GEO. H. GUTTERIDGE,

Treasurer.

Report of Overseers of Poor.

To the Selectmen of Maynard :

Gentlemen—The annual report of the Overseers of the Poor for the year ending Jan. 31, 1908, is herewith submitted. The demands on the Overseers of the Poor for aid during the past year have been heavy; with labor unemployed, those who live from hand to mouth and are without credit, seek public charity for food and fuel. Once they are aided they cling tenaciously to the source of supply even after the bread winner of the family has resumed his place in the factory. On Nov. 1, with the commencement of the hard times, your Board had a balance of $2,285.38 on hand, showing that we were in a position to handle the many calls for aid without calling on the town for more money. On January 1st, with 62 new cases, or about 200 persons receiving aid, your Board still had a balance of $1,746.87, and with the close of the year show a balance of $1,093.92 and reimbursements due from cities and towns, $441.54. Our almshouse department is in first-class condition. There are five inmates—three males and two females. Miss Lucy Briggs and Patrick Connihian died during the past year. The farm, under the skilful care of Warden A. O. Dunham, is increasing its productions each year, as you will notice by our report, and the house, under the watchful charge of Mrs. A. O. Dunham, will always be found a perfect model of comfort and neatness. During the past year we have installed electric lights and telephone, steam heat and bath room. Your town will have a feeling of satisfaction and pride to see what a home the Town of Maynard provides for its unfortunate citizens. The Overseers desire to thank the Ladies' Philanthropic Club for the noble work they have done and are still doing in providing food and clothing for families and children, and hope this society will continue to grow and prosper.

Report of Moth Work

FOR PART OF THE YEAR 1906, AND 1907.

The amount the town raised was $1,409.87; the amount expended in work against moths was about $3,000.00, the State furnishing some over $1,500.00. The amount due the town for work on private property is about $400.00. It is a large sum of money to use, but it is either lose a great part of our trees or keep up the fight, judging from what has been done in other towns, where the moths first started. One can see plenty of dead trees, which would be our fate if this work was stopped.

A few years ago our legislature refused to appropriate any more money to carry on the work, when they were about exterminated. The result has been a cost of millions of dollars to this state and other states. About every state in New England is appropriating large sums to keep them down. Besides, our national government appropriated one hundred and fifty thousand dollars. There are now in different parts of Europe thirty men traveling at a large expense, gathering parasites to keep them in check. It does seem as if it were something to be dreaded, or this large sum would never have been appropriated to fight them. Anyone going into other towns and finding out what a nuisance they have been there, besides the damage to trees, would never oppose the work. I, for one, think a great deal of trees, and shall always protect mine if town or state should give it up, though I have no idea they ever will. Massachusetts thinks too much of her trees to lose them.

The work is such that it cannot be rushed. One cannot be too careful. Several lives are lost each year, besides several are crippled for life, and it pays to look the trees over carefully, for each nest left means an increase of four or five hundred more next year. We find not near the amount of brown tail moths this year as last, but all trees have to be looked over, which takes time. The gypsy moth is different. The State men scouted the town last year when the snow was so deep that half the colonies could not be found, so this year the town has about twice as many to fight which will be a large expense. It will require eight to ten thousand trees to be burlapped this spring and tended all summer, in order to stamp them out or keep them down.

If some of the people here that oppose this work would go into some of the other towns and inquire into it they would have a different idea of it. I certainly have taken a great interest in the work, as I have set out about half of our shade trees, and hope no insect will ever kill them when it is within the power of the citizens of Maynard to save them.

L. S. BROOKS,
Superintendent of Moth Work.

Statement of Tree Warden Work
FOR THE YEAR 1907.

Paid Mr. A. Tuttle for 75 trees,	$26 25
for labor,	10 00
Haynes & Co., for lumber,	2 76
Albert Coughlin, for wire and spade,	7 75
L.S. Brooks, for setting trees, wiring them, and trimming and looking after them for the year,	53 00
	$98 76

During the five years I have been Tree Warden I have set out over 400 trees. About all are alive and look well. If it were not for the large appropriation the town is required to raise for moth work, I should recommend a larger amount for this work, but as it is, I think one hundred dollars is as much as should be appropriated. With that sum there can be set out 75 trees and looked after. In a very few years our streets will all have plenty of shade trees.

L. S. BROOKS,
Tree Warden.

Tax Collector's Report.

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen:

Gentlemen—I hand you herewith my report for the year ending February 1st, 1908, covering collection of taxes for the year 1907.

The amount outstanding on the current year is somewhat in excess of the previous year, which is no doubt due to the scarcity of money and the hard times through which we are now passing. The amount has already been greatly reduced since closing the account for the year, so that there is every reason to expect that the greater portion will be paid by early spring.

Regarding the collection of poll taxes, there has been paid 88 per cent. of the number committed for collection, and had it not been for the unsettled condition of business, would have gone considerably in excess of 90 per cent. We expect, however, that the number uncollected will be still further reduced when business obtains to normal conditions.

All real estate tax for 1906 has been paid, except in one instance, and steps will at once be taken to have settlement effected so that the town will not lose through any process of the property changing ownership.

Report of the Board of Fire Engineers

To the Board of Selectmen:

In submitting to you our annual report of the expenditures of this department we feel it our duty to call your attention to the building, which we find needs a great deal of repairing. It requires a coat of paint outside, and also repairing on the inside. There are several leaks in the roof, and it needs shingling very badly.

