered. One's heart may be in the highlands, or in Tipperary, but unless his usual place of abode is there he does not form a part of the population of that locality according to the census. When a young person has left his parents' home and obtained employment elsewhere, the place where he regularly stays while engaged in this employment is considered his "usual place of abode," even though he may still think of his parents' residence as "home."

But census taking is a practical problem and exceptions have to be

All Dogs Must Be Licensed

Maynard, April 2.—Have you got a license for your dog this year? All dog licenses expired March 31 and must be renewed at once. All dogs three months of age and over must be licensed. There were 441 dogs licensed in Maynard last year. This year by April 1 licenses had been issued for only 90 dogs. At the same date last year 131 licenses had been issued. The dog license, according to law, must be paid when the dog is three months old or over, regardless of the time of the year ownership was acquired. If you got a new dog in January and paid a license fee for him you are required to pay another fee for the same dog April 1. No tax bills are sent to dog owners. They must protect their dogs by paying the license fee at the office of the town clerk.

much pleasure to people of all ages will be on hand this year and the Merry-go-round for the little tots and young people.

MAYNARD CAT LOVERS ARE ROUSED OVER LOSS OF PETS

Reports of Racketeering In Other Cities Causes Anxiety for Safety of Felines; Utter Lack Of Claws Arouses Suspicion

Maynard.—Several cats, household pets, some a dozen years of age, are missing. They disappeared though the ground has opened and swallowed them. Most of them were domiciled in the Paper Mill area section and all of them had owners who miss them much. The third generation in the household of her mistress, Lester Cowles, chairman of the board of health, part of whose duty is to supervise the internment of dead cats found about town, reports that none of the missing felines were among the recent casualties. The women whose pets have been taken are not in gentle mood. They are angry, eager to solve the mysterious disappearance of their pets, and would like nothing better than to have their trade mark on the pet which they slaughtered their household pets. No one has uncovered a clue that would solve the mys-

Maynard C. of C. Reduce Price of Yearly Dues

Last Thursday evening there was a meeting of the Maynard chapter of the Commercial Club at the Maynard hall. President William McKewen presided at the meeting which considerable business was transacted. One of the first items under consideration was the reduction of dues from $3 to $1. The chamber decided to give a sum of $25 to the Emerson hospital and a committee of three composed of James R. Priest, Joseph Dineen and Rev. Matthew Vance, was appointed to accept contributions for the hospital from other organizations in Maynard and to forward the same with the contribution of the chamber. It was suggested that a planning board of nine members be appointed by the chair to discuss the idea of planning work for those who are on welfare of the town thereby something will be done to pay for the large amounts which are annually to be expended. Any projects which can be found that can be accomplished with this fund is to be suggested to the Secretary with an idea of having the same presented to the town at their meeting. The committee headed by the president included James J. Ledgard, B. J. Coughlin, Lowell W. Flood, Frank J. McCreton, James R. Priest, Herbert Martin, John J. Driscoll and George John J. Donahue. The chamber also voted to have a committee of three appointed by the chair with the idea of seeking lower rates in gas, electricity and phone for the users within the limits of Maynard. On this committee the president named George Creighton, George F. Lynch and Representative Frank C. Sheridan. President Stockwell announced at the next meeting William O'Brien, director of telephone department of the Public Utilities department would be present to discuss the members. Town Treasurer George H. Guttridge recommended that the chamber suggest the replacing of the fence over the canal on Great road with a strong wire fence referred to the Selectmen.

John M. Bellows, Jr., a Freshman at the University of Vermont, was recently initiated into Wig and skin men's honorary dramatic society. John was graduated from Maynard High in 1930.

BRIDAL PAGEANT

Wedding Gowns of Many Periods Worn By Sudbury Folks

South Sudbury.—The Bridal Pageant presented by members and friends of Memorial Church in South Sudbury last Friday evening in the church auditorium proved to be one of the most spectacular and attractive programs staged in the town for many a day. The church was beautifully decorated with evergreens and flowers. Ushers in full dress escorted the people to their seats. At shortly after 8 o'clock when Mrs. Bessie Maynard at the organ and Mrs. Lawrence Winslow, violinist, opened with a 15-minute recital there were few seats left vacant. By the time Mrs. Carlton Ellms had effectively sung the concluding stanza of "O Promise Me," the church was well filled.

After a brief introduction by the pastor, Rev. Albert B. Reynolds, who united in the words of the marriage service, the assembly and those who participated in the evening's program in the spirit of good fellowship and high entertainment the pageant was on. One by one to the tune of Lohengrin's Wedding March the flower of Sudbury's young womanhood moved slowly down the carpeted aisle, attired in wedding gowns of every period from 1852 down to 1932. There were hoops and bustles, silks, satins and lace. As each approached the platform and stood for a moment to display the peculiar beauty of her gown, Mrs. William Tufts, who with Mrs. John C. Hall was responsible for the program, described the gown and interestingly told something of its history.

At the meeting of Maynard Council K. of C. which will be held at their rooms on Tuesday evening, April 11th a concert program will be presented by members of the Framingham Council.

PROSECUTED ON BIGAMY CHARGE

Kurosky Said to Have Taken $300 From First Wife

Maynard.—Kazimierz Kurosky alias Kurovsky, 19 Roosevelt street, 48, was charged with bigamy by the Maynard police in the district court at Concord, Monday. Chief of police John Connors prosecuted for the town and Atty. Leslie Sims was counsel for Kurosky.

The police allege that Kurosky married Sophie Jurg of Maynard in Maynard on July 26, 1924 and that the ceremony was performed by the Rev. Fr. Joblonski. Six weeks after the marriage the police allege Kurosky deserted his bride and took with him $300 of her money. On October 31, 1931 Kurosky married Maryanne Pizour of Worcester according to the police, who say that the ceremony was performed in Worcester by Charles R. Johnson, justice of the peace. The first wife is now living in Shirley and she is cooperating with the police in the prosecution of the case. She saw Kurosky in the court Monday for the first time since he deserted her. Kurosky and his second wife have been living in Maynard about one year according to the police. There are rumors of a third wife in Russia but these rumors are unconfirmed. The case was continued until next Monday.

Bedford.—Last Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Perkins of Hartford street were pleasantly surprised by several of their relatives in remembrance of their 10th wedding anniversary. A beautiful fernery was presented by the group and inside were many small but useful gifts. Each one contained a verse appropriate for the occasion. After howls of laughter by all, refreshments were served by Mrs. Perkins but in this also she was outdone as the guests had brought along their own refreshments in the form of two lovely cakes, one saying congratulations and the other saying 10 years. Ice cream was plentiful and when the cake was cut it brought forth many more good laughs as there were gifts baked in it for all. A license fee of $1000 for each of the six licenses was charged and went into the treasury of the town. PERRY WAS FIRST WITNESS

Testimony Given As Hearing for Light and Gas Rates Cut Continued

OTHERS HEARD Copy of Vote by Shoe Workers Union Was Presented

Marlboro.—Testimony by George W. Perry, vice president of the Marlboro Electric Company, yesterday took up practically the full time at the hearing on the Marlboro petition for lower gas and electric light rates, before the Department of Public Utilities in the State House. Perry was questioned by Attorney Wycliff Marshall, representing the city council, who called the vice-president as the first witness for the hearing.

Charles Murdock presented a letter signed by John F. Libby, president of the Shoe Workers Protective Union attesting to their endorsement of the Gas and Electric Light petition. The letter is as follows: "The bearer, Charles Murdock has been appointed to represent Local 75 S. W. P. U. of Marlboro at the hearing on the reduction of Electric and gas rates in Marlboro."

The next witness called was John T. Tucker of 32 Berkeley street, who said he was a gas user for over 45 years and an electric light consumer. He mentioned the recinded vote of the Building Trades Council which was brought in to the previous hearing through the representation of Mr. Jameson, was not right. He said that the recinded vote referred simply as far as delegates were concerned, but as citizens the petition was upheld. He protested against the rate in Marlboro and said that they charged five times as much as the City of Worcester and twice as much as Hudson.

Mr. Tucker said he knew at the time that the New England Power Co., had started after Hudson to buy the plant, Mr. Jameson said they could furnish power cheaper than the Hudson plant could produce it. The Hudson plant did not sell but the price there is twice as low as Marlboro.

"There's a dog in the wood pile somewhere," Mr. Tucker declared. He said that he was a graduate of Massachusetts Institute of Technology and was no fool about the matter. "When anyone cannot see that we are being overcharged, they don't know what they are talking about," Charles O'Donnell was called on by Mr. Marshall and he expressed himself in favor of a reduction.

Attorney Jane D. Fahey said she was interested in a reduction in the rates in Marlboro.

Mr. Marshall then said that in December he was called to Marlboro by the Mayor to meet the Councilors and as a result of the session he was appointed and entrusted to represent the city at the hearing. He presented many exhibits which he said were the results of his investigation into the records of the Marlboro Electric Co., and the Marlboro Hudson Gas Co.

The exhibits included financial reports of the Voluntary Association, incorporation, filed with the department of Public Utilities in 1932. The exhibits showed the financial connection between the Voluntary Association and owned or affiliated companies for the year 1932. The exhibits were presented to bring out the conclusion for all practical purposes that the two operating companies, and the one company whose property is operated by the Electric Company are active members of the New England Power Association. He also submitted maps of stations, lines and territories served by the Marlboro Electric Co. George W. Perry, vice president of the Marlboro Electric Company and the Marlboro Hudson Gas Co. and the Westboro Gas and Electric Co., was the first witness called for the hearing. Questioning of Mr. Perry by Mr. Marshall concerning the operations of the Electric Company and concerning technicalities of its equipment and manner of service took up the remainder of the hearing which lasted until 1 o'clock.

Mr. Perry on Stand Mr. Perry on questioning by Mr.

Marshall brought out the fact that he was first employed with the Electric Company as a salesman in 1909. He became vice president in 1930. In the questioning he brought out that Marlboro has no generating plant of its own. Mr. Marshall asked him if he believed that as a result of being tied in with the New England system that Marlboro gets the benefit of the centralized generating capacity of the New England Power Company. He said that he believed they would.

In stating his capacity in the operating of the Marlboro Electric Company as vice president, he said his duties were to supervise the operation of the Company and all operating branches. Mr. Marshall asked "where the engineering and technical problems of the plant are directed?" Mr. Perry said they are directed locally by Robert H. Jameson, and extensive engineering problems are handled by the New England engineering service. He brought out that all supplies are purchased through the purchasing department of the power company.

"Do you know whether the Marlboro Electric and the Marlboro Hudson Gas Company have to pay the lowest prices?" Mr. Marshall queried.

Mr. Perry replied that in every instance he had checked they had received the lowest prices. Mr. Perry explained that the Marlboro company operates under two transmission systems, a 2900 volt ring system and a 6000 direct line. He said that in the ring system the current and fed from both ends and any sections can be cut out without effecting the others.

Marshall asked if that made a dependable system. Mr. Perry replied that a ring system is dependable but that the Marlboro system is not 100 per cent, due to the fact that it runs on highways, lines and part of some of the 1900 volt lines are over 100 years old. He said that all of the 6000 volt lines, Mr. Perry said that since 1931 they had one break down in the ring system. Mr. Marshall asked if any of the substations were outdoor stations. "The outdoor stations are the Westboro substation and the connection with the Massachusetts owned line and others are partially outdoors," Mr. Perry replied.

Automatic Stations
In reply to a question from Mr. Marshall, the vice president brought out the Westboro, Northboro, Bolton-Berlin substations are automatically controlled and that the state-owned line connection is operated by remote control from the Marlboro substation.

Mr. Perry was asked concerning the number of people employed by the two companies and how the time was divided for employees connected with both companies. Mr. Perry was unable to answer the question but said that he would have it furnished later in the hearing.

When asked if the Company had any appliance department Mr. Perry replied that the Electric appliance department had been eliminated but that the gas company still sells gas appliances.

Mr. Marshall asked if it were possible economically to add to the equipment of the Company as the business grows. Mr. Perry replied that it was within reasonable limits.

Mr. Marshall asked: "Has the distribution system which the Company operates been built up by a definite plan, for years in advance?" Mr. Perry replied that it had been built up from study of the towns served, and the location. He said that the study had been made during the past 40 years.

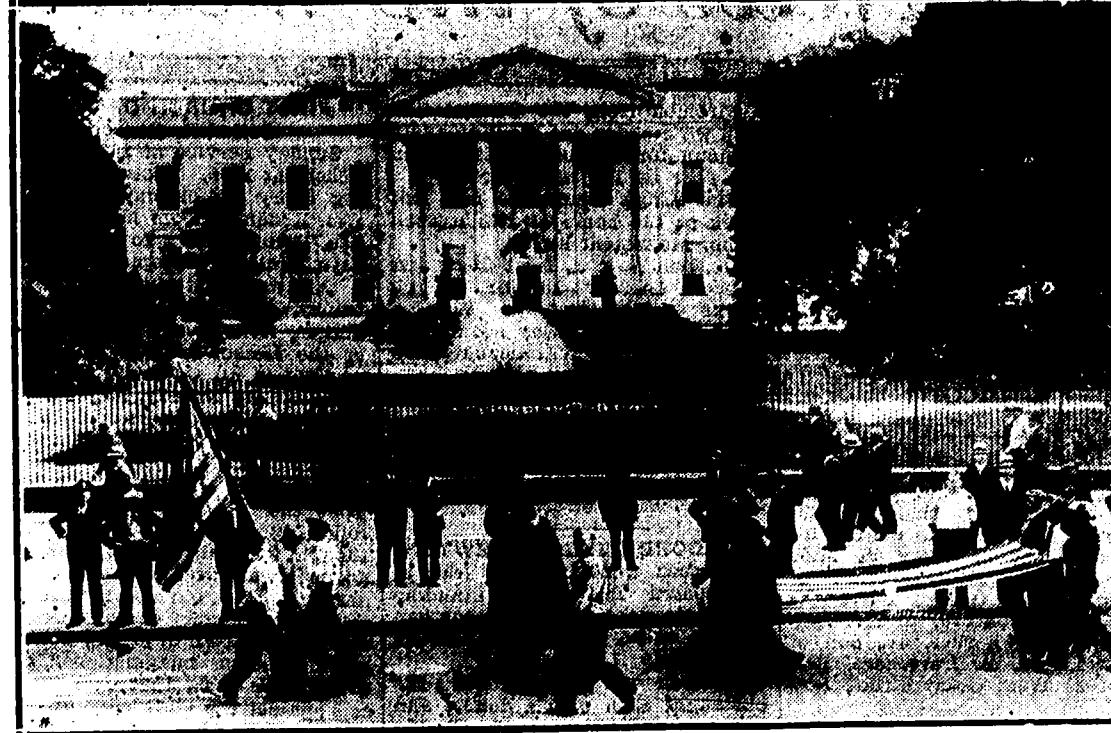

"Do you know that possible territory where the distribution is not covered?" asked Marshall. Mr. Perry said that the territory was very well covered. There are not many houses that are not reached or that are not able to be reached he said.

"Is the service available to every house in the rural section?" Mr. Marshall asked. "Not every house, but nearly every one," said Mr. Perry.

He said that Berlin and Northboro had good coverage and that the same was true in Westboro, with the possible exception of the very outskirts. He was asked what percentage of the manufacturing in the territory were consumers. Mr. Perry replied that there were four engines in the territory and some of those were supplied partially by the company. He said there was one company in Westboro and two in Northboro in Marlboro that also engines installed.

Mr. Perry said that he believed the company had 100 per cent of the possible commercial customers.

Bonus Paraders Before White House

Singing lustily and with banners waving, these members of the Bonus Army "Left Wingers" are shown as they marched past the White House, during the first bonus parade of the year in the capital. While the Right Wing B. E. F. refused to march, President Roosevelt received a delegation of bonussers, during which he intimated that even were a bill for payment of the bonus passed by Congress, he would veto it.

constituents in Maynard, Stow and Hudson who are gas users of the Marlboro-Hudson Gas company; "Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of the Commission, "I am here in behalf of my constituents from the towns of Hudson, Stow and Maynard, not as a matter of political expediency on my part, but in a sincere and honest endeavor to effectuate their desire that the Marlboro-Hudson Gas company should reduce the rates now charged to its customers, and that an order should be issued by your honorable commission ordering the Company to make such a reduction.

