DEDICATION

WE OF THE modern world are often accused of neglecting the realm of Fine Arts. Because we live in an age where oftimes we must sacrifice beauty for practicality, and where the material object is the measure of success, we do not always take time to create. In Maynard, however, the desire to create beauty has been re-awakened and has found its fulfillment in Music.

To whom, then, are we indebted for this Musical Renaissance?

Since his arrival in 1953, Mr. Garabedian has worked tirelessly to give this appreciation of beauty to the students of Maynard, and to foster the cultural interests of its townspeople. In doing this, he has placed in the minds of youth and adults alike, a clearer conception of the dignity of the worth of man, and has thus greatly enriched the lives of those with whom he has worked.

It is for this ennoblement of our daily lives, then, that we in gratitude dedicate this SCREECH OWL to you — "Mr. G."

Aloha to the Class of 1959

WE, THE STUDENTS OF Maynard High's Class of 1959, are about to embark on a novel and thrilling journey. Once we have left the comparatively safe harbor of our high school, and begin our journey over the seas of life, we shall meet many new people and places.

The question which is asked and must be answered is — how will we adapt ourselves to our new environment? It is hoped that all of us, through the guidance of parents, teachers, and other friends will be able to meet these new challenges with preparedness and joyful anticipation.

With these thoughts in mind we have chosen for the theme of our yearbook, Around the World in 80 Days. By analogy we have tried to show the preparation of the past four years — our work, our fun, our teachers, our classmates — in sum, our high school memories.

We are convinced that this preparative training — this working together in studies and activities — has laid a solid foundation on which we shall be able to build, with confidence, a firm and secure future.

MR. ALBERT LERER
Superintendent of Schools

To the Class of 1959

I EXTEND my most sincere and heartfelt congratulations upon your graduation from Maynard High School.

There was a time when it was felt that the opportunities for success in life were gradually disappearing. Nuclear developments and world-wide changes of the past few years, however, have proven that we have just begun to recognize the real opportunities that exist around us. Never was there so much for so many;— for those who are prepared.

The key to successfully meeting this challenge is unquestionably tied to education. Your diploma is symbolic of the first real step in the preparation for the tasks ahead of you.

Having laid the ground work by encouraging you to develop strong bodies and alert minds, we now pray that through divine guidance and the realization of the concern of your families and friends, you will strive to excel in your chosen fields so that the light of your success will reflect joy and happiness on those who love you.

Good luck and God Bless You.

High School Principal

To the Class of 1959

I AM HAPPY to offer my congratulations to the Class of 1959.

You have reached an important milestone in your lives; the high school diploma is becoming more and more an essential element of our society. I know that your days at Maynard High School have given you the firm basis in general education needed in life.

You will now proceed in different directions. May the lessons you have learned in your homes, your churches, and your schools be your guides for the future. May you have the personal courage, no matter what the odds, to distinguish between right and wrong. Tainted glory is fleeting; success based on the thin shell of expediency will crumble. True happiness and peace of mind are the results of hard work. May this happiness and God's blessings be yours.

SENIOR WEEK:

JUNE 8 CLASS OUTING

JUNE 10 CLASS NIGHT

JUNE 14 GRADUATION

Time — 1979

Ralph and Roy Nelson have amassed their fortune. At last they are about to take their long-awaited trip around the world. They say good-bye to Helpful Hannon, the butler, and are driven away by their chauffeur, John P. Malcolm, Esquire.

As they arrive at Logan Airport, they hear the enchanting voice of Vinny Buscemi announcing the departure of their flight.

Boarding the plane, they are greeted by hostess Marianne Donaghue and introduced to the pilots Anthony Kavaleski and Joe Corriveau, upon whose skill their lives depend.

Sitting across from them is no other than Sandra Koski, an accomplished lawyer, and her client, Lois Eley, who has been wrongly accused of reckless driving.

They make a short stop-over in Iceland, where the twins rent a car from the Hilli rent-a-car service. Because they are low on gas, they go into a Pink Sunoco Gas station owned by Sally Boeske and Heather Jenkins.

While touring the business district, they are approached by David Holt who sells them a bottle of Instant Heat, which is considered a great necessity in Iceland. This is one of the remarkable inventions of the well-known scientist, Joe Graceffa.

At last they arrive at their destination, London. They check in at the Hatler Stilton Hotel, where they are greeted by manager Walter Crowther and his faithful secretary, Karen Grandell. Their bags are carried to their room by head bell boy, Wayne Katvala.

They spend the evening in the lobby chatting with an old friend and world-famous author, David Spratt, whose book, The Secret Life of Doty Murphy, has just gone over the million mark in sales.

After touring England, they are driven to the airport by Robert Bradbury, taxi driver.

The next stop is Denmark. The Nelsons decide to take in a Danish ballet, conducted by the great director, Teddy Kauppi, with background music of Ray Buscemi's drums. Featured in the evening's performance is Twinkle-Toes Harrington. Also starring is the ballet sensation of the year, Lenny Melanson. There they meet Bunny Engelhardt, who tells them she is happily living on a house-boat in Holland.

Upon leaving the theater, they are almost hit by a car driven by Roger McGlashing, who has recently received his license through the Crotty-Manning Auto School.

Their next stop is gay Parce. Anxious to see the Eiffel Tower, Roy and Ralph make that their first visit. On the top they notice the great artist, Gary Armour, who is busily painting a bird's-eye view of the Parisian sidewalk.