We would suggest that another door be provided for the Hook and Ladder side, the same as the Hose side now has, the old door being too low and not wide enough for safety.

In regard to putting in new alarm boxes, we believe the best plan to follow is to have the parties who desire them to insert a notice to that effect in the town warrant for the April meeting, as well as naming the place where they are the most needed.

With the increased salaries of the firemen in the department, we recommend as an appropriation for maintenance the sum of twenty-seven hundred dollars.

Report of the Board of Health.

The Board of Health hereby submits the following report :

The past year has been quite free from contagious diseases. The following cases have been reported :

Diphtheria,	5
Chicken-pox,	2
Meningitis,	1
Measles,	1
Tuberculosis,	1

The Board instituted a new system in regard to the collection of garbage and offal. It was decided to have garbage and offal collected by one person, and in consequence of which it was decided to award it to the highest bidder. Geo. E. Whitney was the successful bidder, and a contract was drawn giving him the right to collect for one year under the restrictions laid down by the Board. For this privilege Mr. Whitney gave the town the sum of $150. Mr. Whitney has fulfilled his part of the contract to the satisfaction of the Board. Under this method we are of the opinion a great nuisance has been eradicated.

The report of the Sewerage Committee appointed at the April meeting upon recommendation of the Board will be found elsewhere.

The sewer on Glendale Street had to be relaid and several new manholes were placed.

We earnestly request the co-operation of all property owners and tenants in keeping the town as free from nuisances as possible under existing conditions.

HOWARD HAMBLEN, Chairman,
DENNIS E. SHEEHAN, Sec'y,
ALBERT BATLEY,
Board of Health.

Report of Committee on Sewerage.

The committee chosen at a town meeting held April, 1907, to investigate and report on the subject of sewerage for the town of Maynard, respectfully submits the following report:

Your committee commenced its duties with the belief that a system of sewerage was a necessity for the welfare of the inhabitants of the town. With this end in view, considerable was done by the committee, visiting sewerage plants in nearby towns and cities, among them being Concord, Hudson, Marlboro and Milford. We think it unnecessary to enter into the details of these visits, deeming it sufficient to note our appreciation of the courtesy shown us by the officials in charge of the several plants, and also for the kindness of Mr. F. A. Barbour, of the firm of Snow & Barbour, sanitary engineers, of Boston, who gave considerable time in consultation and went over the ground with the committee without recompense for his services.

After a careful investigation of the needs of the town for sewerage and the necessary expense to establish and maintain the same, we recommend for the present that nothing toward establishing a sewerage system be done. With a large town debt already, and constantly increasing municipal expenditures, we do not feel warranted at the present time in recommending entering upon the tremendous debt incidental to a sewerage system.

To safely defer this matter for the present and to put the the finances of the town in a suitable condition to meet the outlay when it must come, we appeal to all owners of real estate and to all occupants of rented property to co-operate with the Board of Health in its efforts to keep our town in the best sanitary condition possible.

We also suggest and earnestly recommend that the town, commencing with the present year, vote to appropriate the sum of eight thousand dollars ($8,000) to its Water Sinking Fund; that the same may be appropriated yearly until the work of constructing a sewerage system shall have been begun.

By adopting these recommendations, we are practically laying the foundation for the work to be attained in the quickest possible time, safeguarded on business lines.

Report of the Water Commissioners.

To the Board of Selectmen:

The annual report of the Water Commissioners is here-with submitted. The details of the extensions and the maintenance of the work will be found in the reports of the Superintendent and Engineer. The collections from water rates and sundry accounts will be found in the report of the Registrar.

Notwithstanding the fact that $3,377.00 has been expended for new construction and about $1,400.00 at the pumping station for new boiler and piping, without any appropriation this year, there is still a good balance to the account of the department. The Engineer in his report describes the improvements that have been made at the pumping station.

Report of the Water Sinking Fund Commissioners

The amount of money invested in the so-called Somerville property has again been reduced. All the vacant land has been disposed of and there now remains only the store building and the land on which it stands, with a strip about fifteen feet wide in the rear, and the length of the building. The land was sold for 23 1-2c per square foot, and a part of the taxes, making the amount received $2,669.46. Deducting this amount from the valuation as reported in last year's report, leaves the valuation of the remaining portion of the property $5,330.54.

Sinking Fund Commissioners.

Superintendent's Report.

To the Board of Water Commissioners :

Gentlemen—The report of the Superintendent and Registrar, including the report of the Engineer for the year ending January 31, 1908, is respectfully submitted.

SOURCE OF SUPPLY.

Last June there was a very unpleasant taste and odor in the water which caused considerable complaint. The State Board of Health was requested to make an examination of the water and instruct us how to overcome the trouble.

This Board informed us that there was an organism in the water which would soon disappear. We were also informed that nothing could be done to prevent or cure this trouble.

During the heavy rains in the Fall, the water becomes highly colored caused from the surface water entering the conduit line.

CONDUIT LINE.

The pipe has been cleaned of sand and growth from man-hole No. 2 to the receiving wells.

RECEIVING WELLS.

The large suction pipe out of the well has been changed to have it enter the well near the bottom instead of at the high water line. The floor of the round well has been thoroughly cleaned of all sand and growth.

PUMPING STATION.

The roof of the pumping station has been painted and the inside walls whitewashed. The old barbed wire fence has been removed from the front of the station and a new wire fence has been placed to enclose the wells and the tool house. In August the Boiler Inspector's report showed that our boiler No. 2 could not be passed as safe much longer. This boiler was replaced by a new one, the steam piping was changed over, a set of Lamprey boiler furnace mouth protectors were connected to each boiler and a 3-inch safety valve was placed on each boiler. The Engineer's report is referred to for the condition of the plant and the pumping records.