"People Hard Hit"
"My people have been hit hard financially as any section of the State. Due to circumstances over which they have had no control, and through no fault of their own, and which must be attributed to economic conditions. They are looking for any consideration no matter how small it may be, to help them meet their financial obligations. They have had to reduce their standards of living to meet their income, which has been reduced. Now the only expense that the Marlboro-Hudson Gas company has for this item, would be the proper maintenance of its system. It does not manufacture its own product, but purchases such product from other sources. The statistics in the returns filed with you show that in the year 1921 they were paying 80 cents per thousand cubic feet. In 1932 gentlemen of the commission they were only paying 53.9 cents per thousand cubic feet. $3 you can readily see that they are buying the product 26.1 cents cheaper.

"The company maintained their usual charge of $1.80 per thousand cubic feet, plus that detestable 50 cents per month service charge, which your board should have abolished long ago. How you can continue to let these utility companies get away with this service charge is beyond me. It seems to me gentlemen that all costs or charges should ordinarily be included in determining the selling price of a commodity. This service charge is outrageous and the sooner it is abolished the better it will be for all parties concerned."

"The reduction in the salaries and wages of the employees of the Marlboro-Hudson Gas company. "The reduction of the income of the people who are customers using the product of the Marlboro-Hudson Gas company. "No one can deny that the income of the people is almost as low as it was in 1914 prior to the world war. About everything such as food products, rents etc. have been reduced considerably. However, the Utilities of Gas, Light and Telephone have still maintained their charges in rates, with no attempt whatever on their part to reduce them.

"Is it hard for you gentlemen to see that if the Marlboro-Hudson Gas company reduced its rates to consumers, that there would not be a loss in users of their product, which I am positive they will assert as a part of their argument. You gentlemen can see that with a reasonable amount of certainty, that if they would reduce their rates, that the natural conclusion would be not only to retain the customers they now have, but would result in gaining more people to use their product."

"It has been recommended that the interest on savings deposits be reduced to 3 1/2 per cent. Under present economic conditions this policy may be sound. The question naturally arises, that if it is necessary to reduce the return on savings bank deposits of the poor working people, then on what theory can you gentlemen, who are public officials, base your position to allow these utility companies to take and gouge the profits right out of the pockets of the consumers? That is where they certainly come from.

"I feel that my constituents are entitled to relief from the charges now made for gas by the Marlboro-Hudson Gas company. This matter rests entirely with you. While you are considering their plea, I hope that you will not only order them to reduce their rates, but will also order the abolition of that detestable service charge."

The executive committee of the Marlboro Fish and Game Association met last night and discussed plans for an outing to be held probably next month. President Daniel F. O'Connor presided. The committee voted to meet with the outing committee this evening at the home of Chairman Hanson, Lakeside avenue tonight to complete the arrangements.

The Helping Hand Society of the West Concord Union church met yesterday afternoon in the church parlors with Miss Esther Evans as hostess.

British Veterans In Pilgrimage To Honor Their Dead

Concord.—One hundred and fifty eight years ago they died "to keep the past upon its throne," and they are not forgotten, and now their own country men are joined by the men of Concord once their enemies in paying them reverence and in turn our dead are honored by every British pilgrim who come every year in large numbers to the graves at the Old North Bridge.

Sunday was the appointed day and the rain and threatening skies of the morning did not prevent the largest gathering perhaps of all times, taking part in the impressive ceremonies.

For many years, going back for about a quarter of a century, the British veterans have each May visited these towns to pay tribute to the British dead buried in Lexington and Concord, and to honor the memory of the soldier and sailor dead of all American wars in the three communities. The objective of the British were the graves of the two unknown British soldiers at the North Bridge, killed in the famous Concord fight, on April 19, 1775.

Joining the British veterans in their pilgrimage, which is the outstanding event in the annual program of the British organization, were members of their allied organizations, also officers of the United States Army, members of the military and patriotic organizations of the three towns which were visited, including Spanish War veterans, and other war veterans, together with town officials and other dignitaries.

Lieut. Leo Cartwright of Needham president and commander of the British organization, had general charge of the exercises with Thomas Hamilton of Somerville, a past commander, as adjutant.

The oldest British veteran to appear in the line of march was Col. John R. Smith, 84, who was one of the first presidents of the British Veterans' body. The principal exercises of the day took place Sunday afternoon at the British graves at the North

Gang Czar in U. S. Tax Net

Long sought by Uncle Sam's sleuths as an income tax evader, Irving Waxler, alias Waxey Gordon, is shown at the wheel of a police car after his capture at White Lake, N. Y. The New York liquor czar tried to dodge the camera on one side, but our photographer caught him on the other. A few minutes later he had left the wheel and was in a passenger.

British Veterans In Pilgrimage To Honor Their Dead

Raymond Wheeler, chairman of the Concord Board of Selectmen, extended the greetings of the town to the British, and then Lieut. Cartwright spoke briefly in closing, thanking all for their hearty cooperation in making the affair the best yet held. Just as the program at the British graves ended, the sun burst from behind the breaking clouds.

At Lexington the British placed a wreath at the World War tablet and at the Lexington Minute man and there were similar ceremonies in Bedford when dinner was served. Continuing their pilgrimage by bus and private cars, the British arrived in Concord about 3 p. m. and proceeded to the Veterans' building, where they were joined by Co. H, 182nd Infantry, M. N. G., of this town; the James J. Mansfield Post, No. 158, A. L. of this town; Varsity Council, No. 2, U. S. W. V., with Spanish War camps present from Concord, Hudson, Marlboro, Natick, Newton, Framingham, Milford and Malden, and the Boston Post, No. 1, Canadian Legion, with band and members of the post's Ladies' Auxiliary.

Following the decorating of the British graves in the principal ceremonies of the day, the parade returned to the square, where the Civil War, Spanish War and World War memorials were decorated by the British, and their guests were served a collation in the Veterans' building by the local Spanish War and Legion Auxiliary women, Mrs. Alice Lee, chairman.

MAYNARD

Gardner, Nov. 2.—A snappy looking group of animal trainers sporting the traditional orange and black of Maynard H. S. tamed, and hypnotized the ferocious Lady Wildcats of Gardner H. S. and twisted a knot in her tail to remain in the sleet undeterred class with a 1-1 tie on the Greenwood playground today.
The Maynard eleven was repulsed by the heavy defensive power during the half as they threatened time and again only to miss by inches with wild shots.
The Lady Wildcats sharpened their claws as they attempted to scratch the undented Maynard record. Finally half way through a passing attack beat the Maynard backs and Forward Collins shot rang truthfully into the strings. A few minutes later Maynard pressed hard and in a scrimmage in front of the net All Kajuder tied the count.
In a preliminary game Gardner Seconds nosed out the Maynard Seconds 1-0 in a close battle.
The lineup:
Maynard H. S.—Hoffman, Iw., Kajuder, H. Gudzinowicz, et., Aho, J. Swanson, Fw. Jasusik, Ibb, Sheck, chb, Nyholm, rrb, Tobin, Ibb, Heikkila rrb, Meriluoto G.

Stonham, Nov. 4.—A gentle zephyr suddenly slashed out without any storm warning, into a roaring torrid tropical tornado that dashed with a vehement fury raging for forty long minutes and when the wild sweeping wave had subsided, the giant destroyer Maynard H. S. laid on the rocks with her stern devastated, her big guns completely demolished under a 6-0 defeat from the bolterous Stonham storm on the Town Field, here today.
The mere handful of half frozen faithful fans who came to see the thundering big guns of Maynard let loose its famous broadside were stunned as the violent commotion of the Stonham disturbance struck a rapid assault that swept the entire crew of visiting warship overboard and dashed its supposed to be fortified frame into fragments, a complete wreck.
This sudden uprising of the gentle wind cost Maynard the Middlesex League title as Lexington fell before Winchester. An orange and black victory would have raised the flag high on her bow by a single point.

the Assabet. Three times the big waves of Stonham washed and swept back the Maynard team when it was within scoring distance. Stonham won because it was alert, smart, scrappy and played heads-up football. She capitalized on her only break of the game which came at the start of the last period when Al Savella punted down to the Maynard five yard stripe. With their backs to the wall Maynard attempted to fight its way out into the clear waters. But Newman got crossed up, fumbled and the fast charging Pete Bowen had pounced on the ball for a touchdown. Savella's attempt to kick goal went wild.
A last minute aerial barrage sent out by the Maynard gunners failed to go straight and they were demolished by the heavy gale that kept up its raging torrent across the field until the storm went down with the setting sun and the Stonham gang had hung up its first win.
Coach Lerer started half his regulars and half his second stringers.
Savella kicked off. Not being able to gain O'Leary punted back to mid-field. A bit of uprising started when a pass Bowen to Downes gave the home club a first down. But Maynard held. Savella punted. A 15-yard penalty set Maynard back and O'Leary punted. Savella kicked right away. On a brilliant play Johnnie O'Leary got away for his only long dash of the day, a 39 yard run. But again Stonham held. Another exchange of punts. Maynard brought the ball down to her own 41 yard line as the period ended at zero all.
The Maynard armada started firing away in the second period straight down the storm sweep area. But here Stonham gamely stopped Maynard's attack. As Stonham attempted to rush into open space Archer recovered McKinnon's fumble on the 18. Once again the storm stuffed the Big guns. An attempt to pass was wrecked by four charging linemen. The half ended zero all.
Maynard played her first crew all through the last half. The third period was a punting duel. The details of the winning touchdown have been described above. The armada's best bid for victory vanished when Brayden's pass fell in the end zone. Archer and McKinnon were expelled for swapping punches.
Stonham's players were in a joyful mood after the game. They patted each other's backs, sang, cheered and even kissed Bowen.
Maynard made eleven first downs to Stonham's six, completed one pass against two by the visitors.
Maynard's second stringers are deserving of a word of praise.
Savella, Downes and Bowen were keynotes of Stonham's upturn.

By Al Cowles: Maynard—Old Man Winter has been placed in his tomb amidst little sympathy or shedding of tears until his reappearance next December. But a tiny waif is just ready to bloom into the beautiful blossom of Spring and Summer. This little chap brings with him the great outdoors in the form of fishing, tennis, golf and our great National Pastime, baseball. The diamond season will open for the benefit of the fans this Friday afternoon on Crowe Park, when the scholastic boys begin their conquest toward new titles to conquer. The 1934 edition conceived and produced by Coach Reggie Sawyer, will be ready for the curtain bell and play the leading role against the villainous efforts of Belmont High school, in the opening scene of the Middlesex league. Despite the handicap of lack of available practice sessions the Maynard lads have come along fine and feel confident of making a spectacular opening. Captain Smiling Big Joe Piecewicz, the fence buster two years back, leads a nine that contains six lettermen. They may not be the hardest hitting team in the circuit but they are a strong offensive club and should be capable of winning on four runs and has year practically every game found the school games way over four runs. Lehto is the main twirler and as George goes so will Maynard go; Brayden is a veteran catcher who should have absorbed enough knowledge to make all league backstop while his hitting is of the best. The infield will be taken care of by Flaherty who knows his paces around the important first base; Lamble, Colombo, Fraser and Liverman balance the outfit. Piecewicz has been converted into an outfielder while Duggan made the all team last year. Childley is the new man.

"Polly" Harris at Belmont, too, has no set-up; they lack a good pitcher but have in George Johnson one of the best school-boy players in the state. Four lettermen will be on hand to play in the matinee Friday at Crowe Park. The opening game lineup: Maynard—Liverman 3b, Colombo 2b, Flaherty 1b, Brayden c, Piecewicz if, Fraser ss, Duggan cf, Childley if, Lehto p. Belmont—Taylor if, Abbott 3b, Johnson ss, Thompson 2b, McCurdy cf, Kenney 1b, Sullivan if, Bruno c, Brown p. Then on next Wednesday afternoon the Maynard game journey to Winchester for an important game on Manchester Field. Getting an early jump by winning the first two games will give Coach Sawyer a big advantage towards copping the crown. The first Midland contest comes on April 28 when the locals journey up the river to Marlboro. The reserve strength may tell the story of Maynard success for it they can stand up the locals may have a good chance to win a pair of titles. The schedule: April 20—Belmont at Winchester; April 28, at Marlboro; May 2—Stoneham; 5, at Clinton; 8, Lexington; 11, at Concord; 12, Hudson; 15, at Belmont; 17, at Reading; 19, Winchester; 23, Reading; 22, at Lexington; 30, Clinton; June 1, at Stoneham; 2, Marlboro; 6, Concord; 9, at Hudson.

REGIONAL COOPERATIVE CONVENTION IN MAYNARD

In order that a better understanding of the cooperative movement can be rewarded in Maynard, the United Cooperative Society in conjunction with other New England Cooperatives invites the co-operators of Maynard, especially the non-Finnish speaking partners and shareholders of the society, to be present at the regional cooperative convention to be held at the United Cooperative building, second floor on April 22, at 10 a. m. This convention will be conducted in the English language. After opening the meeting Kenneth Pohlman, who will act as chairman will present the guest speaker L. S. Woodcock, a very competent lecturer and will present his viewpoint of the Cooperative movement. Following his speech, the meeting will be divided into seminar groups who will retire to discuss problems involving each group under the leadership of a chairman. This group will at its seminar prepare a report to the general meeting, which will be acted upon thereon. These seminar groups will consist of: 1—Cooperative Employees, 2—Board of Directors, 3—Consumers, 4—Managers. It is to this latter group that we especially invite the non-Finnish speaking co-operators of Maynard. We hope that through this endeavor a great many controversies of viewpoints and ideas may be laid out for the betterment of the group as a whole. Careful consideration will be given to such vital intellectual as well as gastronomic impulses and after absorbing and digesting Co-operative idea you can wash them down with Cooperative coffee and sandwiches. Natalie Creighton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Creighton is on vacation with relatives in Brookline. "Modern Youth and Marriage" will be the subject of a lecture by Dr. Helen McGillivray of the State Health department at a meeting at the United Cooperative building at 8 o'clock Thursday, April 26. Everyone is welcome. No admission charged.

MAYNARD

Church extends its welcome to all its Finnish friends and to all members and friends of the church to attend. The full program is printed under United Cooperative Society news. It is suggested that people come early. The main body of the church is to be reserved for the guests of the evening. Mr. Rivers of United Cooperative Society is the principal one who has made this program possible.

CHILDREN AND BOOKS

This is Children's Book Week, and the librarian and assistants are doing their best to provide attractive and suitable reading for those of school age and younger. It may be said that this is about all they can do. Children have a habit of picking their reading for themselves, and if the adult person makes certain that they have access to interesting and unwhimsical material, the situation has been pretty well met.

In the current issue of The Parents' Magazine, Josette Frank of the Child Study Association makes the flat assertion that while Mother knows best about most things, she doesn't necessarily know what books her children should read. She lays down the very sensible rule that no book is a good book for a child if it does not interest him. Conversely, if the child is interested, the book is likely to be good for him.

One of the adult failings is that of assuming that all children are pretty much alike in their reading tastes. Now the child is the father of the man—that has been said somewhere before—and we are ready enough to admit that one man may be a Van Dine addict, while his next-door neighbor pins his faith to Sinclair Lewis or Hugh Wa-pole. The child likewise has his preferences. What pleases little Johnnie is anathema to Jimmie.

Most parents jump to the conclusion that their children should like the books they enjoyed when young. A fond father brought up on G. A. Henty and liking the diet, cannot comprehend why his offspring should turn up his nose and prefer "Kim," "Ivanhoe," and the "Last of the Mohicans" still have a vogue with many youngsters, though the chances are that father considered them outmoded when he was young and never thinks of recommending them to Junior.

The responsibility of parents—or of teachers—for children's reading is much less than many people assume. Few children like to have their reading directed. They prefer to choose their own books. Most children who will read at all pick good books. Seeing that he has good books available and keeping the other kind away is about all that can reasonably be done. He will get far more out of a book that he likes than out of one his elders think he ought to like. And there are plenty of good books to suit all tastes.