RESERVOIR.

No work has been done at the reservoir except to cut the grass on the embankment.

MAINS.

The leaks which have been repaired on the street mains are one on River street, one on Douglas ave, and one an Sudbury street where the joints were leaking slightly.

EXTENSION OF MAINS.

Dartmouth st.	53	6 "		1

Total	1467 feet		2 valves	4 hydrants

SERVICES.

Most of the eight leaks which have been repaired in the services have occurred in the lead connections. Twelve services have been lowered or packed with wool waste to prevent them from freezing.

During the winter 1906 and 1907, ten services were frozen between the mains and the street line. These were thawed by this department. Seven old services have been relaid and several have been cleaned out.

Mains have been tapped for new services,	35
Reported taps last year,	822
<hr/>
Total taps now in use,	857

METERS.

A meter is placed on every new service and old services are being covered as time will permit.

Ninety-three meters have been placed this year, nine rented meters have been discontinued, making the number of meters now in use 846. There are about one hundred services now which are not metered.

There are eighty meters on hand most of which are old meters.

One hundred meters have been repaired during the year.

HYDRANTS AND VALVES.

The hydrant at the corner of Main street and Great Road has been replaced by a taller one. Four have been taken out for repairs.

New hydrants and valves have been set as follows :

	Hydant	Valves
Douglas ave corner Garfield st.	I	1 6 inch
Douglas ave " Walcott ave	I	1 6 inch
Fairfield st. " Chandler st.	I

Dartmouth st. near C. F. Connors'	I
Garfield st. corner Crane ave	I	1 6 inch
Acton st. " Concord st.		1 4 inch
Summer st. " Parker st.		1 8 inch

There are ninety-six public hydrants now in use.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

At the present time the price of pipe is very low, and I recommend that a quantity, not less than 3,500 feet of 12-inch pipe be bought to commence the reconstruction of the conduit line. I recommend that a metal ceiling be put in at the pumping station in the engine room. This will keep the room warmer and will give a much neater appearance than at the present time. I wish to thank the Commissioners for their hearty support during the year.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM NAYLOR,

Superintendent.

Engineer's Report.

To the Superintendent :

Sir—In submitting my annual report I wish to state that the plant at the pumping station is now as nearly perfect as it is possible to place this type of plant.

During the year the steam piping has been so changed as to conform to modern methods of piping; a new return tubular boiler has been put in; a set of Lamprey Boiler Furnace Mouth Protectors have been connected to each boiler and a 3-inch safety-valve has been placed on each boiler. These new fittings, and the boiler which was placed about two years ago, give a very reliable and economical steam plant.

The stock on hand Feb. 1, 1908: 30 tons of coal, 5 gallons of cylinder oil, 1 barrel of grease, 85 pounds of cotton waste, 15 pounds of valve stem packing, 5 pounds of square flax packing, and 40 pounds of sheet packing.

Report of Sealer of Weights and Measures.

To the Board of Selectmen of Maynard:

Gentlemen—In submitting this report to you for your consideration, allow me to say, the work of this department was delayed considerably this year on account of lack of equipment with which to do the work, but after waiting patiently, some of the tools were finally supplied.

Since that time I have visited the places of business in town and tested, adjusted and sealed the scales, most of which were found in fairly good condition. There is still a little work to be done in the line of testing milk bottles and measures, which will be attended to as soon as convenient.

I have just been instructed by the State Commissioner to seal the computing scales used by some merchants in town. These will be attended to as soon as possible.

Respectfully submitted,

FRED. W. SIMS,
Sealer.

Report of Trustees of Public Library

YEAR ENDING MARCH 1, 1908.

In submitting our report, we are pleased to state that the condition of the library in general is good.

The circulation averages about 400 per week.

During the past year we purchased 158 new books, sold 35, and destroyed by fire, by reason of their being in subscribers' homes when contagious diseases broke out, 10.

We have at this date 4798 circulating books.

From the Green estate we have received within the year a further sum of $89.33, also a quantity of bric-a-brac, there being no historical value connected therewith so far as we can determine, other than that they were secured at various places on the globe. However, in acquiescence to the desire of the donor, we will find a place in our library suitable for them.

We would recommend an appropriation for the ensuing year of $350.00 and balance of dog tax.

Report of School Committee.

To the Citizens of Maynard:

The reports of the Superintendent of Schools, the Principal of the High school, the Supervisor of Music, the Supervisor of Drawing, and the School Physician are appended hereto for your consideration, and set forth the more important details of the progress of this department during the past year.

The school property is generally in good repair, but we wish to comment on several points:

The roof of the Nason street school house has recently been shingled, and the zinc valleys and flashings replaced with copper at a cost of $925.00. The tubes in the boilers in the Nason street building are badly corroded and will soon have to be renewed.

The Bancroft street school house has leaked more or less ever since the building was accepted. The leakage was at first so slight that it was expected that it could easily be remedied; but the building has continued to leak, both in summer and winter, and the leaks have grown worse rather than better. The specifications agreed to by the builder contain these words: "All the roofing is to be first-class, and warranted for one year." The attention of the builder has been repeatedly called to the condition of the roof, and he has made attempts to remedy the difficulty. He now declines to do anything further on the ground that he built the building in the manner prescribed by the architect, and that he is not responsible if it leaks. The committee think that although the year for which the guarantee was made has expired, yet inasmuch as the present leaks are nothing new, but simply a continuation of conditions which were operative during the first year, that it is the place of the builder to make the roof tight, and the fact that it is not tight, must be due to an imperfection either in the plan or construction.

We hope during the coming year to introduce a Commercial or Business course into the High school. The first cost of this will be the greatest. It is our hope to give the pupils who take this course, in connection with their ordinary High school work, an education along commercial lines as good as that given by the best Business Colleges. We refer you to the remarks on this subject, contained in the report of the Principal of the High school.

The committee has recently voted to introduce the system known as the "Six Months Promotion" plan into the schools. This means in brief that each room in the first eight grades is to be in two divisions, and that promotions are to be made from the lower to the higher division in each room, and from the higher division in one room to lower division in the next higher room, every six months. This gives a more elastic system of promotions than the yearly system, and takes account of the fact that of any given number of pupils, there are wide differences in the rapidity with which different individuals can go ahead. The "Six Months Promotion" plan also allows a pupil who is quick to learn, to do a year's work in six months, thereby enabling him to complete the entire course in a shorter time without any real loss. On account of this change the committee has been able to make another, namely, that after this year pupils may be admitted to the first grade both at the beginning and middle of the year.

We ought to remember, however, that good schools do not depend wholly upon good systems, but rather upon good teachers, and that it is impossible to secure the best teachers without paying adequate salaries. Our salaries in the past have been inadequate, and a still further increase in salaries would be beneficial to the schools by enabling us to hold and to secure the best teachers.

It is interesting to make the following comparison as to the cost of our public schools: According to the last Annual Report of the State Board of Education, which is for the school year 1905-1906, page 75, the average taxation cost of the public schools in this Commonwealth for support, in the average membership, was $28.79. This does not include the cost of new buildings or repairs on old buildings. The average cost per pupil in Maynard for the same period of time, for support of school, leaving out repairs, was $24.00. The figures for that year were not unusual, and as the Reports of the State Board of Education have to come out a considerable time after the statistics are gathered, we are not able to give any more recent figures; but there is no reason to suppose that a comparison based on the past year be different, essentially, from like comparisons of other years. We believe that we are maintaining schools as good and possibly better than the average public schools in the Commonwealth at a cost of more than $4.00 per pupil less than the average cost in the Commonwealth.

In view of the necessity of an increase in teachers' salaries, and the cost of establishing a Commercial course, we would recommend that an appropriation of twenty-two thousand five hundred dollars be made for the support of the schools during the coming year, and an appropriation of eight hundred dollars for establishing the Commercial course.

The following is a statement of receipts and expenditures for the school year ending January 31st, 1908.

Superintendent's Report.

To the School Committee:

Gentlemen—My sixth annual report is hereby submitted to you, and through you to the citizens of Maynard.

TEACHERS.

During the year 1907 six teachers resigned, two from the high school and four from the grades, but the number of teachers remained the same. The number of pupils entering school for the first time in September did not warrant the maintaining of four first grades, accordingly one first grade in the Nason Street School was closed.

The large number of pupils promoted to the second, third and fourth grades necessitated the opening of a second grade and a third and fourth mixed at the Bancroft Street School.

Miss Mabel Sawyer was transferred to the charge of the second grade and Miss Rose Wallace was elected to teach the mixed grade.

An over-crowded eighth grade at the Main Street School made it necessary to put a portion of that class into the seventh grade.

“As the teacher, so the school” is a truism that is coming to be more and more recognized each year, and with it comes a constantly increasing demand for professional teaching. The principles of professional teaching may be briefly stated as follows:

First. A knowledge that each child is possessed of feelings and will, and that those feelings and that will may be cultivated by courtesy, firmness, and kindness. A "finicky" teacher will make a "finicky" school.

Second. A thorough and fresh knowledge of the subjects taught. Good scholarship gains confidence and lessens the necessity for outward control. Fifteen minutes of study and preparation before the recitation will save the teacher hours of fretting and worrying after the recitation unless she is possessed of what Mr. Martin calls "genial incompetency" and then she never worries.

Third. A knowledge of the comparative values of subjects taught. This can be gained only by keeping in touch with the recognized authorities on education.

Fourth. A knowledge of the best experience up to the present time. The professional teacher must be familiar with various methods and devices not for the purpose of imitation but for adaptation. She should strive to develop an individuality and to adapt herself to the different conditions in which she is placed.

Fifth. The professional teacher must have had practice. Skill is the result of repeated action. The best plans and methods have often failed because inexperienced and untrained teachers could not use them.

Progressive teachers ought to receive sufficient salaries to enable them to provide for themselves educational books and magazines, to indulge in recreation and travel, and to secure pleasant and agreeable home surroundings thereby making them contented and happy in their work.

During the year the salaries of the grade teachers have been increased fifty dollars and the maximum for assistants in the High school has been raised to six hundred and fifty dollars. The rule adopted last summer requiring all teachers to sign contracts has already proved beneficial to the schools and thus far has not appeared to work any hardship.

THE HIGH SCHOOL.

For the work accomplished in our High school, its approval by the College Entrance Examining Board, and the printing in detail of the courses of study and the standing of pupils who have completed its courses and entered college, I refer you to the report of the Principal. I desire to call your attention to the value of a general High school education and how in our High school that value may be further increased by the introduction of a thorough business course.