The Tenth New England Conference will thus afford an exceptionally favorable opportunity for the direct, first-hand exchange of views between Government and Business, that is vitally needed at this time. This exchange should assist in establishing in New England that better understanding which is essential to wholesale economic recovery.

In order that such exchange may be fully effective, it is necessary that every section, and every interest in New England be adequately and actively represented. While the New England Conference is composed primarily of the delegates chosen by the business associations of New England, and Members of the New England Council, registration for the Conference and attendance upon its sessions is open to all business executives desiring to assist in preserving and promoting the economic welfare of New England.

HOUSING ACT SEEN AS EMPLOYMENT STIMULUS

Proof that the National Housing Act has started things moving in the long quiet building industry has been submitted by another large American corporation.

Inquiries from home owners about the installment plan of repairing have increased 300 per cent since the loan provision of the National Housing Act became effective in August. Lewis H. Brown, president of the Johns-Manville Corporation, announced.

Mr. Brown's statement that impetus for the construction industry, where millions are unemployed, was to be expected soon followed closely a similar statement from Clarence M. Wolcy, chairman of the American Radiator and Standard Sanitary Corporation, that the Housing Act had given his corporation a 40 per cent upturn in sixty days.

Industrialists are throwing their full weight behind this move to give employment where so many of the Nation's idle are found today. Precedents have been falling right and left in the United States recently, but unless another is shattered a business pickup is in the offing. An election year has invariably been a detriment to business, and Washington is looking for an improvement, even though the next session of Congress is just around the corner.

Several things enter into this conclusion. While business leaders generally have recognized for several months that there would be no great change in party alignments in Congress, the attacks and replies of politicians have had an unsettling effect. That hurdle is past, and in addition there is a general belief that the President has placed experiments behind him as much as possible and in the next few months is determined to make recovery foremost, with reforms and untried theories handled as they may be without disturbing the business picture.

The evident determination to get the durable or heavy goods industries, the big unemployment centers, speeded up has given confidence. And with the tremendous majorities which the President enjoys in both the Senate and House he should be able to get the type of legislation that he believes to be essential to recovery. Industry and the banks are ready to cooperate in these sound ventures.

Perhaps the worst fly in the ointment is that many members of Congress were elected on platforms promising to get all they can in the way of money for their districts and to vote for most any trick legislative panacea that any organized minority has sponsored.

Thanksgiving Game to Decide Championship

Concord—The Winchester High win over Maynard High on Saturday puts the latter team out of the running in the race for the championship of the Middlesex County Interscholastic Football League, and leaves Lexington, Winchester and Concord still in the race with but one game to be played, the Concord High-Lexington High game at the Emerson Playground Thanksgiving morning.

A Lexington win would give that team an undisputed possession of top honor, and a tie would leave Winchester and Lexington tied.

A Concord win, however, would leave Concord tied with Winchester for first honors and Maynard and Lexington in a third place tie. The impressive way in which the Concord High boys marched down the field to score over Needham at Needham Saturday in a non-league game, and the defensive stand Concord made when Needham threatened again well for a successful outcome of the Lexington game, Lexington lost Saturday to Medford 6-11 in a non-league contest.

There was nothing fluky about the Concord victory by two clean cut touchdowns in the first and 3rd periods. There were long runs by Quarterback Mara, dashes by Flannery and plunjes by McGrath, Edmunds, and Rooney, with good blocking and interference. Flannery carried the ball over in the first period after long runs by Mara, and then kicked the goal, and Edmunds planned over in the third after a series of gains.

The teams lined up: Concord High—Palmer lb; Kingman, Horn lt; Keen, Bartolomeo lg; Sheehan c; Anderson, Windholm rg; Cook rt; Vent, Hosmer re; Mara, McGrath qb; Flannery lb; Rooney rb; Edmunds, Lennon fb; Needham High—Shaldone, Hayward re; Schilla rt; Marselli rg; Condrin c; Schroeder, Gallagher lg; Andryhovich lt; Toney le; Cambridge, Louden qb; Sherman, Nigro rb; G. Hasenboss lb; Nye fb.

Many Years to Write Dictionary In 1783, Noah Webster published "A Grammatical Institute of the English Language." It was written in three parts: a spelling book, a grammar and a reader. Webster's royalty, though less than one cent a volume, still must have been pretty handsome, for the book was the first of the American best sellers, says a writer in Cosmopolitan Magazine. Before the beginning of the Civil War it was selling at the rate of more than a million copies a year. Webster began work on his famous dictionary in 1807; it was published in 1828, and contained 12,000 words and about 30,000 definitions that had not appeared in any other dictionary.

REV. FRANK O. HOLMES SPEAKS ON VIKINGS

Holland memorial grand piano, the gift to the church of the late Mrs. Holland. Mrs. Caleb J. "Wild as a March Hare"

Many lexicographers erroneously explain that this expression is an allusion to the antics of hares during the month of March, which is their breeding season. But for the true origin of the expression, notes G. R. Turner in the Kansas City Times, we must revert to Erasmus, the great Renaissance scholar of the sixteenth century. Erasmus frequently used the comparison "wild as a marsh hare." Once, when asked for an explanation, he wrote: "Hares are wilder in marshes, because of the absence of hedges and cover." It is quite evident, therefore, that "March" is in this case, merely a corruption of "marsh."

The "Hoosier"

In the Carolinas, Virginia, Kentucky and Missouri, a rough countryman is called a hoosier, and it is thought by some that the name can be traced to a time earlier than the opening of the Northwest territory.

HIGHWAY HIGHLIGHTS

Q. Why do narrow roads cause so many accidents? A. Because of the necessity for fast traffic to use the wrong side of the highway for passing. Multiple lane highways reduce the hazard. Q. What well known country has the most and which the least number of persons per motor vehicle? A. Turkey has the highest rate with 2,757 persons per vehicle. The U. S. has 5 1/2 persons per vehicle. Q. How do motor trucks supplement railroads? A. By furnishing a flexible system of pick-up and delivery. Only 15 per cent of all trucks in operation are public carriers and less than 2 per cent are carrying freight on interstate routes. Q. Why do motorists and their organizations strongly oppose the use of state revenues from license fees and gasoline taxes for relief of unemployment through does? A. Because if the money is used for normal building of modern roads and streets, labor is given employment and the motorist receives a return in lowered car operating costs. Government records show that labor gets 91 cents of each dollar spent on this type of work. Q. When were the first automobiles registered in the U. S.? A. In 1895 four passenger cars were listed. Q. What inducements are steamship lines offering to compete with motor travel? A. Some companies ships carry your automobile for as low as $5 in addition to your regular ticket. Q. Who has furnished the money for the development of state highways? A. Motorists have put more than 80 per cent of the total expended on state highway improvement to date.

Maynard High school football team will play Shirley Industrial School this week. It will be a preliminary game for practice.

Michael Vodoklys, coach, and Reggie Sawyer, who is assisting the coach, attended a meeting of the Coaches of the Midland League school teams at Marlboro Monday.

The West Concord Cardinals having polished off Littleton 7-3 in the rubber game for the second half title of the Assabet Valley League are now all set for their play-off with the West End Oil-O-Matics and plans for the series will be drawn up this week. The West Ends have not played since before Labor Day, and consequently may not be in very good condition for a championship series. However, they hope to be able to summon their full strength, although several players are on football squads, for the all important opening game which will probably take place next Sunday.

As little as 15 years ago simple remedies you find indispensable today were sold in bulk from dirty, dust filled bags and barrels. The advent of Puretest changed all that—in Puretest Packages there was more than a measuring stick of dependability. Certain standards of quality were set up which then and today are far above requirements. Ask your Rexall Druggist about Puretest.

Cardinals Uphold Old Traditions

The West Concord Cardinals who fought through both half seasons in the Assabet Valley baseball league to the league championship, by taking four games out of five in two post-season play-off series, have proved themselves worthy successors to many former Concord stars and many former Concord champions.

When all other Concord contenders on the diamond had gone by the board Manager John Bar-Columbo, by untiring energy and persistency, on the face of ever pressing financial needs, kept the team on the field, and the players responded nobly to his call; and cooperated heartily and effectually with the coach C. Waldo MacWilliams to whom much of the credit for the eminently successful season is due.

The Cardinals finished the first half season in an apparent tie with the Maynard Ojo-Matties, and were tied with Littleton at the end of the second half. In the first play-off series they defeated Littleton 2-1, and in the second Maynard in straight games.

The team played heads up throughout the entire league season, at bat, on the paths, and in the field. Olsen, Dovie, Johnson, and Besco were outstanding batters and Edwardson finished the season in his old time form. In regard to Joe Flanagan, mainstay in the box, who won both play-off games against Maynard Coach MacWilliams says Joe Flanagan is the most promising young pitcher I have seen for several years. He did great work for the Cardinals. I predict a lot of success for Joe. He is very cool and efficient—very likeable—a nice lad.

Eddie Laughlin, Harvard captain and star, "Jim" Tompkins, former high school star, Elliot Piper and Jimmy Deaton also pitched great ball at times and on the receiving end it. Williams, G. MacWilliams and "Bunny" Piper performed creditably. Petersen at short played that most difficult position admirably, and McAuley, Symes, and Callahan were other capable performers.

Open Attack On Ashland H. S. Friday at Crowe

Maynard.—Practically a veteran field hockey team representing Maynard High school will open its current season by opposing the strong experienced Ashland High school eleven on Crowe Park, Friday afternoon. Like the football team, the girls will inaugurate a system under a new coach, Miss Ruth Bradley, who took charge of the team so that the girls could continue their athletic activities. There have been a record number of candidates out for the eleven with over seven complete teams reporting daily and giving veterans a fight for first place positions. Miss Anna Swanson, ex-M.H.S. captain, has volunteered her services in assisting Miss Bradley, and has been on the field for every practice session.

Captain Johanna Aho, high scoring centre and lightning forward, will lead a fighting eleven who saw much service on the varsity eleven last season. In the forward line beside Miss Aho will be Catherine Hoffman, Aili Kajander, Anna O'Toole and Meriam Tervo. The halfbacks, available are Sophie Denewich, Helen Sorka and Stella Soine. The backs are Elizabeth Tobin, starring her third season and Eleanor Flaherty while Ruth McKenna, second string goal tender in her freshman year last season, will guard the nets. Practically the entire second combination of a year ago is also on hand, so prospects for a successful season are bright. The spirit and cooperation displayed by the girls and Miss Bradley justifies the athletic activities of the girls in the local school.

Miss Helen Wzosek, manager, has added the following games: Oct. 25, Ashland; Nov. 18, Concord. She hopes to arrange a game with Stoneham which is coached by Miss Ruth Finn, who placed the Maynardites in both prominence and fun for the girls in school athletics.

Maynard Stores Open On Holiday

Maynard stores will be open on Columbus Day. The larger stores will all be open for business. The local dealers understand the department stores in the large cities plan to remain open. The meat and provision stores feel they must open to supply the week end needs of the householders. This is a general statement based on views given by some of the merchants. There are a few merchants who will remain closed Saturday.

Girls' Hockey Meet Ashland Veteran Champs

Maynard—Announcing a new field hockey season under a new coach a fighting, determined Maynard H. S. team held a veteran championship caliber Ashland H. S. eleven to a scoreless tie on Crowe Park, Friday afternoon. Making their debut under Miss Ruth Bradley, the locals displayed an aggressive attack and a stubborn defense that was more than enough for the highly touted undefeated visitors.

Maynard had several chances to score led by the scrappy Irish colleen, Gert Tobin, who did a sam-bang job, despite a bad gash received under the eye. Vekio Jakusik was the bulwark of the defensive strength. Both Gert Tobin and Captain Johanna Aho missed chances to score by wild shots missing the strings by inches. The locals defensive power was much stronger than their coordination in passing and dribbling down the field on attack.

Ashland, too, lost golden opportunities to score victory, especially, in the first half, when they pressed on four occasions, only to be thwarted by the work of Elizabeth Tobin and Eleanor Flaherty. Both Ruth McKenna and Dot Simila turned in fine guarding performances for Maynard. It was a slum-bang see-saw fought struggle between two old rivals who shot the works in an attempt to land a win. Elsie Dickens, G. Bell starred for Ashland.

The Maynard Junior Varsity soundly trounced the Ashland seconds to the tune of 4-0 in another game. Elsie Murphy caged a pair of goals for the victors, each on brilliant solo dashes unassisted. Angelina Marriano, who played a fine all around game, counted another and Lyli Tervo counted from in front of the mouth of the goal.

Both games are a credit to both Miss Bradley, who has been assisted by Anna Swanson, and the entire squad, who promise to live up to past prestige of past girls' athletics teams here.

Fifth Falcucci Is Bride of Angelo A. Taramto

Maynard—Miss Edith Elizabeth Falcucci, the daughter of Mrs. Maria Falcucci, 58 Waltham street, and Angelo A. Taramto, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stefano Taramto, 172 Felton street, Waltham were married Columbus day. The ceremony was performed at St. Bridget's church at 9 o'clock in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends. Lohengrin's wedding march was played by A. A. Hillerty, organist on the entrance of the bridal party.

Miss Mary Falcucci, a sister of the bride, attended as bridesmaid and Joseph Taramto, a brother of the groom, was best man. The bride was beautifully attired in white satin and her veil of tulle was caught with lilies of the valley. She carried a bouquet of calla lilies. The bridesmaid wore light blue satin with silver accessories and she carried pink roses.

A reception at Parker street hall was attended by guests from New York, California, Missouri, Malden, Boston, Waltham, Clinton, Newton, Marlboro, Maynard, Hudson, Brighton and Somerville. Both bride and groom were popular as was attested by a large array of useful and valuable wedding gifts. The groom is a graduate of Waltham high school. On their return from a trip to New York they will reside at 6 Fern street, Waltham.

Dr. Harold C. Abbott of the Everett First Baptist Church performed the rites at 8 o'clock in the old ballroom in the presence of fifty guests. Mrs. Guy Hawley of St. Johnsbury, Vt., played the wedding music.

The bride who was given in marriage by her father, wore the traditional bridal satin with veil of old family lace. Mrs. Austin G. Howe, matron of honor, was gowned in orchid chiffon. John Rideout was best man. A wedding supper was served following the ceremony. The Wayside Inn trio composed of Miss Florence Fisher, pianist Miss Muriel de Mille, violin and Miss Phyllis de Mille cellist, furnishing music. The young women are hostesses at the Inn.

Herbert O. Brigham of Providence Re-elected President of Family Association; Dinner and All Day Session

South Sudbury—Members of the Brigham Family association, after a lapse of four years, came from various points in New England and from as far distant as New York state, to gather at the Wayside Inn Saturday for an all-day session.

President Herbert O. Brigham of Providence, Rhode Island, presided over the session which convened in the ballroom at 10:30. After extending a hearty welcome to the 150 members assembled and the transaction of routine business, officers were elected for the ensuing year.

Herbert O. Brigham was re-elected president and these other officers chosen were: president emeritus, Dr. Johnson Brigham, Des Moines, Iowa; secretary, Miss Cora Newton, Westboro; assistant secretary, Mrs. Clarence E. Buckley, Northboro; treasurer, Librarian, Miss Emma E. Brigham, Dorchester; curator, Mrs. Della B. Corey, Northboro; reporter, Mrs. Brigham, Northboro; William E. Brigham, Marlboro; William E. Brigham, Woonsocket, R. I.; Dr. Osha Brigham, Toledo, Ohio; G. Nelson Brigham, Harry Brigham, both of Marlboro; Charles H. Brigham, Brookline; Mrs. Herbert A. Brigham, Boston; Clarence J. Brigham, Marlboro; C. Harry Brigham, Atlantic; Ward N. Brigham, West Winfield, N. Y.; Ernest A. E. Brigham, West Hartford, Conn.; Dr. J. P. Brigham, Shrewsbury; Ward E. Brigham, Kingston, N. S. Corey, C. Montford Brigham, Woonsocket, R. I.; Mrs. E. A. Brigham, Northboro; Mrs. Fred C. Brigham, Springfield; John A. Sigelov, Marlboro was chosen historian.