A prominent railroad official whose road will employ only men with a High school education in positions that look to promotion says: "It is now so easy to get a High school education in which ones knowledge touches a modern language, geometry, algebra, chemistry, physics and history, that a boy who does not take time to get this much of knowledge says by that very fact that he is more interested in getting a job than in getting ready for it, and that that habit of mind will go with him all through life. He will care more for drawing his salary than for earning it."

"In social life, any young man or woman is today seriously handicapped without at least a High school knowledge of the languages, history and the literary masterpieces. Such a person cannot understand the common references and phrases in the conversation of the social life where well informed people congregate."

Superintendent William H. Maxwell, New York city: "The High school means for its students greater efficiency in the world and higher renumeration for services because of better training. It is the door that opens into any and all of the professions as well as the more extended fields of culture in the university."

Dr. S. L. Dutton, Teachers College, N. Y.: "The High school signifies a better disciplined mind, some knowledge of the great fields of learning, a broader outlook upon life and an-opportunity to participate in the higher grades of human service."

Superintendent G. C. McNeil, Memphis, Tenn.: "In these days two things are of the greatest worth: One is preparation for duty and the other is opportunity. Opportunity is the second fundamental and follows preparation."

Superintendent Everett B. Durfee, Fall River: "The High school signifies that it is the school where the child of the working man feels that he is receiving the same benefits, the same consideration in the preparation for his life work as his schoolmates whose parents are better off in worldly goods, and this should be true no matter what course he selects at school or what the future business of life is to be whether a trade or a profession."

"The prime object of a High school is to round out an unfinished elementary education. The subjects of study which the boy fifty years ago considered cultural are today elementary subjects. Chemistry, physics, algebra, geometry, physiography are the A. B. C. branches of a common industrial education, advanced history, literature, English composition, the ancient and modern languages are the rudimentary subjects for later participation in the so-called professions, and some of those coupled with commercial law, industrial history, bookkeeping, stenography and typewriting are the beginner's preparation for every day business life. That boy or that girl, or the father of that boy or that girl, who decides against more elementary training, or that business man who cries out against the luxury of High schools, is arguing against the veriest minimum that the world is demanding from those who would meet its problems unhandicapped by lack of equipment."

If then the key note of the High school is opportunity, we should make its curriculum broad enough to prepare the student for modern life, modern conditions and modern responsibilities. To do this we must not only have courses that will prepare him for the professions, but we must have equally good courses that will give him a foundation for a commercial or an industrial life.

MANUAL TRAINING.

The recent report of the Massachusetts Commission on Industrial and Technical Education says :

“ City life instead of rural life, life in tenements and flats together with the increase of wealth have combined to deprive great numbers of children of those opportunities for industrial activity which were inseparable from life on the farm. People are everywhere lamenting that there is nothing for their children to do.

“ The children are always receiving and never giving. Food, clothing, shelter, education, amusement—all come to them as freely as the air and the sunshine.

“ The effect of these changes is a one-sided view of life and a wrong attitude toward labor.”

The object then of this increased interest and activity in manual training is to restore the right relationship between manual work and book work and to lay the foundation for an industrial and technical education which this country must give to its youth if it is to compete in a business way with the other nations of the earth.

The advantages of manual training may be briefly stated as follows :

First. It affords some facility in the use of tools and some knowledge of the process by which common materials are bent and fashioned into articles of common use.

Second. It develops manual skill for industrial ends.

Third. It provides rich and varied motor training that increased mental power may result.

Fourth. It provides a rational basis for the study of typical industries.

Fifth. It has a tendency to prolong the school life of our pupils by appealing to their natural instinct in constructive work and especially in that which possesses possible industrial value.

Instruction in drawing and manual training should go hand in hand; drawing for the cultivation of taste and an appreciation of art and manual work for acquiring skill in making useful articles and making them in such a way that they will be artistic as well as useful.

We have already in our schools a well defined course in drawing to which has been added such manual work as our limited means would provide.

Our drawing supervisor thoroughly understands both phases of the work. By the employment of her services another day a week and the furnishing of tools and material, I believe we could institute a course in constructive work for the boys of the upper grades that would supplement their book work and be equally beneficial. I would also recommend the introduction of sewing for the girls.

MEDICAL INSPECTION.

The examination of the eyes and ears as required by law has been completed for the year and the result given below.

The school physician, whose report is appended, has visited the schools whenever called upon and to him has been referred all noticeable cases of physical disability.

The intent of the law is that all children attending school shall be clean of body and clothing and shall be relieved if possible of any physical defects likely to affect their own welfare as well as the welfare of others.

This law is considered the most important legislative act in regard to education that has ever been passed in Massachusetts. The benefits from it have already been far reaching, but the best results can only be obtained when all parents understand its object and lend their assistance in carrying out its provisions.

RESULT OF SIGHT AND HEARING TESTS.

No. of pupils enrolled,	830
No. of pupils having defective sight,	99
No. of pupils having defective hearing,	28

THE STAMP SAVINGS SYSTEM.

The selling of stamps as a means of creating a bank account still continues, but the number sold is much less than the previous year. This is due partly to the scarcity of money and partly to the fact that it has become an old story and requires special effort to keep up the enthusiasm.

The following data gives its standing, Jan. 1, 1908:

Total value of stamps bought of Hudson National Bank,	$1,802 65
Total value of stamps sold the children,	1,739 33
Total value of stamps on hand,	63 32
Number of depositors in the Assabet Institution for Savings,	232

THE SCHOOL CITY.

The plan of putting upon the pupils some responsibility in the general management of the school still continues to produce good results. Visitors to our schools often comment on the good spirit that exists between teachers and pupils. This is not due to the fact that children in Maynard are better or different from those of other places, but is due I believe to the fact that for the past three years the majority of the teachers have been actively interested in promoting a plan whereby the pupils might receive a foundation for becoming good citizens and at the same time might co-operate with them in bearing some of the many school responsibilities.

THE SCHOOL WORK.

The school work for the year has progressed along the line of efficiency. The general aim of the teachers is to secure accuracy; accuracy of thought and accuracy of statement. This is our most difficult problem and must remain so as long as we have in our schools a large number of pupils who come from homes where little if any English is spoken. One innovation is being tried. On Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of each week all pupils not requiring special attention are dismissed at 2.30 p. m. The time 2.30 to 3.30 on Monday is devoted to special instruction in Arithmetic; on Tuesday to Language including Penmanship and Spelling; on Wednesday the hour is given to reading. It has been beneficial along the following lines :

First. It has helped those pupils who found it difficult to grasp a subject in the time devoted to the regular class room instruction.

Second. It has done away with much of the after school work.

Third. It has furnished an incentive to those who could do better work but wouldn't.

Fourth. It will lessen the number of pupils obliged to repeat at the end of the year.

Another year it has been decided to introduce a plan of six months promotion, thereby giving to the brighter or quicker pupils an opportunity to finish their elementary schooling in a less number of years than is now required.

CONCLUSION.

The reports of the Principal of the High School, the Supervisor of Music, the Supervisor of Drawing and the School Physician are appended. The suggestions contained therein are well worthy of attention as they embody the ideas of those who have been especially trained for their different departments.

In closing I desire to express my appreciation of the harmonious relations existing among all those who take an active part in the management of the schools.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN C. MACKIN,

Superintendent of Schools.

Report of the Principal of the High School.

To the Superintendent of Schools:

DEAR SIR—I herewith submit my second annual report of Maynard High school.

At the April meeting of the New England College Entrance Certificate Board, Maynard High school was placed on the trial list of approved schools. Two of the rules of the Board are: "No school will be approved unless it has shown by the record of its students already admitted to college its ability to give thorough preparation for college, or unless it can satisfactorily meet such tests as the Board may establish to determine its efficiency," and "No school shall be placed on the approved list for three years until it has been on the trial list for one year."

The graduates of the approved schools are allowed to enter upon certificates all normal schools and all colleges in New England with the exception of Harvard, Yale, Massachusetts Institute of Technology and Worcester Polytechnic Institute. The certificate is sent to the principal to be signed if in his opinion the applicant is of sufficient maturity and scholarship to pursue a college course.

The continuance of a school upon the approved list depends upon the standing of students sent to the colleges by that school. In order therefore to safeguard the school, if for no other reason, a principal can certificate only such pupils as have by their close application and earnest endeavor attained a good average grade, and from whom he may reasonably expect good reports after entering college. Those to whom certificates are refused may enter by examination the same as if the school were not on the approved list; however, the college then takes the responsibility, and if the student fails to do satisfactory work it will not reflect on the fitting school from which he entered.

Five out of the class of seven graduated last June have entered normal schools and colleges upon certificate, and from all reports received to date their work in these institutions is commendable. The honorary standing in college awarded some of our High school graduates, together with the recognition shown by the colleges in having admitted the school to the approved list should be very gratifying to the school authorities and to all citizens interested in the school's welfare.

A complete outline of the courses of study has been prepared and takes up in detail the subjects taught and the amount of work covered in each. It is hoped that the outline may show to the public the character and extent of work taken in our High school and may thereby greatly assist the parents in selecting subjects to be taken by their children.

I would call particular attention to the change in our modern language course. German being rather more difficult than French for the ordinary pupil, should logically come last. French, therefore, is now taken the first two years of the course instead of the last two, and German may be taken the second and third or third and fourth years. Two years of a modern language are sufficient for college entrance; the third year German has accordingly been dropped from the schedule. All of the other courses have been thoroughly gone over and all changes deemed necessary for a higher efficiency of the school have been made.

Especially in our history and English courses we are not a little handicapped because of not having sufficient reference books, and unfortunately the most of the books to which the teachers would refer their pupils are not to be found on the shelves of the public library. I trust it may be possible for you to give further assistance to the school along this line.

Pupils whose work is not satisfactory are requested to report to the school building for afternoon study that they may receive personal assistance from the teacher in whose subject they are not coming up to the standard required. The afternoon study at the building does not in the least relieve the pupil from home study. Two hours each day devoted to the faithful preparation of work at home ought to be sufficient. Parents should insist upon their children giving this amount of time, otherwise they must consider themselves responsible for results.

The attendance in the High school at this time is larger than at any corresponding period in the school's history. The class entering the ninth grade in September was smaller than usual, but contrary to the general custom, its membership has somewhat increased since entering.

During the spring term the attendance in the ninth grade dropped off to a marked degree. The mill at that time seemed to offer quick employment to all over the age of fourteen, and many of our pupils were over anxious to avail themselves of the opportunity. The number leaving last spring was not larger than the number leaving in other years; nevertheless, it was much larger than it should have been and undoubtedly much larger than was required because of necessitated returns from their labor.

At this time I would again present to you the necessity of introducing a thorough four years business course in our

High school, believing that such a course is required to make the school of its greatest worth to the public. To those who are able to send their children to college, the school is offering every advantage possible in any high school; but to the working man paying the same taxes proportionately as the more fortunate financially, I cannot help but feel that the school with its present curriculum is not of its highest usefulness.