The nominating committee was made up of Herbert A. Brigham, Bolytown; W. A. Porter, Marlboro; Clarence J. Brigham, Attleboro and Algernon R. Brigham of Marlboro. Miss Emma A. Brigham of Brighton paid a glowing tribute to the late W. A. Porter, Brigham, for six years president of the association and who passed away November 25, 1934. He served as co-editor with Miss Brigham in compiling the History of the Brigham Family and gave of his scant leisure to his duties as an editor of the Boston Transcript, to the advancement of the association. Silent tribute was paid to his memory and that of the late James P. Bigelow genealogist and other members who had died since the last meeting.

It was decided to hold meetings annually in the future, the next to take place at Wayside Inn. Members traveling the longest distance to attend were: Mrs. Blanche W. Walker, Marlboro; Edward R. Brigham, also Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Brigham of Binghamton, N. Y. and Mr. and Mrs. John E. Brigham and daughter, Mrs. Anthony, N. Y. The youngest child present was an eight year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Brigham of Marlboro and the oldest member present was Clarence H. Brigham, also of Marlboro.

Attorney John E. Rice presented those traveling the longest distance with apples from that section of the Rice orchard originally owned by Thomas Brigham. A full course chicken dinner was served in the dining room during the intermission at noon, the officers being seated at the head table. Keanech Howe, instructor of music in Marlboro schools led the community singing which included an original song written for the occasion by Mrs. Aubrey Porter.

The afternoon program opened with a reading by Esie Brigham entitled, "Your Flag and My Flag" followed with patriotic songs by Kenneth Howe. Mrs. Dorothy Brigham Elderkin was in charge of the program. Harrison E. Brigham, who did play his bass fiddle at the inn in 1877, leading his eight piece orchestra, added much to the program with his fine music. The program closed with the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" and the playing of the national anthem. In the long list of members sending regrets at being unable to attend was Arthur E. Brigham, formerly of Marlboro, now of Brinklow, Maryland, who has won international recognition as an agriculturalist.

Mrs. Nellie Brigham was chairman of the Hospitality committee assisted by the following: Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Brigham, Marlboro; Mrs. E. S. Corey, C. Montford Brigham, Mrs. Philip G. Hilliard, Northboro; Mrs. Lewis E. Ordway, Hudson; Mrs. Herbert A. Brigham, Bolytown; Dr. J. P. Brigham, Shrewsbury; Mrs. John H. Eiland, Harry E. Brigham, Clarence H. Brigham, Mrs. Blanche W. Walker, Mrs. A. E. Elderkin, W. Aubrey Porter, Marlboro.

HIGH MASS OF REQUIEM Held For William J. Johnston, Maynard

Maynard—William J. Johnston, 40 Thompson street, a highly respected resident, died at his home Thursday morning. His passing came as a shock to his family and friends as he had been sick but a short time.

Mr. Johnston was 65, born in Roxbury, New Foundland and he had been a resident of Maynard for 55 years. He was an overseer in the Assabet Mills. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Johanna Johnston, three sons, William, John and Peter, five daughters, Mrs. Thomas J. M. C. and an interested and active worker of St. Bridget's parish. An abundance of flowers and mass cards mutedly attested the love and esteem of neighbors, relatives and friends.

The funeral was held Saturday morning. A high mass of requiem was celebrated at St. Bridget's church at ten o'clock by Rev. John J. McCarthy. The church was well filled. The bearers were Joseph and James King, Frank Tobin, William Quinn, Henry Tobin and Sylvester Brennan.

4 SUDBURY PUPILS DO NOT SALUTE FLAG

School Officials Await Test Case; Nothing To Do About It

Sudbury—The Sudbury school officials are awaiting with interest the result of the first test case to be made in regard to the refusal of the children whose parents are members of the sect known as Jehovah's Witnesses, who have persistently refused to salute the flag in the school exercises, according to Alan F. Flynn, high school principal, where two of the four children of the Merabith and Rand families attend. Two are sophomores and two are attending the grade schools.

For over two years the children have attended the school here, officials say. For a time they merely held out their hands from their bodies when the time for the salute came, but they have not been seen to repeat the pledge of allegiance.

School officials say that the matter has been reported to the State officials, but because of the fact that there are no compulsion or penalties provided nothing has been done about it.

Richard Bittiger, a teacher in the high school stated that the pupils behave well in school and outside of the instance of refusal to salute the flag, they are exemplary pupils.

The Jehovah Witnesses have set up a colony in North Sudbury, near the Maynard line. Several years ago they purchased the old town post farm and buildings, recently five cottages have been erected. During the season hundreds of their sect gather on Sundays. They pay no taxes; the cottages are erected on the land purchased from the town and the residence is used as a headquarters.

Town officials have resented the fact that they have been exempt from taxes. The matter has been reported to Commissioner Long, who stated that because of the fact that the sect is registered as a benevolent and religious body they are exempt from paying taxes.

William Stockwell who was postmaster of Maynard for 17 years won the Republican nomination and Attorney John Driscoll a member of the Maynard school committee won the Democratic nomination for Representative in the special primary held in the Middlesex district yesterday. Both Maynard candidates are popular in their home town as was well evidenced by the large vote given them here. They were given little interest in the outcome of the Democratic contest as Mr. Driscoll was conceded the nomination. The interest was centered in the outcome of the Republican vote as Avery Steele, a schoolmate of Stockwell, a good campaigner, was the Republican candidate in the last state election. Stockwell made a speech in the district getting a fine vote in Hudson and a splendid vote in his home town. Stockwell's friends expected little opposition would carry the other towns and the Democratic vote in the home town to pull him through. And that is just what happened. He got all but 25 of the 713 Republican votes cast in Maynard. In sporting parlance both boys Stockwell and Steele, entered the ring as heavy favorites. When the result was announced last night they were in Co-operative hall still smiling together. Attorney Driscoll's friends did not turn a hand to win the contest. Even so, the young cosmopolitan received flattering support in his home town, getting all but 9 of the 225 votes cast. Maynard pulled 976 votes of which 712 were Republican and 262 Democratic at the largest special primary ever held here. Schoolman Frank J. McCarron, president; Frank E. Sanderson, vice president; James McCarthy, treasurer; Thomas W. Connelly, financial secretary; John Reynolds, recording secretary; and John Hannon, chairman of the standing committee.

Maynard has 2767 registered voters.

Maynard Police Don New Outfits

The new winter uniforms of the Maynard police force are receiving much favorable attention by the citizens. The uniforms are designed for the cold, winter months and especially for snow. The local police force is one of the youngest best looking forces in the state. The Maynard department is also to be commended for its excellent handling and patrolling at the home football games. Winchester and Concord being two other towns where the gridiron crowds are kept well in hand by the police.

Reason for Jack Horner Story
Horner was the messenger whom the abbot of Glastonbury sent to Henry VIII with the deeds of certain manors involved in the dissolution of monasteries. Horner obstinately handed the parcel to the royal spoliator, but first of all managed to abstract the deeds of the manor of Wells, a "plum," indeed, and the abbot was afterward punished on the charge that he had withheld them.

PICKS ALL STAR TEAM

was a rip-snorting end when the season got down to mid-season. Tackles—Arving Olson, giant 190 pounder who is headed for West Point, was a powerful hard driving lineman, stopping play after play aimed at his section. But he did not stop at this, he recovered opponent's fumbles and was a fast alert man. Playing with a losing club, Arnold, stood out in the Stoneham line. This lad was an iron horse on the defense, fast on getting the jump to hit ball carriers far back of the line of scrimmage.

Captain Connors of Belmont was close on both these men's heels, and made a great bid for the berth, but was fortunate in having a great pair of first team selections on either side of him. Red Koskinen found himself again this year and turned in a bang-up job.

Guards—No one could leave Swede Johnson off a selection this year. Playing practically through every minute of every game, this Belmont lad was all over the field, in every play, smashing ball carriers, running for interference, doing a real man's job in a real way. Armas Itelni was not a flashy star, but like Joe Bukacz of a few years ago, did a conscientious job, steady, worklike, he made tackle after tackle, slowed up ball carriers, ran interference and all in a manner that did not bring cheers from the fans, but neaps of praise from the coach, who can see and knows who does the work. Outstanding in a losing, downcast eleven, was Concord's hard working captain Anderson, a fine leader and a good player. McCormack was another good guard, experience, power and bone crushing defensive ability would have given him a first string berth on any other team, but this eleven.

Centre—Again Winchester nabbed the place. Jerry Fricioelli playing a roving berth was everywhere making tackles from sidelines to sidelines, knocking down forward passes, and doing a fine snapper-back job, himself, he stopped would-be-scories by catching ball carriers from behind. Rocque with his experience showing the way just nosed out the Maynard kid freshman, Creighton.

Quarterback—For the third consecutive year, and the only player named a year ago is Frankie Provinzano. This Winchester Cannonball lives up to his nickname, he is as fast and as accurate as a bullet, he can pass with accuracy and snap, not lobbingly, he can punt, he does all the placement kicking, he calls the plays and is a Big Bertha on the field, his fine leadership, excellent sportsmanship and ability to raise his men, makes him captain.

Phil Savelo is a fine, hip-shaking broken field runner, a leading scorer but can not compare with the immortal Provinzano as an all around ace.

Halfbacks—Without hesitation we name McKinnon, as fine a passer and kicker as you will find anywhere. He can carry the ball, and is a hard plunger, he is also a deadly tackler. Frankie Downey the Western Union delivery boy, has displayed his running ability all season, he can reverse his field and riffs down the field like a streak of lightning, he is a punter and pass receiver. In the safety position he saved several scores with his hard tackling. Whitehouse, a fine ball carrier and passer, Aldrich, triple threat, were not as fine all around men as the first two named.

Fullback—Provinzano may be a Cannonball, but Johnny Scully is a whole piece of an artillery barrage in himself, he tips nuts to pieces with his smashing, heavy, plunging, he passes and kicks, does a smashing job when running interference, and save opponents plenty of worry. Lou Colombo did a fine all around job, especially more creditable because of his lightweight, but, playing thru every minute of every league game, Colombo was only out classed by the 195 pound Scully.

With the close of another football season and the final selections of all mythical teams writing this to the Midland League we pause for a minute to say that our personal belief is that Hudson was the best club in the circuit and that Millford was responsible for that song hit "You are my Lucky Star" in winning the crown. Our selections are based on the player's work and ability in league games alone.

Ends—There was a single outstanding end in the league. He was Babe McNally, and was the dream of any coach. This husky Hudson lad was fast, a crashing tackler under punts, a bear in stopping plays around his wing but to top all this he was the best pass receiver in the vicinity, he could drop back into the back field and throw passes, and carry the ball on reverse plays. He can punt and does everything well. There was a scarcity of good ends Millford's lightweight but capable this year, we name Delfante, wingman as the other end. Delfante made up in fight and ability what he lacked in weight.

Thompson came along fast to turn a year's work, while Dom Marriano, transferred from guard, was the surprise of the last league encounters with his defense and pass catching at end.

Tackles—Jos Gdamski, a giant, not only played a smashing, non-yard gaining defensive battle, but, was keen, and alert in recovering fumbles and opening holes. Brennan, a natural tackle, in all departments can be summoned in rushing the fullback position to pick up needed yardage, a further proof of his all around slashing style of play. Sikosky was another brilliant tackle, and but for the ability of the outstanding tackles would cop a position. Rizzi, another back field-lineman, earned the second team place with his late season rush.

Guards—Both selections will probably be a surprise to all the towns in the circuit. Dobeck, was exceptionally fast and strong, he blocked several punts, knocked down passes, and was a general nuisance to ball carriers. His ability may be attested to the fact that he caught Downey from behind on two occasions, when the fleetfooted end had gotten by the secondary defense. Charlie De'Agata is his running mate. Only a freshman this kid was the outstanding player in the Marlboro Hudson and Clinton games, by dumping ball carriers for huge losses, he knows no fear, is big, rugged and loves the contact play. Reini, silent but steady, Fuley, another good guard who knows his position and can handle it are the seconds.

Centre—Another position where we will receive much criticism. After due consideration we name Tom Daigneault, a pivot man, who is a fine snapperback and a defensive power, and his ability of leadership makes him captain. Teho, with a losing club was a great star, especially on the defense. His work against Hudson clinched this berth. At this time let us mention two other great centers, Immoratti of Clinton and Creighton of Maynard, they call the latter "Bull" and he lives up to his reputation, watch him and Du'Agata the next few years.

Quarterback—Downey, the fastest back in the circuit and a smart clever, alert, punter-passer gets the nod. He has played this position on other occasions and knows his football. Miller also was brilliant, not as flashy as Downey, but good.

Halfbacks — The touchdown Twins, Cesario and Naze are our choice, when Johnnie and Frankie are not running, or passing, they're bears on the defense. Both are fast, both can pass, and both catch passes. They wrecked Marlboro, Maynard and Clinton, and but, for a slight case of over-nervous would have whipped Millford. Great combination these two deers. Harry Hardman, Clinton's triple threat ace, and Barberi, Millford's fast back, make the second team grade.

Fullback—The real, only outstanding man from the championship club, Tuscone, a nice, hard running, hip-shaking ball carrier, and line backer gives him first team choice. Tuscone has been Millford's mainstay. Donovan of Hudson, who also alternated at quarterback is our fullback. This youth has speed and is a fine runner and picks his holes right.

Distribute $36,000 Through Christmas Checks

Maynard.—The Christmas Savings Club members of the Maynard Trust Company received their checks Monday morning. More than $36,000 was distributed and checks were mailed so that they arrived at the first mail Monday.

The Trust Company Christmas Savings Club is one of the oldest in the State. In past years the amount saved reached high figures. In 1928 the peak was touched when $94,000 was distributed to members. Ten years ago, 1925, the total was $59,000. The crash of 1929 started the saving on the downward trend and it reached the low $25,000 in 1934. This year the total increased $11,000 and there is promise that 1936 will show an increase that will reflect an expected improvement in conditions. Already several have enrolled in the club for 1936.

The dances are held for the benefit of the Club's Scholarship Fund and judging from the numbers that attend the affairs this method of raising the money meets with approval. Many of the townspeople who were entertained relatives and friends over the holiday brought them along, giving added zest to the evening's pleasure. The stage was tastefully decorated and the music was of a high order. At the request of many of the younger persons Mrs Piper graciously extended the dancing time an hour, which was very much appreciated by them. Refreshments were served in the Lower Hall during the evening.

Winter Sports Now Occupy Limelight

Maynard.—The close of the football season brings out the call of the winter sports, including basketball, hockey, skating. Although the court sport has not been popularly supported the past few years, there will be a number of quietests again in the field. The Russian "it" club, newly organized, got the jump on the other teams, and have been working out at Pastime. Until the team fully equipped, plan to play games with clubs in their class at and away from home. The St. Casimir's Y. M. C. were out for preliminary drills, last week, and will swing into action before Christmas. This club is a junior outfit and it is not known whether or not the big five will be on the floor this season. The Tarnos have already drawn up plans for an inter-club league, and will play a regular schedule. The Tarnos with several former players missing, cannot see their way clear to put a real representative on the floor this season. However, with such court celebrities as Tarno, Torna and Dick Lawson, it may be expected that they will put a team in the field. They may break in a few new faces, but they should be as good as past five.

The Maynard Hockey Club and the Mohawks ice skette, got their initial workouts over the week end and are confident that they will get enough ice to make a real, regular schedule. The number of youths out skating over the week end filled the local ponds and rivers. At this time of the year when the ice may become thin and treacherous the annual warning and danger signs are sent to the smaller children who may risk drowning for a little recreation on the ponds.

Co-Captains Are Chosen Grid Leaders

Maynard.—For the first time in Maynard high school athletic history co-captains have been elected to lead the football eleven. Louis Colombo, fullback and Eino "Red" Koskinen, tackle, were named leaders of the 1936 gridiron team at a meeting of the letterman. Colombo has been bullback for three seasons and has become known as the Iron Man, playing through every game the past season with the exception of three minutes. He is a fine blocking and defensive back. Red Koskinen is a giant 200 pounds of power and played a smashing hang-up job in the line for three years. Both men were mentioned as all Middlesex and Midland caliber.