Many parents feeling that it is impossible for them to send their children to normal schools or to colleges, and influenced largely by the desire of the children to be earning wages, allow them to drop their schooling at an early age. The most of these parents would willingly deny themselves to keep their children in school to the completion of the High school course could they expect for them a practical working knowledge of something upon graduation. And to the community, the graduates trained in the commercial branches together with the academic subjects taken would be of an added value that cannot be estimated in mere dollars and cents.

Towns, many of them similar to Maynard in industrial conditions, where the complete business course has been introduced, report an increased attendance of from thirty to fifty per cent. I quote from Mr. J. W. McDonald, agent of the Board of Education :

“That a business course, sensibly arranged and properly conducted increases the attendance in the high school, is the common experience.”

“One principal writes: ‘Our commercial course was introduced four years ago, and the attendance has been increased. The school has increased fifty per cent. in a town of practically stationary population.’ ”

“Another writes: ‘The commercial course is particularly effective in this school in reaching the element not usually interested in the high school. We are able to hold a number of students above the average, and obtain satisfactory results in this course. Such a course is indespensable in a school whose pupils are of the character of ours.' "

"A superintendent writes: 'Many pupils who would receive great benefit from a high school course never go beyond the grammar school, for the reason that they and their parents feel that there is little in the high school that is worth while. The proposed course would draw such in, and once in they can be led to see the value of cultural studies and to take them.' "

To show that these high school business courses are properly fitting their graduates for practical work, I cannot do better than to again quote Mr. McDonald. He says:

"The principals of the high schools that have substantial, efficient business courses all report that their graduates from the business course readily find good positions and that often they cannot supply the demand. Of a large class that was graduated from one high school last June, every pupil was well located before the first of October."

The general feeling held by principals in whose schools the business course is being offered, is that with its introduction there has resulted an increased interest and proficiency in all of the other courses. This tendency to raise the general standing of the school is to be expected, for there are no subjects better adapted than those coming in the commercial course to train the pupil in quickness of thought and careful attention, and to inculcate in them the habits of neatness, accuracy and individual responsibility.

According to available accounts it does not cost as much to educate a pupil in the business course as it does to carry him through the strictly academic branches; therefore, except for the first cost of introduction, the added expense incurred will be in proportion to the increased attendance.

To introduce the commercial branches is not an experiment. You have a right to expect the same results that have come to other towns similar to Maynard as regards industrial conditions where the business subjects have been added to their curriculum. In advocating this addition to our present school work, I do so with a sincere interest in the schools welfare, and fully believe that it will be a means whereby we can reclaim for the school a fair percentage of the children now in the mill and on our streets, and thereby place the high school in a position where it will be of unquestionably greater value to the community.

I wish to express my appreciation of the thorough and conscientious work of the teachers associated with me. I have always found them working for the interest of the school and its individual pupils.

The ready assistance and hearty co-operation I have received from you and the School Board have been very gratifying to me and I can assure you have made my work a pleasure.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN H. SWAIN,

Principal High School.

Report of Supervisor of Music.

To the Superintendent of Schools :

The general aims of school music teaching have been defined in previous reports. This year's work shows progress all through the classes. The tone quality of the children's voices in class singing is greatly improved. It has been found possible to have volume without harshness.

The test records of the sight singing exercises show plainer than words the amount of attention given to individual training in each room. No phase of school music teaching, and I think I may safely say of any other study, has more power to stimulate mental activity or concentration of attention than our individual sight singing tests. In this report I would like to have printed the course of study adopted in our schools. In the class-room, the aim of each essential as it is introduced, also the plan for the method of teaching the same, is first carefully gone over by the supervisor before the class, for the benefit of the regular teacher, who then takes it up and develops it in the daily music lesson.

COURSE OF STUDY.

Grade One. The major scale with syllables and numbers. Staff reading of the first five tones. The first principle in time. Rote songs. The representation and names of the line, space, staff, G clef, bar, double bar measure. The quarter, half, dotted half and whole notes. Individual singing.

Grade Two. The remaining notes of the scale. Staff reading of all the scale tones. The second principle in time, represented by two eighth notes. Rote songs. Individual singing. Written work. Names of lines and spaces.

Grade Three. Staff reading with more difficult melody. Last half of year finding "do" from the key signature. The third principle in time, represented by dotted quarter and eighth notes. Rote songs. Individual singing. Written work.

Grade Four. Names of 15 major keys. All chromatic tones in progression down and back a half-step, using for the representation a sharp and cancel, and if necessary a double sharp. Thorough review in time principles already presented with other representations. Song interpretation. Two part singing. Individual singing. Written work.

Grade Five. All chromatic tones in progression up a half-step and back, using a flat for the representation. The arithmetic of music. The theory of common time. Song interpretation. Musical terms. Two part singing in concert and individually. Written work.

Grade Six. Position of sharps and flats in the signature. The use of the sharp, double sharp, flat, double flat, cancel (or natural). The fourth principle in time represented by three eighth notes (the triplet.) The second form of the triplet, represented by the quarter and eighth notes. The theory of compound time. The sixth time principle represented by four sixteenth notes. The seventh time principle represented by dotted eighth and sixteenth notes. Song interpretation. Two part singing. Individual singing. Written work.

Grade Seven. Review. Syncopation. Song interpretation. Musical terms. Three part singing. Individual singing and written work.