Prospects for next year are unusually bright as there are only eight Seniors listed on the entire squad, several of these were substitutes. Mike Vodoklys who taught the boys the fundamentals in his initial season, without receiving much compensation may be available, if he does not accept a position as teacher-coach in another town. Mike, a local product, would like to remain in his home town, but cannot be expected to remain at small salary. Letters will be awarded to 18 men in the near future as follows: Captain Al Fraser; Manager Anthony Tomy; George Creighton; Armas Reini; Charlie Da'Agata; Jerry Spratt; Bill Smith; Harry Kadis; Eino Koskinen; Johnnie Girzlewski; Walter Whalen; Don, Marriano; Jake Liverman; Ignacy Pilecki; Pete Gilleney; Ed Flaherty; Frankie Downey; Lou Columbo and Frank Halliwell. James Sullivan was elected manager of the 1936 team and Peter Pronko and John May his assistants.

Field hockey letters were awarded to the school field hockey team which made a creditable record this year. Hockey sticks were awarded to the second team. Letters were awarded to Captain Joanna Aho; All Kajander; Catherine Hoffman; Elizabeth Tobin; Ann O'Toole; Gertrude Tobin; Victoria Jakusik; Stella Seirgle; Eleanor Flaherty; Irene Peterson; Ruth McKenna; Dorothy Simila; Sophie Denisewich; Angelina Mariano; and Helen Wzosek, the second last named manager. Hockey sticks awarded to the second team composed of Marlon Hull; Norma Oates; Eleanor Murphy; Lyl Tervo; Joan Turner; Sylvia Mark; Jennie Sieliski; Helen Sofka; Anna Higgins; Doris Leverage; Mary Latva and Evelyn Saari.

24 Out For Hockey Team

Maynard.—Nearly twenty candidates reported for the opening practice session of the Maynard Hockey club on Saturday and on Sunday. The youths were keenly disappointed that the Annual field rink was not completed on record on the coldest Dec. 6 on record, but returned to Vase Pond for a still initial practice. Included in the veterans on hand were Adolph Chyzus, who has served as manager since its organization, Leunde Oilla, 100 meter swimming champion and ace defensive man, Arne Oilla, Rene Aho, Jokisauri brothers, Garbari Shinowski, Sulkala and many new candidates. The turnout exceeded all expectations proving that the youths want ice hockey. Larry Devoll, star goalie two years ago who could not play last season because of business, will again be back as guardian of the strings, this season. His return is a big boost to the locals. The Maynard H. C. will be outfitted entirely in new uniforms this season, purchased by the players. These youths want to play hockey. The team will play such strong sextettes as Haverhill, Amesbury, Athol, U. S. Rubber, Concord and North Cambridge and hope to be able to show the home town fans their wares.

MAYNARD

Maynard.—Closing a successful season on the Maynard H. S. High hockey junior varsity posed on the Concord Seconds 1-0 in a preliminary game on Crowe Park Friday afternoon. Captain Eleanor Marpay shot the winning goal and way through half and although own teams threatened on several occasions during the remainder of the contest and the strong defensive power of the two rivals halted the onrushes and kept the goal secure. The Maynard Seconds lost but one game in four this season and should send up some excellent material for the future field hockey teams of the local high school. The second team summary: Maynard.—A. Lynch Leads League Match

Maynard.—George Lynch, veteran of the basket ball court and bowling alleys led the way in the Intertown Bowling League match- es bowled Monday night at his alleys. He had a total of 316 and a single of 121. Ford Motors took four points from Soko's team and Middlesex Laundry and Garden Royal split two points each. The latter was an exciting, hard fought match with the decision resting on the last ball bowled.

Anglers Prepare For Season Which Opens April 15th

Warning Issued That Wardens Are on Close Watch for Poachers; Other Opening Dates Announced

The date on which pond and stream fishing of any kind allowed in this state is on Wednesday, April 15 and a strict observance of the law is to be enforced by wardens and deputies of the Department of Fisheries and Game. This year will not be healthy for angling enthusiasts to attempt to catch the season for wardens are now on the job and will be keeping up on all ponds and streams in this section. Their duties will require them to be on the job daily until the season closes again.

On April 15 it will be legal to catch yellow perch, trout, hornpout, salmon, where they may be found in this state. The season on the pond does not open until the 1st of May, pike perch, great northern pike, may be taken on all streams on July 1.

Streams Will Be High
 Because of the flooded conditions the brooks and streams during the middle of March the prospects are doubtful as to good fishing in early season this year. On the other hand pond fishing, many ponds have been aided by the great flow of water.
 Here the season has opened private preserves the fishing week is considered favorable. There, however, not only has no state preserves but very little territory in the city limits. However, the Marlboro Fish and Game Association has extended its privileges to streams in the surrounding towns including North, Berlin, and Sudbury, including the Assabet River.
 The Club's trout pond has carried approximately 4,000 trout and hunkers, and got away with it.

Last minute touches are being made to the outfit. The rods are being looked over and varnished and the reels are being oiled and some additions added to the stock in traps, flies, streamers and bait hooks. Such is the routine of the angler.
 When the 15th of April arrives there is one class of citizens that bother little with politics, the new deal, or the various topics that cause some men and women to worry and fight and argue. No air, the lowly angler gets out to a stream and communes with nature and soon loses the urge to get into political squabbles. He is one man that annually for a period of time at least, gets back close to nature and what he is matching his odds here has been supplied from the state hatcheries for local stocking.
 Anglers are now beginning to get on "edge", if you know what is meant. Many have already felt the handle of the rod and the whirl of the reel in practice casting in their back yards. One enthusiast the other day took his fly rod and reel to Port Meadow to do some distance and accuracy casting. He said that he had no patience for his wits with the speckled beauties, or perchance the more lovely of the species of fish tribe, he is not thinking badly about anybody. He is happy as long as he knows there is a chance for a nibble or a "break", and if he is in this condition of mind he is a good sportman.

So Mr. Angler, watch Mr. Warden this season. His forces are out to protect the brooks and ponds from poachers and be sure you have your license with you when you go.

Torpedoes Under Water

A submarine is armed with torpedoes which can be fired while submerged, aim being taken by means of a periscope, which alone is visible to the surface craft being attacked. When a torpedo is fired from a submarine, the outer door of the torpedo tube opens and water pours in up to the inside door of the tube. In order to reload the tube the outer door is closed, the inner door opened and the water in the tube rushes into the bilges of the submarine and is pumped out.

Oriental Created Lacquer

The original "lacquer" was an Oriental product of Chinese and Japanese artists from the sap of the rhus vernicifera, known to the Japanese as Urushi-No-Ki and to the Chinese as Tschien or varnish tree. The term is usually restricted in America and Europe to coatings of which the predominant ingredient is a solution of nitrocellulose.

Load Voice

Stentor was one of the Greeks before Troy, whose "stentorian" voice was as loud as that of 50 men.

SUDBURY

The golf season opened on Sunday with a bang. A number of Sudbury lovers of the game chased the white ball around the links of the Maynard Country Club.

Al. Young, who recently took over the business of the late Leon E. Hawes on Hudson Road has made many improvements on the premises. In addition to the Boston daily papers Mr. Young has on hand the Enterprise.

At a recent meeting of the Sudbury Firemen's Association, Lawrence B. Tigue presiding, it was voted to contribute the sum of $50 toward the relief of sufferers from the flood.

Women of the Sudbury Methodist church are arranging an Easter fair and social to be held tomorrow in the vestry.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry P. Thomson of Weston called on a number of their friends in town on Saturday. Philip Burbank of Wayland, Miss Anne Porter and Miss Mary Rose of Park Drive, Boston, gave the town a "look see" one day last week.

Mrs. Calvin Hosmer of Sharon passed a few days with her friend Mrs. Charles H. Way at "Penlan". The sign on Old Sudbury Road near the Town Hall, saying that the road is closed, means nothing in the lives of many motorists who during the past week squeezed by the sign only to turn back on reaching the waters that overflowed the lower part of the road.

The Townsdenites of Sudbury are much interested in the investigation of the Townsend Plan now going on in Washington. Most of the members of the club that has been formed here have the utmost confidence in Dr. Townsend and do not expect that the investigation will bring forth any wrong doing on his part.

Rehearsals for "Miss Fortune," the High School play to be brought out next week are in full swing. Miss Virginia Sawyer, who is coaching the members of the cast will no doubt have her young charges keyed up to the proper note on the opening night.

Mr. and Mrs. William Prescott of Cambridge were visitors in town on Sunday.

The Kiwanis Club held Ladies' Night on Monday evening at the Davis Turkey Farm Inn.

Third of Life Passed Asleep
 The person who lives to be seventy years old passes 23 years asleep. That is the estimate of a scientific committee meeting at Nice, France, to inquire how persons occupy their lives. Apart from sleep, the committee's report says, the average person talks for 13 years, eats for six years, passes 23 years in pleasure and wishes for 18 months.

Two Kinds of Vampire
 The Greeks believe that there are two kinds of vampire—one dead, but retaining a sinister half-life by preying on the blood of the living; and the other still alive. Thus, we are told that the vampires of Thessaly and Epirus are "living men mastered by a kind of somnambulism, who, seized by a thirst for blood, go forth at night from their shepherds' huts, and scour the country, biting and tearing all that they meet, both man and beast." According to another authority, this type of vampire is particularly active when the moon is at its full.

Brazil Nuts in Heavy Shells
 In their wild state, Brazil nuts bear a marked resemblance to coconuts, being encased in formidable black shells, known as ouricos, half an inch thick and of a bullet-like toughness. The average shell, loaded with from 10 to 25 nuts, weighs four pounds. If one were to be struck on the head by one of these missiles while standing under a tree, it would be fatal.

Happy in Company
 The secret of success is a certain heartiness and sympathy. A man who is not happy in company cannot find any word in his memory that will fit the occasion. All his information is a little impertinent. A man who is happy there, finds in every turn of the conversation equally lucky occasions for the introduction of that which he has to say.

Acton Responds
To Call For Red Cross Funds

Acton.—A group of representatives of 27 organizations in Acton were called together last week Thursday evening by Commander Lowell H. Cran, of Edwards-Quimby Post, A. L., to organize for a systematic canvass of the town to aid the flood sufferers.

Major Charles S. Coulter, USA, retired, was chosen chairman of the drive committee, with Mrs. Grace Lears, leader for East, North and Center Acton; Lowell H. Cran, leader for South Acton; Mrs. Ene ne Hall, chairman of the West and South Red Cross Unit, was appointed treasurer.

Each leader organized the units in his section for an intensive house to house canvass for funds on Saturday, and so efficiently did they function that only small sections were assigned to each canvasser and the work accomplished in a very short time.

This system worked in West and South Acton, but in the Acton Center district, Mrs. Charles Willett, treasurer of the Unit in that section had previously made a canvass, with Mrs. Murray Brown, Mrs. Fred Willett, Mrs. Simon Taylor and Mrs. Arthur Raymond as the collectors. Mrs. Grace Lears, chairman of the Red Cross Unit there had only recently returned from the South and assisted the organization greatly.

The total funds reported were Acton Red Cross Unit, $140.00; West and South Red Cross Unit, $72.85; Acton Schools, $70; Community Drive $343.31 or a total of $519.16. The quota was $200. So successful was the organized effort, that permanent organization for emergency solicitations, may be made. There are two American Red Cross Units of the Concord Chapter in Acton and many feel a Chapter organized for the entire town would be the more satisfactory way to handle Red Cross Funds and memberships.

Americanization
Classes Receive
Certificates

The graduation exercises of the Concord Americanization Classes were held in the Concord High school auditorium, Thursday evening.

The program opened with a salute to the Flag and Miss Josephine Sheehan gave a violin selection, accompanied by Miss Mary Patterson at the piano.

Frank J. Gogins, who had been in charge of the classes made the address of welcome and Joseph McCann sang a solo accompanied by Miss Patterson.

Mrs. Herbert B. Smith, Regent of Old Concord Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, on behalf of the Chapter presented American flags to the new citizens and a book to one who had qualified but had not yet taken the oath.

There were accordion solos by Mr. Scarpitti, and Superintendent of schools Wells A. Hall presented the certificates; and the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner" closed the exercises.

State certificates were awarded: Joseph Bell; Louis Vigliotti, Wilfred Picard, Oliva Beauchesne, Antonia DeRuzo, Antonio Amendolia, Alipio Pucci, Paul Demusovich, Malinda Mandriola, Flavia Palmincel, Joe Wong and Peter Colauri.

John Sablone, Joseph Santora, Dominic Curro, Eve LeBlanc, Gabrielle DePratto and Mrs. John Palmer were the new citizens receiving flags; and Wilfred Picard, who is about to be a citizen was presented a book.

Books were awarded Louis Vigliotti and Antonio Faricelli for perfect attendance.

Town Certificates were presented to Mr. and Mrs. Pasquale Rotondo, Mr. and Mrs. Egidio, Tito Florio, Angelo D'Orenzio, Mercedes Giner, Paul Mazzeo, Mrs. Dominic Pagano, John Sablone, Thomas Gosson, Sophie Jacobs and Mrs. Antonangeli.

OFFICERS' NIGHT PROGRAM
 Maynard.—At an officers' Night program of Maynard Grange each officer provided a number. The program included community singing, piano solo, Agnes Finocchelli, readings, Irene Lemoine; tap dance Daniel Sullivan and Donald Jones; talk on stamps, Orville Tucker; vocal solos, Alice Johnson; accompanied by Adelaide Sims; readings, Marie Nelson of Sudbury; piano solo, Frank Case; stories, Charles Shattuck; games, Hazel Bumpus, Grace Whitney. A Chinese auction was conducted by Esther Sims, Josephine Finocchelli, Anna Duclou. There will be an inspection at a meeting, April 8.

Elephant Wrecker
 It happened in Uganda—not exactly the motorist's earthly paradise, because there are lots of wooden bridges to cross, and sometimes, after the rains, the bridges aren't there. On this occasion, however, the trouble was a pedestrian. The driver—a native—didn't wait to apologize; he got out and legged it to the nearest settlement, where he reported the accident. A rescue party went out to bring in the motor and found it in little bits. The pedestrian was an elephant and the driver not being available, he had taken his revenge on the car, which he destroyed.

The ring as Love Token
 The ring as a love token commenced its recorded history when the ancient Greeks sent rings of iron to their betrothed as evidence of an agreement. The ring being placed on the third finger of the left hand during the marriage service, for it was believed that a nerve led from this finger directly to the heart. But most of the men wear their rings upon the right hand as a mark of power and independence.

BRONCHIAL COUGHS

JUST A FEW SIPS AND— LIKE A FLASH—RELIEF!

All coughs look alike to Buckley's Mixture (triple acting)—one sip of this grand medicine soon stops an ordinary cough—tough old deep seated coughs and the persistent bronchial cough are under control after just a few doses—no more tormenting, sleepless nights.
 Buckley's is alkaline, that's why it's so different—it "acts like a flash." Refuse substitutes—guaranteed. 45 and 65 cents at all druggists. W. K. Buckley, Rochester, N. Y.

CONCRETE COSTS LESS

The cost of concrete pavement is less than that of any other all load-carrying capacity!
 rigid concrete pavement distributes the load over the subgrade as other pavement of comparable cost do. As a result—concrete withstands the punishment of a rapid succession of big buses, high speed trucks, trailers through summer heat and winter cold. Concrete can take it! As Ford has said—"the modern highway is 'unbeatable'."

First cost of concrete is less than any other pavement of equal carrying capacity— upkeep is less—living costs are less—comfort, visibility and safety are greater.

INDUSTRIES STAND FIRST SAYS BISHOP

District Attorney Seeks Republican Nomination For Governor

District Attorney Warren L. Bishop, Republican Candidate for Governor of Massachusetts, has adopted a campaign policy that is bound to bring him the respect and support of the thinking men and women voters of Massachusetts.

While telling of his own qualifications, Mr. Bishop in his radio speeches differs from other candidates, in that District Attorney Bishop, instead of engaging in personalities, speaks to his audience of interesting facts of his native State, and the needs of this Commonwealth.

In a State wide hook-up of radio, Mr. Bishop gave as his subject, "Massachusetts, and I said in part— "I am sure I could not find a better one I have heard Governor Braun of Maine speak so many times about Maine, her lakes and rivers and mountains, and her people, that he gave me the thought to avail myself of this opportunity to speak of Massachusetts, my State, my home State, the State where I was born.

Massachusetts for variety and scenic beauty has no rival. She is essentially an industrial center and as such is the heart of New England. Her industries stand first in their respective fields.

Her history is glorious with feats of national import.—Plymouth Rock, Concord, Lexington and Bunker's Hill. She was first to answer the call of Lincoln in '61, and has ever been ready to play her part in the cause of mankind.

The Chambers of Commerce have said "See America First." I say "See Massachusetts First."

I am a candidate for Governor of Massachusetts. To be even mentioned as a candidate for that exalted office is honor beyond comprehension.

It is the greatest office in America, second only to the presidency of the United States. No man should aspire to it lightly and no man should hold it unworthily. I know I have able and honorable opponents for the Republican nomination. Men of character and of great ability—anyone of whom would be a great Governor. However, I believe I have a right to say that the character of my public service entitled me to be considered equally with them in that respect.

If that is so, then we must consider political availability—in order words, who would be the strongest candidate for the Republican party. Let me analyze. My first entrance into politics was at the age of 21 when I was elected Town Clerk of my home town of Wayland. This office I held until the outbreak of the World War when I resigned to enlist in the Army of the United States. When the war was over and the American Legion was organized, I was elected First Commander of my home town post, and the same year elected Moderator of my town, which office I now hold. In 1923 I was appointed Assistant District Attorney of Middlesex County, and four years later appointed First Assistant District Attorney. During those eight years, I tried probably more cases—from murder down—than any other prosecutor in the history of Massachusetts.

I was then elected District Attorney—District Attorney of Middlesex County—the largest County in population—and served in the United States and two years ago re-elected District Attorney by over thirty thousand majority on the same day that Honorable David I. Walsh, Democrat, was given.

The farm more recently known as the Sisson farm is one of the largest fruit farms in this section. The purchase was made through the office of Charles A. Durkee from the Middlesex Institution for Savings in Concord.

More than $70 was collected in the acton schools to be turned over to the Red Cross for the benefit of Flood Sufferers. Acton faculty play netted considerably over $100.

NEW COOPERATIVE BRANCH OPENS WEDNESDAY APRIL 15

Building and Equipment to Rate With Finest in the East; Built-in Lights For The Service Booth

Maynard.—The United Cooperative Society of Maynard is preparing to stock the shelves of its new branch store, now nearing completion on Co-op Corner, formerly Papermill corner. It will open on the morning of April 15. The building, which is being erected by Ernest E. Johnson, contractor, of Maynard, from the plans prepared by S. W. Haynes Associates, architects, of Fitchburg, is costing with the fixtures in the neighborhood of twenty thousand dollars. The painting is being done by J. W. Bradley, contractor of Maynard. The equipment, which includes a soda fountain and five luncheon booths is being furnished by Joseph Middleby, Inc., of Boston. The ultra-modern refrigeration and the equipment is being furnished by Cooper Radio Electric Company of Maynard.

The front of the store is of tan and green vitrolite glass. The fixtures, of the latest type, are made of walnut. The soda fountain, one of the new low design, to match the store front, as well as the tables in the booths. The chairs at the fountain are of a modern comfortable variety.

The whole store is lighted indirectly, even the lights of the pastry cabinet being concealed in the woodwork. An interesting feature for the service booths. They are found in the built-in lights of course, of the indirect type, and the glass shades had painted on them a little aerial story concerning a hunter and a moose. The decorations of the store are in stained glass mosaic, which has the advantage of being practically ever-lasting, as well as being beautiful.

The store will be heated with an Army water-tube boiler, fired by a Williams Oil-O-Matic oil-burner, installed by Freeman & Clancy, controlled automatically from the upstairs, with radiators of the new overhead type operated with a fan. The cooling unit is a Frigidaire.

LAST RITES FOR YOUNG ACTON WOMAN

Mrs. Viola (Merriam) Morse Died Suddenly After a Few Hours' Illness

Acton.—The last rites for Mrs. Viola Isabel (Merriam) Morse, were held at the home of her parents on Piper Road, Saturday afternoon, April 4 at 2 p. m.

The home was filled with relatives, friends and neighbors of the stricken family, assembled to pay their tribute to the memory of a young loving mother, devoted wife and daughter and sister, and one who was a friend or chum of nearly everyone in the community.

Tribute to her memory was the vast number of floral pieces from those sorrowing friends who had known Mrs. Morse from childhood and others who had come to love and respect her in later years, for her fine character.

Mrs. Morse was taken suddenly ill on last Wednesday evening when preparing for an evening's enjoyment. Previously she had been enjoying apparent normal health. Dr. Orma L. Clark was called and after treatment ordered her removal to the Emerson hospital in Concord, where she passed away at 3.30 Thursday morning. The whole community mourns her passing and offers sincere sympathy to the many loved ones she leaves behind.

Mrs. Morse was born in South Acton on June 9, 1909, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Merriam. She was educated in the Elementary school here and later attended Concord high school from which she graduated in 1925. In the following year she took a post graduate course at Acton High school, the first year of its opening. She then attended the Boston University School of Business Administration.

In June 1931 she was married to George Allen Morse, local business-man, who with three small children survive her. The children are Doris Eleanor, 4 years old, Harry Burton, 3, and George Allen, Jr., eleven months. A brother Herbert W. Merriam of South Acton and a sister, Mrs. Bertha Whitmore Deane of Pascoic, N. J., also survive her, with her parents.

She had made a cozy home on School street, for her devoted husband and little family, who were her pride and joy and comfort. Here her many friends always received a hearty welcome and with members of her family enjoyed the wholesome atmosphere of a truly devoted little family.

Rev. Andrew J. Torsleff, pastor of the Methodist Church here, officiated at the funeral services. Richard A. Lowden rendered "In the Garden."

The bearers were Carroll B. and Merle A. Morse, brothers-in-law and Richard A. Lowden, Edward C. LeClere, Malcolm E. Fulmator and Neville Holland close personal friends.

Interment was in the family lot in Woodland cemetery, Acton Center. Delegations from Edwards-Quimby Post A. L. Woman's Auxiliary of which Mrs. Morse was an active member; the Legion Post; representatives of the South Acton Universalist Church which she attended and the Sunday School of which she was an active member and treasurer for several years attended the services.

Rites Held For Bedford Man

Bedford.—Funeral services for George Winkley Pollard, 75, formerly of Manchester, N. H., where for 10 years he was accountant for the Elliot Manufacturing company, were held with a brief service Sunday morning in his home on Great road here.

Rev. Harland S. Evans, pastor of the Bedford First Parish Unitarian Church, officiated, and later there were services at the Community Church in Newfields, N. H., conducted by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Burt. Members of Rising Star Lodge, A. F. and A. M. of Newmarket, N. H., of which Mr. Pollard had long been a member attended.

Burial was in the family lot at Newfields cemetery.

CONCORD PLAYERS PRESENT "MR. PIM PASSES BY"

Veterans Hall Crowded at Three Performances; Gladys W. Brooks Directed and Cast Earn Hearty Approval for Fine Offering

The Concord Players presented A. A. Milnes three-act comedy "Mr. Pim Passes By" in Veterans Hall, Concord, on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings, to the evident great enjoyment of three large houses.

It was the author's evident intention to amuse with whimsical setting, clever dialogue, caricature, imaginary catastrophes, rather than portraying anything with a hint of seriousness.

The "plot," if such the delicately coherent story of the play can be called, is something as follows: The household at the Marden House, Buckinghamshire, England, is made up of George Marden, J. P., more or less typical English squire, George R. Walker; his pretty young wife Olivia (Frances H. Warren); and his niece and ward Dinah (Helen Root). Marden has apparently married rather late in life and his wife, whom he met in Australia, has had a previous marriage.

Mr. Pim (Clément S. Edwards), Carraway Pim, from Australia, presents himself at Marden House with a letter of introduction to Marden, who in turn is to introduce him to a man he wishes to see on business. Dinah receives him, becomes confidential, and tells him about her engagement to Brian Strango (David B. Smith), young futuristic artist.

Marden, opinionated, crochety, irritable, conservative, is not impressed with Strango, the futuristic artist, whom he regards as a Socialist, and is not likely to favor a marriage with him. Mrs. Marden's help is invoked as an intermediary.

The couple were attended by Miss Aulo Holt and William Hellawell, sister and brother, respectively. Both are popular and well known in the younger set. They will reside at 17 Dartmouth street.

Local Athletes Shine at Colleges

Maynard.—Maynard H. S. athletes continue to make good in schools of higher education. Reino "Dick" Grondahl with the Harvard Freshmen, connected for two singles in his first game, playing shortstop.

Hank Brayden, last year 71. H. S. Captain is a candidate for the same berth at Worcester Academy. Although there are two all scholastics in the squad, local friends know Hank will fight hard for the position and wish him luck.

Children Are Club Guests In Sudbury

The annual Children's Party given by the Sudbury Women's Club was held in the Town Hall last week. There were almost 100 children who were delighted with the antics of Curtis Beach's Marionettes, the high lights being Jack and the Beanstalk and Mickey Mouse and were operated by Curtis Beach and Ina Swan. After the show there were refreshments—plenty that received special attention. The activities of the afternoon were in charge of Mrs. Ralph Stone, Mrs. Herbert Atkinson, Mrs. Paul Whitney Rhoades, Mrs. Herbert L. Newton and Mrs. Charles E. Remington.

There was a bridge at the home of Mrs. William Tufts, president of the club, on Tuesday afternoon. The proceeds to go to the club's scholarship fund.

A Golden Age

A GOLDEN age is said to be a time in the history of a people when prosperity and happiness are at their very best. Certain nations speak of their golden age as having been reached in the past. Many hope that it will yet dawn; and the views as to what constitutes this interesting time are as varied as the people who dream of it.

Naturally, the concepts of a golden age must vary, for belief in a merely transitory prosperity and happiness is self-condemned as an illusion of the human mind and must therefore pass away.

To acknowledge something which does not exist in God, "with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning" (James 1:17). No variable thing can be perfect.

It is commonly admitted that God is eternal. He therefore includes in Himself perfection, completeness, and all that is the opposite of human beliefs of change and decay. These statements regarding the eternal God are familiar to all, for their truth becomes apparent from even a superficial study of the Bible. The fact that man is made in the image and likeness of this perfect God is not so readily seen, however.

Being the expression of all that God is, man cannot know an age which is better than, worse than, or different from the reign of His perfection. Indeed, there cannot be—in reality—any "age," since man in God's image is Mind's unchanging reflection.

Spiritual progress is the continuous unfolding and the forever increasing understanding of God. It reveals one unchanging existence, forever golden in the reflection of eternal goodness, purity, Life, and Love.

Christ Jesus, the Way-shower, went about doing good, overcoming sickness, sin, and death, and inviting to men his own precept that, "the kingdom of God is within you" (Luke 17:21), within the consciousness of spiritual man. Therefore, dominion, health, peace, and joy are not far apart from man; there are no leap-frog periods for man, and indeed no occasions unfiled with good, for God is never less than All, and man is His reflection.

When Paul declared (II Corinthians 6:2): "Behold, now is the day of salvation," he did not refer to a privilege of his own particular age but of all times and peoples everywhere. Health, happiness, supply, beauty, and all right things are reflected by man, now and forever. They are never the special privilege of any time or place.

Shall our progress and healing, then, be delayed through the mesmerism which erroneously clothes the future with a golden haze and credits it with a power chimerical and uncertain? Everyone looks for a better tomorrow, yet the truth is that all good is here today. We think that tomorrow the bad habit will be broken, the debt paid, the healing manifested. We hope to get a better position or rise higher than our present unsatisfactory standard—soon! But ever-present Love, in this very hour, reveals all the possibilities of Life, health, happiness, and perfection as the right of God's child through reflection.

The golden age of attainment and usefulness, then, is with us and is always here. . . . Spiritual understanding reveals ever-present Love, in this very hour, reveals all the possibilities of Life, health, happiness, and perfection as the right of God's child through reflection.

Anglers Out To Catch The Biggest Fish

Maynard—Cold and rain failed to dampen the ardor of the local anglers and fishing enthusiasts who got off to a flying start with the opening of the fishing season last week. This is one sport in which the dyed-in-the-wool angler will enjoy no matter what the weather conditions.

Local interest in the field sports have steadily increased the past few years and a novel contest is on in this vicinity. Fishermen and anglers from a radius of twenty-five miles have pooled twenty-five cents each and the biggest catch in each specie will win a split of the purse. It is reported that there is unusually high interest in this game and that the number enrolled exceeds all expectations. The contest was originated by Lemmie Hendrickson, well known local sportsman, and John Kytola is doing the clerical and secretarial work.

Reading Room in church edifice. Hours from 2 to 5 p. m. weekdays, holidays excepted.

"Probation After Death" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, April 26.

The Golden Text is: "Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which according to his abundant mercy hath begotten us again unto a lively hope by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead" (I Peter 1:3).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon are the following from the Bible: "Humble yourselves therefore under the mighty hand of God, that he may exalt in due time" (I Peter 5:6); "Blessed is the man that endureth temptation: for when he is tried, he shall receive the crown of life, which the Lord hath promised to them that love him" (James 1:12).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The divine must overcome the human at every point. The Science Jesus taught and lived must triumph over all material beliefs about life, substance, and intelligence, and the multitudinous errors growing from such beliefs. Love must triumph over hate, Truth and must seal the victory over error and death, so that the thorns can be laid aside for a crown, the benediction follow: 'Well done, good and faithful servant,' and the supremacy of Spirit be demonstrated" (p. 43).

South Acton — Mourning and pathetic relatives and friends attended the funeral services for late Theron Fletcher Newton Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 in Universalist Church. Rev. Andrew Torstleff, former pastor of church and a friend of the family, officiated, and spoke feelingly of the long and devoted service of Mr Newton to the church which he had served for a period of half a century. Alan Palmer of Maynard sang "In the Garden" and "Lead Kindly Light." Mrs Hazel V Godfrey was the organist. A delegation of Masons from Charles A Welch Lodge, A. F. and A. M. of Maynard, attended in a group and the officers conducted the Masonic funeral service at the grave in Woodlawn cemetery. SOUTH ACTON

Albert P. Tucker formerly of this village and a theological student at Washington, D. C., was among the victims of poisoning at the New Hampshire conference of Jehovah's Witnesses at Manchester, N. H. last week. He was not seriously affected and soon recovered.

Rev. Andrew J. Torstleff, former pastor of the Universalist Church spent several days last week with his son in New York city. He reports a most enjoyable visit.

Two new Seagrave Koo three ton, 500 gallon pumps with 100 gallon booster tanks and 1200 feet of hose have been delivered to the town and are undergoing tests. As soon as these are completed satisfactorily they will be installed, one at West Acton and the other at South Acton. The tests are to satisfy the fire engineers and board of selectmen and the fire underwriters. It is not expected they will fail in the tests. On Tuesday afternoon one of the pumps was tested at the South Acton Woolen Mill pond and seemed to meet the requirements. Both are expected to be put in commission next week.

Mrs. Mary Spaulding (Cutler) Fowler, former Acton woman passed away in the Emerson hospital at Concord on last Sunday. Mrs. Fowler will be remembered by some of the older residents of Acton when she made her home here as a particularly active member of different organizations including the Acton Congregational Church. She was the first grammar school principal in Reading and was the widow of the late Loring N. Fowler. The beautiful new library at West Concord was given by Mrs. Fowler as a memorial to her husband. Burial was in Woodlawn cemetery on Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Raymond Stone of Danby, Vermont, is visiting with the family of Mrs. Bertha Lowden.

Mr and Mrs. Elynn Harris, formerly of this village, attended the funeral of Theron Newton on Wednesday.

During the height of the storm on Saturday morning an alarm from box 5 at the South Acton Fire Station was sounded by Chief Michael J. Foley, for a fire in the barn of Ole Granberg on School street, which was struck by lightning.

After arousing the family Chief Foley made a dash for the fire house to turn in the alarm. Mr. Granberg and his son Milton had his son Milton had the fire under control when the apparatus arrived. After the alarm from the Center Fire Station the signal started up again and aroused the whole town.