Grade Eight. Song interpretation. The bass clef. Three or four part singing. Individual singing. Reading of tenor part. Sight reading with words. History and biography. Written work.

In the High school the instruction in music at present consists of chorus practice by the whole school.

"Much is being written and said as to the teaching of morals in the public schools. In the music we have a powerful weapon to drive home the great truths of right thinking and noble living." The music readers in your schools provide a great variety of selections of that which is best in text and music that can be procured.

Report of Supervisor of Drawing.

To the Superintendent of Schools :

The formation of character being the aim of our schools, necessitates the selection of subjects which will best bring about the desired end. It is not alone the amount of information regarding one subject that we wish a child to retain, but from his studies to cultivate the power of concentration, patience, originality. It is for this reason that in connection with the work in drawing in the schools more industrial work is being carried on. The manual labor develops, besides the three powers given, taste, accuracy, neatness, interest in community life and honesty.

No defined line can be drawn between the industrial work and the drawing—the first being dependent upon the latter for the plan, measurements, decoration, color—as dependent upon these things as upon the subject of arithmetic. The work might well be called a course in Manual Arts.

It has been the aim to so adjust the work that every child will be interested in what they are attempting, for lack of interest means failure. In the lower grades, one-half of the time allowed for drawing is devoted to the industrial work which takes the form of paper cutting and folding, the topic for the month depicting home, community or school life. In the grades about one quarter of the time allowed for drawing has been given to the construction work; this has been of paper or cardboard, no other material being provided. The following will give an idea of the work accomplished : Envelopes, clipping cases, pen-wipers, needle books, picture holders, brush broom holders, boxes, illustrated books, model of the schoolroom (4th Grade) developed from map of room.

In the eighth grade each child has made a postal card rack, folding the leaves, forming these in folios, backing with muslin and covering. In the end the pupils had a result that was useful and good to look upon.

At the beginning of the school year, there was added to the work in the High school a course in metal work, this being done in the afternoon. Very creditable work has been accomplished thus far considering the lack of equipment. Fobs, pins, candle sticks, trays have thus far been made involving the principles of sawing, raising, stippling. The work arranged for the classes may be found in the outline of the High school course. With the addition of a few tools to the present equipment it would be possible to accomplish much better and more advanced work.

In a visit to the grammar schools last February, Mr. Burnham, Director of Manual Arts in Massachusetts, commended very favorably the neat and cheerful appearance of the rooms, and particularly the orderly condition of the children's desks. Such a commendation is gratifying, and I believe that if there was some provision made, whereby plants could be placed to advantage, the appearance would be still more improved. Flower pots placed on the window sills obscure the light, are in the way and are detrimental to the wood finish. The placing of two brackets beside a window in each room where teachers desire plants, would give ample provision for the purpose and add greatly to the general appearance of the room.

I wish to extend my sincere thanks to the Superintendent and Committee for their encouragement during the year and to extend to the teachers my appreciation of their efforts. It is a pleasure to be associated with such enthusiastic workers.

Respectfully submitted,

MARY J. STICKNEY,
Supervisor of Drawing.

Report of the Medical Inspector.

Gentlemen of the Maynard School Board :

Owing to the comparative newness of the recently passed State law, requiring medical inspection in the public schools, and the unfamiliarity with the interpretation of the same, of necessity the plan has not reached that state of perfection which it should in years to come.

It was understood by the wording of the School Medical Inspection bill, that a physician, or physicians, of repute, should be elected in every town or city by the School Board or otherwise, to have the entire charge of the physical condition of the pupils of the public schools.

The duties of these medical inspectors were not clearly defined, in some places the interpretation of the law being made that an inspection of all the pupils should be made at certain intervals, while in a great majority of places, as in our own town, it was only deemed necessary that the medical inspector should be subject to calls by the superintendent and teachers of the schools.

Both plans have their advantages and drawbacks, and in making this report, I would suggest the following recommendations as a compromise between the two.

1st. That the medical inspector be required to visit each school building at least once a fortnight, and examine at such times only those pupils, whose condition, in the estimation of the teacher, can brook no delay.

2nd. That the medical inspector be required to attend all emergency cases only once a week and if others come up in the meantime, that such be sent to him, rather than that he go to them. (This to apply to each school building).

3rd and last. That the medical inspector act in conjunction with the local Board of Health in all matters pertaining to the fumigation and sanitation of the different school buildings.

In conclusion I would state that the health of all the pupils in your town is remarkably good, and there is a great freedom from many of the ailments which are to be found in other localities, and these conditions are due in no small measure, to the excellent sanitary conditions of the school buildings, as well as to the careful observation of the teachers.

DANIEL GOODENOW, M. D.

CLASS ODE

Tune, "Maryland, Maryland"

Oh, classmates dear, we gather here
So soon to part forever.
Oh, many a pleasant hour we've spent.
In work and play life's joys were sent.
Oh, ne'er forget! Oh, ne'er forget!
The happy days on which we met.

Our teachers dear have all been true,
And made our work so pleasant, too.
In all life's tasks their guiding hand
Has ever been to help our band.
They smoothed the rocks that blocked our way
That we might reach the top to stay.

Oh, let us all on life's road start,
In one accord, the mind and heart,
To do the right whate'er befals,
And take the path where virtue calls.
Aspire to honor, glory, fame,
As each and everyone's fond aim.

And now, dear classmates, when we part,
We shall not go with heavy heart.
The thought of One who rules above
Will guide us on with fervent love
To grasp whatever chance may bring,
Until at last we meet our King.