Believing there was a conflagration at South Acton, cars from all sections of the town began pouring into South Acton creating a traffic jam in Quimby square.

MASQUERS PLAY TO FULL HOUSE

Amateurs Make Big Hit With Large Audience In Auditorium

Concord.—"The Blockhead," production of "The Masquers" (dramatic society made up of Concord High school students and alumni) made a great hit before a packed house in the Concord High school Auditorium on Friday night, December 17th. It was extremely amusing comedy with many subtleties and, paradoxically enough, with a significantly serious side. It was a play translated from the German and the "Masquers" produced it by special arrangement with the Drama Guild, Publishers, Boston. Mr. and Mrs. W. Edward Lamb coached this production and its success was, in no small way, due to their efforts.

The furniture was furnished by Mrs. David Sheehan and Robert Furliga. The printing was done in the High school machine department.

The cast was as follows: Elizabeth Schirmer, Elizabeth Reid; Mrs. Schirmer, Helen Tompkins; Willwald Beck, James Craig; Gertrude Beck, Frank Lawton; Kurt Engelhard, Peter Furliga; Justus Chambers, Richard Craig; Judge Oeschlager, Norman Sherer; Doris Wiegand, Marjorie Houston; Lucy Hensel, Ruth Davis; Rosa, Avis Spehr; Dr. Thilentus, Robert Furliga; Frances, June Hood. Prompter, Marjorie Haynes. Properties, Josephine Sheehan, Josephine Marzco. The stage, Marjorie Haynes; June Hood, Josephine Sheehan, Avis Spencer, Roy Hodgman, George Husey. Tickets, John Potter, Norman Pradd, John Seeger, Ursula, Friedlind, Egan, Maurine Schaal, Anne Craig, Janet Delaney, Frances Clarke, Ann Nelson, Alice Merlam. Music, High school orchestra, Eros H. Held, conductor.

THOREAU ON SOLITUDE AND VISITORS

For an introduction to Thoreau through very readable passages, one would do well to choose short chapters in the book "Walden" on "Solitude" and "Visitors." These were the subjects for the group meeting in December, when the discussion was opened by Mr. Lee and nearly every one present took interested part. Regarding solitude and his life in the woods, Thoreau says: "I am no more lonely than the Mill Brook, or a weathercock, or the north star, or the south wind, or an April shower, or a January thaw, or the first spider in a new house." Regarding visitors, he says: "I think I love society as much as most, and am ready enough to fasten myself like a bloodsucker for the time to any full-blooded man that comes in my way. I am naturally no hermit, but might possibly sit out the strictest frequenter of the bar-room, if any business called me thither." Next in order in chapters in "The Bean Field," selected for the third Sunday evening in January.

CORRECTION—Harold C. Rideout of Ashburnham, Mass., is proprietor of "The Ashburnham School for Boys" and not headmaster, as was stated in last week's Enterprise. Mr. Norris is headmaster.

HODGDON'S NEW LUBRICATOR

The new lubrication now bearing competition at Hodgdon's Jersey Station near the depot on Thoreau street is modern in every way save perhaps aesthetically for it is attractively designed by competent experts in conjunction with the Colonial architects of the main building which is one of the prettiest little houses types around here. The inside of the lubricator, however, tells an entirely different story; for there everything is built for maximum efficiency and the many service facilities found therein are so designed and located as to do a thorough and fast job minimizing waiting and inconvenience to the customer.

PRIDE GOETH BEFORE
 Geologists do not convert wood into albumen or silk, they build no massive generators, nor do they march electrons through vacuum tubes to bring radio entertainment out of the air.
 They seem to be preoccupied with lifeless stone, yet their function in science and the life of all nations is one of the most vital.
 Not only do geologists read the history of the earth, but they bring us many of the necessities of modern existence, the oils and the metals without which we would never have emerged from the stone age.
 And speaking of the earth's history, there is more here than belongs in the stillness of the scientist's study or laboratory.
 There is a lesson to be learned by digging through the strata which envelop the globe and that lesson is: the battle is neither to the strong nor to the rabid; the survival is to the fittest, and the fittest are the middle-roads.

Let the dictators and the ultra-radicals beware for on each geological period they were the first to become extinct, survival has been the reward for a few extreme right wing "living fossils" and victory for the conservative-liberals.
 This is no far-fetched or fantastic reconstruction of history, says Geologist Erich M. Schaicker of Brooklyn College, who brings to bear on modern problems the lessons of the earth's career through the eons.
 Nature's imperious beings have been the prize failures in the struggle for existence throughout the more than 175,000,000 years of geological history.
 There were giants on the earth in the early days. The enormous appetites of the dinosaurs, radicals in size, accompanied by decreasing food supplies, helped to spell their downfall. During the same period, races of upstart insects, gangster-dictators, systematically raided dinosaur nests, sucking the eggs.
 But these fell into the pitfall of over-specialization. In time there were no more eggs; and being equipped for fighting, these insects fell to destroying one another.
 The parallel drawn by the historian of the earth agrees with that of this historian of the animal kingdom, especially the species which is man.
 Eventually the mighty empires in combat to the death, the story was told once and for all time by Him who went into a mountain and said: Blessed are the meek; for they shall inherit the earth."

HISTORY ESSAY CONTEST HELD IN ACTON

Marjorie Nelson of Boxboro Earns Carlos B. Clark Award

Acton—The fourth annual History essay contest for the Carlos B. Clark award was held on Monday evening by a large gathering of students, parents and interested citizens.
 The senior students who essays had previously been adjudged the best by the school faculty read their essays before the gathering. The material and presentation of all were greeted with rounds of applause and showed much research work into the interesting History of Acton.
 A program of vocal and instrumental music was presented under the direction of Mr. Moran, supervisor of music, and was a credit to both students and the director. It was a source of inspiration to the large gathering who enjoyed the program and learned of the fine progress Mr. Moran has made in developing the talent of the students.
 Chorus singing by the Boys and Girls' Glee Clubs accompanied on the piano by Mr. Moran, music by the school orchestra, showed much fine coaching. Miss Melba Walker played piano solos and accompanied her brother Joseph, who gave a violin solo. Dorothy Bond and Earl Harriman, boy soprano, rendered vocal solos and James McAvonia showed much talent as a trumpet player. Mr. Moran accompanied the vocalist and young McAvonia.
 Walter F. Hall, Superintendent of Schools opened the program with a few remarks, after which the students read their essays in the following order:
 The Acton Fair: A Review—Leonard Godfrey; The Development of Acton's Water Supply—Florence Harriman; Fire-Fighters of West Acton—John Smith; From Peace Pipe to Tomahawk—Marjorie Nelson; Merchants of Acton—Robert Montague; Education Marches On—Marion McGuire; Evangelical Congregational Church of Acton—Leiford Gray; Cellar Holes—George H. Hildreth; The Paulkner Family Develops Acton—James Merriam; Old Roads of Acton—Kathryn McDougall.
 Following the reading of the essays the judges, Frank C. Johnson, Superintendent of Schools, Ayer; Miss Gertrude H. Hildreth, Concord; Rev. Matthew A. Vance, Maynard, retired to make their decisions.
 Rev. Mr. Vance made known the judges' findings which included: Miss Nelson as the winner, second prize was awarded to George Hildreth and James Merriam and Kathryn Hildreth received honorable mention for their essays.
 For the first time cash awards were presented to the first and second choices. Mr. Hall made the presentation of the latter. Miss Nelson will have her name engraved on the Silver Shield presented by Mr. Clark and a copy of her essay will be filed in Wilde Memorial Library. The previous winners were Marguerite Taylor, Doreen Jeffries and William Hildreth. It was interesting to note the boys outnumbered the girls in this contest when previously it had been the reverse.

BEDFORD EAST RIVER IN SOUTH ACTON

Held for Mrs. Everett W. Reed, Well Known Resident

South Acton—Sorrowing relatives, friends and neighbors filled the South Acton Congregational Church on Monday afternoon at two o'clock when the last rites were held for Mrs. Mildred Violet (McClenahan) Reed, wife of Everett W. Reed of Maple street.
 Mrs. Reed was stricken with bronchial pneumonia less than a week before and passed away last Friday evening. Rev. A. W. Whitner, pastor, conducted the services. A delegation from Winona Rebekah Lodge attended.
 She was born in West Rutledge, New Hampshire, December 28, 1882. After graduation she was employed at the Meta Automobile company in Waltham and later at the Waltham Telephone exchange. She was married to Mr. Reed on September 28, 1921 and they made their home on Maple street.
 Mrs. Reed was a member of the South Acton Congregational Church and Winona Rebekahs in both of which organizations she was an active worker. Her smiling, cheery personality had made her many friends and many were the kindly neighborly acts which will long be remembered by those who had experienced her thoughtfulness in times of illness in her neighborhood.
 The sympathy of her large circle of friends goes out to her husband and brother Walter H. McClenahan of West Bedford, Massachusetts in the family lot in Mount Hope cemetery, West Acton. The bereaved are Ralph Whitcomb, Boxboro; John Carg, Chelmsford; Edgar Weis, Groton; Sergt. Irving Hayward, Port Ethan; Allen H. Whitcomb, relatives. Funeral arrangements were in charge of Guyer W. Fowler, undertaker of Maynard.

LETTERS to the Editor

Schofield Barracks, Finland in a letter to the Editor, April 10, 1933
 Dear Editor:
 This is a special dispatch to inform your paper as to the success of the Maynard boys here in Hawaii, at Schofield Barracks, P. H. C. Eddie Byrne who a one time did manage the Village Hamblers O. Maynard was given the responsible job of chairman of the 8th Field Artillery entertainment committee. He has successfully put over three plays and a number of amateur shows. The Chaplain has awarded Eddie with a trophy for his splendid work in his last play.
 At Fort DeRussa, Michale Teda encountered at managers. He is expected to recover shortly.
 At Fort Ruger private Stanley Stankewski has turned out for the Regimental team track.
 Private Arthur Lacey is attached to the Military Police at Fort Armstrong. Private Tony Smalski is a member of the 8th Field Artillery wrestling team which recently won the department championship of Hawaii. He is also an assistant editor of the 8th Field Artillery Daily Information Sheet.
 I hope your readers will appreciate this information.
 Yours truly
 Private Tony Smalski
 Honolulu, Hawaii.
 Editors Note—Glad to hear from you and the boys, Tony.
 Dear Sir:
 I wish to answer or cast a vote in favor of the writer of last week's sports notes. However I'd like to make a few suggestions. I noticed the mention of Harold Lyons and Duke Parell. How about other business men such as Peoples Theatre, Maquarie Clothing, J. J. Ledger, or any other who wanted to start an amateur league. Forget the money players. Grade the younger and older. Make it strictly amateur. Form a twilight loop. Daylight saving will take care of that. Bancroft school was good enough before, why not now?
 Maybe Mr. King and Mr. Higgins have ideas of their own. I am only a $2.00 tax payer and I think I've had my $2.00 worth.

The Search For Seclusion From Outside Traffic

At one time "A Man's home was his castle," reasonably secure from intrusion and the various alarms and annoyances of the world without. Today, unless he be a man of means, and not like the most of us, compelled by circumstances to live in a crowded metropolitan area, he finds his privacy invaded by the telephone, the neighbor's radios, the rush, roar and dust of street traffic created by the hourly passing of hundreds of motor cars, not to mention numerous other unpleasant sounds and sights due to modern living.

This situation, which can easily become intolerable, demands relief, some "Balm in Gilead" some place of escape from the nervous strains of a civilization of which we are both the beneficiaries and victims. This is especially true at this time of the year when windows are open and we prefer to spend as much time as possible in the open air and sunshine, even though it be only in a back yard not much bigger than the proverbial pocket handkerchief.

For instance, Little Trees Farm in Framingham Centre, is offering this week from their surplus stock big handsome evergreens 5 to 11 feet high which will create for you at once, without waiting a year, looking, all-year hedge or screen from 20 to 40 feet long at a cost under twenty dollars. In addition you will find the Farms an absorbing place to visit because of the many other ornaments—evergreens, flowering shrubs and plants conveniently arranged for inspection at the sales ground not to mention the big glass enclosed greenhouse—a crystal palace which houses almost every thing conceivable that contributes to the joy of outdoor living.

Cheney Family Has Historic Tool Chest

Maynard.—A tool chest, the property of the late James Cheney, Spring Lane was this week removed from the machine shop of the Assabet mill where it had been for seventy years. Mr. Cheney inherited the chest from his father the late Henry Cheney who in turn received it from his great grandfather. That old chest has historic connections because it was originally a cloth box of pioneers of the Cheney family who used it as a tool chest before they left their farms for Concord and Lexington to fight in the battle of 1775.

BEDFORD

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Johnston of Maple street are receiving congratulations on the arrival of a baby son at the hospital in Arlington on Walnut street on Thursday night, April 28. Both mother and son are expected to soon.

Mrs. Harry Ames and her daughter Ruth are co-chairmen, and they, together with a large serving committee will whet all appetites with a lobster dinner.

Hudson.—Elwin Bishop, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Bishop of Green street, will receive a diploma tonight from the New England Aircraft school at East Boston. The Hudson boy will graduate from the school on completion of a two year course in airplane mechanics.

MAYNARD

A reception was given to Christian Lehto of Dartmouth street, at Finnish Congregational Church Tuesday evening in honor of his 75th birthday. Rev. George A. PRE-SCHOOL CLINICS Maynard Public Schools

To the Parents:
Any child who will be six years of age on or before January 15th, 1933, is eligible to enter the first grade next September.

Those children should be registered and given a health examination at the Pre-School Clinics to be conducted by the School Physician and School Nurse in the Board of Health Rooms at the Town House. Any parent who wishes his family physician to examine his child should secure a Physical Record Card from the physician after a thorough physical examination has been made. This card should be returned to the School Nurse not later than May 24th.

It is expected that there will be the eyes and ears—a service offering an additional service at these clinics this year—an examination of the teeth by the State Department of Public Health.

This is your opportunity to start getting your child ready for school. It means preparing bodies, engines, so that they will be capable next fall to start efficiently on the journey to school.

Your child is about to stand upon his own feet, about to bear responsibilities for the very first time in his young life. Is he physically able to do so? The physical examination at this time will determine the fact.

There is your time to prepare these first graders—the time for the correction of some defects found as a result of this examination and opportunity to put others well on the way for correction. If vaccination against smallpox hasn't already been done—get it over immediately—don't add a sore arm to other difficulties of the first day in school. Each child has a right to start out to school ready—physically ready for the long hard job in front of him.

The clinics will be held at the Town House for the children who are to enter the Roosevelt school—May 24th, 1933, 9:30 to 11 a. m.

Wilson School—May 16th, 1933, 9:30 to 11 a. m.
Coolidge School—May 23, 1933, 9:30 to 11 a. m.

A GUIDE TO BORROWING

Should I ever borrow money?

Borrowing is the use of credit. It is the privilege of paying at a later date for what you receive today. Almost every man uses credit. The well-to-do man "charges accounts." The business man takes out a loan from the bank. The government borrows. And most important today—the average family as an individual uses a personal loan when it is necessary or to their advantage.

Intelligent borrowing is the common-sense way of smoothing out the ups-and-downs of income or expense. People who could use credit to the best advantage often do not know that they can borrow—or they may have a prejudice against it.

There are two methods of self-financing—

1. Save first, then buy. (Savings account)
2. Buy first, repay later. (Personal loan)

Your choice of these two ways depends on your own situation. But opportunities seldom wait until you can save enough to take care of them.

BORROW WITH CONFIDENCE AT PERSONAL

So many folks don't realize that they can get a loan on a business-like basis without asking favors of anyone. But the whole purpose of Personal's loan service is to lend money to people who do not have the kind of security required elsewhere. When you need money, walk into any of the 48 Personal offices in Massachusetts... interview our manager in one of our private conference rooms... five questions at him. Chances are that you'll come out with your problem solved, you'll get the money you need... and you'll feel a whole lot better! And don't think you're asking us a favor. We'll appreciate your calling.

- ★ PERSONAL POINTS ★
- Whether you want $50, $100, $200 or more to pay old bills or to refinance your car—or buy the things you really need, Personal's loan service is the best.
- Our main requirement is just your ability to repay small regular payments.
- No co-signers or endorses required.
- Strict privacy assured.
- Prompt, courteous service.
- Complete Control—You decide the value you place on the loan it costs you.
- Flexibility of loan—for your convenience.

Ernest "Pop" Steinman, of Maynard, was a very close second and walked home (or maybe he took a taxi this time) with the $5 cash prize.

Only sixty years young, "Pop" brought down the house with his two tap dance specialties. Attired in his barn-yard apparel, even to the extent of an extended gaiter, he first danced and sang (the lyric sounded original) a rural specialty, and then, amid loud applause, sprit whistles, shouts, and the stamping of feet, returned and danced a Military specialty with the zest of a youth. Incidentally, "Pop," perhaps through an oversight, danced his military number garbed in a naval outfit.

Little "Baby Ann" Christofano, with all the cuteness of a 5-year-old, sang several popular numbers and was awarded the third prize of $3. A bundle of personality it there ever was one, 5-year-old "Baby Ann" gave 60-year-old "Pop" Steinman a run for his money. She made a big "hit" with the crowd and performed like a veteran.

George Ely, a high school senior, attired as a cowboy, with a guitar, sang several melodies and was awarded the fourth prize of $1. Roger Compton, also of Maynard, dressed in an attractive red, military dress suit, presented two tap dance specialties and was awarded the fifth prize of $1.

The five of the ten "best" who failed to cop prizes included Shirley Bain, who danced two Scottish numbers dressed in a traditional Scottish outfit, and did so with unusual ease and grace; Ann Flaherty, who sang two songs dressed in overalls, bright red kerchief, and a "Tom Sawyer" straw hat; Evelyn Rusan, who presented a couple of dance specialties; Nellie Martin, who presented imitations of animals and birds; and the team of Marjory Whalen and Marion Smith, who danced.

Honorable mention was given little 4-year-old Ann Zanderelli, who danced a waltz, glog, and the Swinginators, an orchestra composed of Joseph Catania, drummer, Charles DiGruppo, trumpet, Alex DiGruppo, saxophone, Anthony Arcebi, Anthony Costanzo, violin, Alex Anickiewicz, violin, Vincent Scaciotti, piano, and Frank Primiano, the leader.

In mentioning the outstanding acts of the show, the plight of 2-year-old Elaine Clark cannot, in justice, be overlooked. Although she was not awarded a prize or any special recognition, there is no doubt but what the 400 who packed the auditorium would have awarded her with a first prize for pluck and courage.

Scheduled to sing "A Cold Mine in the Sky" and finding herself on the stage with over eight hundred eyes gazing at her, little Elaine just couldn't go through with her act. She broke out into tears before she could even begin her number. The audience, meanwhile, broke out into applause.

pathetic applause. After a brief pause and due encouragement, she again tried to sing, but could emit only a couple of good, strong lines and again quivered into tears. The audience again attempted to encourage her with ringing applause but it seemed only to frighten her home. Disappointed, she left the stage, but during the period that the judges were conferring on the ten best, when several of the eager contestants volunteered to "perform," Elaine returned and went through with her number. The walls of the auditorium literally rang with the appreciative applause that was accorded Elaine's second and successful attempt. She proved that she could sing, and she did sing well, with a strong, clear voice, unusual for such a young girl. Elaine may yet conquer all and go far with her voice, to say nothing of her pluck and courage.

Other contestants who participated were Catherine Cullinan and Eleanor Dimery, Albert Paulson, Philomena Christofano, Jean O'Brien, Rita and Mary Swanke, Melvin Carter, Olive and Doris Besane, Jean Marie Puffer, Ru a Croft, Raymond Damas, Albert Rogers, Bernice Koch and Mildred

Mallison, Janet Paulson, Grace Olsen, and "The Middletons"—Charles Furratt, Raymond Kinn, William Lennge, and William Stated. Miss Rita Foley accompanied the amateurs at the piano, playing popular numbers during several intervals. The contest judges were Mrs. Matthew A. Vance, President; Frank C. Sheridan, and Mrs. Joseph P. King. The contestants were judged on (1) ability, and (2) stage appearance. (3) applause. The ten best as selected by the judges were presented and the five winners judged by the applause they received from the audience.

The program was in charge of Ruth Bradley, assisted by Elizabeth Provasoli, Leo P. Scilla, Albert Lawrence Leter, Silena Dwyer, Alice Pearna, Ann Peanahara, and William H. Reynolds.

NEW YORK—Two or three years ago, I was one of a group of newspaper men arguing about who was the best reporter who ever worked around Roy Barton here. One old-timer who used to be holding out for Roy Barton...

With the Northcliffe papers in London, he became a multi-millionaire, as he transformed British journalism with daring American techniques. He became a British citizen in 1914 and was knighted in 1923. In addition to his vast newspaper interests, he is a magnate of electric power and utilities.

He hired evening clothes to cover a society function. There, Colonel Hester, owner of the Eagle, was tremendously impressed with the personable young man with whom he was talking, and thought he had met him somewhere. Young Burton did not remind the colonel that he had seen the young man in a printer's apron a few days before.

He became city editor and managing editor of the Eagle, held important executive positions with the World and the New York Journal and was taken to England by Lord Northcliffe in 1904. Ten years later, he owned all but a few of the Daily Mail shares not owned by Lord Northcliffe.

In the World war, he virtually headed the organization of British propaganda, and many of the most damaging anti-German stories were attributed to him. His enemies charged that he had "debauched" the journalism by degrading American internationalism.

His friends insisted he had civilized and regenerated it. He makes an occasional trip to America with a staff of valets and secretaries, swains, dressy and still fit, and impressive at seventy-two, with more than a touch of British accent.

Over here, he always hated the name Pomeroy and shortened it to Roy, but picked it up again in England. He had been named for "Brick" Pomeroy, the cyclonic journalistic disturber of the latter half of the last century, and he held Mr. Pomeroy in low esteem. Pomeroy was almost, but not quite, a winner.

From a Wisconsin crossroads, he rammed around the country in newspaper and financial brags, and, in his old age, just through sheer animal spirits, started plunging a tunnel through the Rocky mountains, at Georgetown, Colo.

He was flattened by the '33 depression and died soon after, with nothing to show for his life's work but a hole in the ground. Then it was discovered that the tunnel had dug into fabulous mineral wealth in Kettle mountain. Eight years ago, the tunnel went on through the mountain, as the Moffat tunnel.

REPORTING the return of Poulney Bigelow from a visit to his friend, the former Kaiser, and his fervent approval of dictators, has become a matter of annual routine. It is an old story, but the freshness of Mr. Bigelow's disgust with democracy and enthusiasm for fuhrers always makes it interesting.

He is the patriarch of Malden-on-the-Hudson, with relatives and descendants, all up and down the river. He will be eighty-three years old on September 18. His father, John Bigelow, was American minister to France under Abraham Lincoln.

He hunted birds with the halber, breaking a lifetime friendship, formed only by the war, which he charged the Kaiser with having started. He recanted afterward and the two old men met annually in the "Der Tag" when only the all-wise and all-just shall rule again.

DIED AT HOME OF DAUGHTER

Funeral for Mrs. Pauline Barral Held Monday at Drechsler Home

Maynard.—Mrs. Pauline B. Barral, widow of Andrew J. Barral, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Oswald C. Drechsler, 32 Summer street, Friday night. Though she had been in poor health for some time the end came suddenly. She was in her 81st year, born in New York city and had been a resident of Maynard for 25 years.

She is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Drechsler, Mrs. Cora B. Mills of Maynard and Mrs. Pauline B. Harvey of Norwich, Connecticut; also four grandchildren and two great grandchildren. Though she lived a quiet and retired life she was known and loved by many of the townspeople who called at the home to pay her a last tribute. A profusion of beautiful floral tributes mutually evidenced the love and esteem of neighbors, relatives and friends.

The funeral was held Monday morning, May 9, at 10 o'clock, at the home of her daughter at eleven o'clock. Burial was in Windsor-village, Connecticut. Mrs. Barral was a member of the Eastern Star.

NO PARKING IS AVAILABLE

Business Section of Maynard Filled With Cars, Handicaps Shoppers

Maynard.—Parking space on busy nights is at a premium in the business section. The whole downtown district is generally filled to capacity and the line extends almost to the outskirts. Parking in the daytime is not as easy thing for the business section according to local officials who say it would be helped a who's lot by some of the business men if they would park their cars in the rear of their stores instead of in front, usually for all day.

Health Clinic On Fridays By Dr. S. M. Cremer

Maynard.—The Diphtheria immunization clinic conducted by the Board of Health will be held in the Health Center, Main street, Fridays May 20, 27, and June 3, from three to five o'clock in the afternoon. Dr. S. M. Cremer will be in charge of the clinics assisted by Miss Mary Ward, town nurse, and Miss Edith Foster, school nurse.

Health officials say that every child who has reached the age of six months and who has not been immunized, should receive this treatment for its own protection against this dreaded disease. Since the start of these immunization clinics the number of diphtheria cases has been cut 91% in the state. It is also constant in the records here, not a single case being reported since the summer of 1929.

It is noteworthy that these immunization clinics have played an important factor in this excellent record. However, parents should not become lax, for an epidemic may break out at any time. Immunization means protection for child, parent, and community, in the opinion of the Board of Health. Parents may sign consent slips at the Baby Clinics, or by request in Miss Ward or the Board of Health also at the day of the Diphtheria immunization Clinic.

Miss Wetherell To Entertain at Lobster Dinner

South Sudbury.—The Memorial Congregational Church of South Sudbury will offer the public two delightful treats May 13 at 6:30. The lobster dinner will come first, after which a unique program will be presented. Swiss Steak will be served to those who do not care for lobster.

STOLE FLOWERS FROM ALTAR

Carnations at St. George's Church Were Arranged For Mother's Day

Maynard.—Some one or more than one entered St. George's church Saturday night and stole the flowers for decoration of the altar for Mother's Day. They were selective as they only took the carnations. Rev. Halsey J. Andrews, rector, took the broad view and said "while we missed the flowers and regretted the action perhaps it was the work of unthinking boys. However, the rector was of the opinion that, if they were known, a good old fashioned trip to the woodshed with their parents would do them good.

About 30 children of the church took the rector, delivered their Leontine mite box offerings at a service held at St. Anne's church in Lowell last Sunday.

Forty Hours Devotion Ends At St. Casimir's

Maynard.—Large congregations attended all services in observance of the Devotion of Forty Hours in St. Casimir's church last week end. High mass was celebrated at eight o'clock, Friday and Saturday morning by the pastor, Rev. John S. Dziok. High mass was celebrated at 9 o'clock, Sunday morning, at which practically the entire parish received Holy Communion. A low mass was also celebrated at 10 o'clock Sunday.

A Vespers service, solemn benediction, and a sermon by Rev. Fr. Hym of Cambridge, was on Friday evening, while the pastor preached the sermon, Saturday evening. The Forty Hours devotion closed with a special Sunday evening service which included, procession, musical vespers, solemn benediction and a sermon by the Rev. J. Missa of Brockton. Visitation was held at 10 o'clock Sunday. The St. Casimir's choir under the direction of Stanley Siemlak, organist, presented a special musical program at all services.

Fox Hound Field Trials Next Sunday

The Maynard Rod and Gun club will hold a field trial for fox hounds at the club grounds in Hudson on Sunday May 15, at 5:30 in the morning. The hunt will be in charge of the club. The club hopes for the cooperation of local sportsmen who own hounds to help make these trials a success. George Koudall of Waltham is master of foxhounds. Paul J. Maynard is chairman of the general committee on program. Carl Swanson is president of the club.

Treat 130 In Maynard Clinic

Maynard.—A total of 130 dogs were immunized at the Dog Clinics conducted under the direction of the Board of Health in the town building, Saturday morning. Dr. Gerald O'Malley, nationally known veterinarian of Clinton, was in charge of the clinic assisted by Joseph Herrick, local inspector of Animals.

This is one of the largest dog clinics since their inauguration several years ago. The Board believes that this is a perfect example of the people realizing the importance of these clinics to the community. Immunization is a protection of the pet and the entire community against the much dreaded disease of rabies.

The dogs must be immunized every year for their own protection. The Board will conduct another dog clinic in the Town House on Saturday morning, June 11, with Dr. O'Malley in charge. They urge all dog owners who have not done so to have their pets immunized at the clinic. It may mean their protection when visiting in a community that has a restraint ordinance this summer.

German Students Tell Of Life In Native Country

Give Interesting Interview While Visiting Maynard Friends; Youths Now Study in Tabor Academy, Marion, Mass.

Maynard.—Two German boys, studying in this country were the recent guests of Howard Weaving, President of the Middlesex Pilgrim Fellowship and some of his friends. During their visit with American boys of their own age they told of life in Germany. It was so interesting that one of the Maynard boys thought the people of this vicinity would be interested and he wrote this story following an interview:

In the little town of Marion on the Cape, two German youths, here in the United States for six months of study at Tabor Academy, and who some day expect to play important roles in the foreign affairs service of their native Germany, are enjoying the life of an American student and striving to gain "the American view."

Alfred Lawien, 18, who hails from Kiel in northern Germany, and Werner Drost, 17, whose home is near Berlin, came to the United States in January through the cooperation of the German Office of Education to study at Tabor. In July they will return to Germany and, after a brief vacation, complete their eight-year course in the application.

South Acton.—Taken completely by surprise, Miss Isabel Inez Fogarty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest A. Fogarty of High street, called on her friends, Miss Rita Dunivan, on School street on Sunday evening and found many of her former classmates and friends gathered.

The purpose she learned was to give her a pre-wedding shower of many articles and handsome gifts. Miss Dunivan's home was gaily decorated in a color scheme of yellow and white. Suspended over the living room door was a huge inverted yellow rose of paper, filled with paper petals which were showered on the bride-to-be when she entered.

A merry evening was enjoyed by the many friends and classmates of Miss Fogarty, who graduated from Acton High School in the Class of 1927. Miss Dunivan her hostess, was assisted by a group of M. C. C. Club girls of which Miss Fogarty is a member. Other friends were present from Acton, including Mrs. Duverna, Somerville and Roxbury.

Wage-Cut Discussed By Mill Workers

Maynard.—A meeting of local textile workers to discuss the recent wage cut held at Crow park Sunday was attended by about 300 workers. John O'Leary, president of the local CIO Textile union, presided. The speakers included Joseph Mayo of the United Mine Workers who spoke as a personal representative of John L. Lewis, Carl Mathieu, regional CIO director, Arthur Massena, Steve Kurland and James Gilibaldo of Lawrence.

The speakers told of a conference in Lawrence with Moses P. Mellon, president of the American Woolen company where an agreement was reached to accept a wage cut of from 6 to 12 1/2 percent in the Ayer and Wood mill of that city. The speakers quoted Mr. Mellon as saying that the American Woolen company was not willing to pay as high or higher wages than other mills but that the wage cut was mandatory to meet competitive conditions in the industry. Mr. O'Leary announced that Carl Mathieu would remain here as regional director.

Selectmen May Postpone Special Town Meeting

Decision to be Reached Tonight; Owners Trucks Used on Maynard W. P. A. Projects Receive Delayed Pay for Rental

Maynard.—A special town meeting which was to be held tonight might not be postponed. It was decided tonight after the selectmen have consulted with various committees interested.

Five truck owners engaged W.P.A. work were paid yesterday owing to a dispute which they should be paid from funds from the W.P.A. committee. The amount of $1200, said to be for two weeks truck hire on W.P.A. projects, Patrick A. McGrath, chairman of the Selectmen, had a conference with Theodore Waddell at the State House and on a ruling was given by him the bill was paid for the sidewalk construction from the Selectmen's Department.

The W.P.A. committee advised the advisability of the town purchasing four trucks to be used by W.P.A. employees. It is reported that the committee will request an appropriation of $400 for this purpose provided it is approved by the selectmen and presented to the Selectmen's night.

A special By-law committee requested the appropriation of $50 to print a proposed set of laws. The N. Y. A. committee requested an appropriation of $1000 for Y. A. projects to provide for youths 15 to 25 years of age. An appropriation of $5000 to be used for the construction of Brown and Concord streets, and the construction of the parking space problems are among the articles considered at the special meeting.