That evening they dine at the Chez Jean, owned and operated by that well-known food expert, John White.

Sitting across from them is the famous swimmer who has recently swum the Assabet River, Sandra Gunn, and her publicity agent, Pat Manuel.

They are entertained by Miss Constance Lowell, who sings for them in her golden voice, "La Vie en Rose."

On leaving the restaurant, they come upon David Kuleisus, who is selling newspapers. They buy the Barilone Bulletin, published by Paul Barilone and edited by Earl McPhee. They sit down to read it in the park. The headline is: MISS JOAN NYHOLM OF THE UNITED STATES HAS JUST BEEN CHOSEN MISS TUNA FISH SALAD OF 1979. They are very proud of their old class-mate for her great accomplishment.

Next they turn to the sports section. In it is the news that Leigh Robinson has been selected as the first woman ever to be on a professional football team. She is to play for the Boston Bull-Dogs, which is coached by Bruce Koskinen. Also in the sports section are the results of the Olympic games. Nancy Charpentier has broken the world record for the 100-yard dash.

They then turn to the stock market page. The twins see that the Chew-Chew Bubble Gum Industry, owned by Judy Kane has gained two points, and that the Swan Soap Company, owned by Paul Chyzus, is off $1\frac{1}{2}$. As they turn the page, they see a picture of Clark Smith and Billy Shaw. They have just won the soap-box derby in Moscow.

The next day they fly to Germany. On board the plane they have a chat with Judy Rutkowski and Jean Lorentson, who are running a charm school in Paris. The boys tell them how sorry they are not to be able to attend their classes, but they have to go around the world in eighty days.

That evening they go to a banquet in honor of Professor Martin Thomas French, and his aide, John Kavaleski. They have just completed plans for the construction of a great mouse trap operated by an atomic brain.

The lecturer of the evening is Joan Ferguson, who speaks about John Primiano's recent flight to Mars.

Attending the banquet is Audrey Malcolm, who, to their surprise, is a bull fighter.

The next stop on their world tour is Venice, Italy. After enjoying a supper of pizza at the Laskowsky-Norton Pizza House, they take a tour of Venice in a gondola while listening to the sweet music of their gondoleer, Dennis Lombard.

Because Ralph wants to go to China, they make that their next stop. There they are driven by a swift rickshaw runner, Raymond Mikkonen, to an orphanage run by social worker, Ed Mullin. There their old friend tells them of the progress being made by Denise Murphy and Doty Hatfield, who have devoted their lives to spreading Woman Suffrage throughout China.

After seeing China, the twins fly to Africa. The hostess on their African flight is Elaine Joyal. They have been invited to stay at the beautiful tea plantation which is owned by John Bubnowicz. There they meet his chief Tetley-Tea Taster, Jesse Pieciewicz, who is frantically searching for tiny tea leaves.

On that particular weekend, the African Girl Scouts, under the leadership of Barbara Littig, are holding a council on a nearby plantation. The twins are fortunate enough to have been invited to the council, where the speakers are to be Leena Saastamoinen (who is to speak on lion training), and Karen Keto and Brenda Mariani, who are to speak on their work as nurses in the heart of the African Jungle under the direction of Dr. Albert Schweitzer.

Before leaving the African airport they are assured a safe flight because master mechanics Wayne Chandler and Jimmy Brooks have completely checked over the plane.

Their next and final stop before going home is Hawaii.

While on the sunny beaches of Waikiki, Ralph and Roy overhear Larry Colleton interviewing a beach-ball salesman, Stanley Zaleska. Larry is gathering information for his forthcoming novel . . . The Rough Road to Success.

That evening they are invited to a Hawaiian luau, given by millionaire playboy Bo Wattu. There they meet the glamorous movie star, Donna Leate, whose film, "Pebble Without a Cause" is soon to be released.

At last it is time for them to return home. On their arrival at the airport in Boston, they are met by a crowd of reporters who are anxious to hear about the twins' thrilling experiences.

In the lobby of the airport, they are interviewed by Susan Wilcox, foreign correspondent for the Barilone Bulletin. They tell her that everyone in their class has been successful in his chosen vocation. And why shouldn't they be . . . after all, they are graduates of Maynard High.

OUR LOG

One dreary, rainy morning, in September of 1955, a bewildered mass of humanity crossed the threshold of Maynard High School to undertake that learning which was to mold them into mature individuals.

Our first few hours were rather hectic ones; in fact, so were our first few days! But, slowly, with the help of upperclassmen who willingly and proudly showed us the way, we became an important part of Maynard High School.

One of our first tasks as a united body was to elect class officers. Chosen to lead our class were: John White, President; Heather Jenkins, Vice President; Audrey Malcolm, Secretary and Thomas French, Treasurer.

Shortly after the opening of our school season we were officially initiated into high school at the "Welcome Freshman Dance."

As the year progressed, the Student Council was formed and the following were elected to represent our class; Karen Grandell, Sandra Gunn, Cyril Spratt and James Brooks.

Another event of our Freshman year that the girls, at least, shall long remember was the initiation into the Junior Women's Club, followed by frenzied planning and scheming for that important event—the J. W. C. Dance. Head for the hills, Boys!

To boost the morale of the beaux of our class, the following belles were chosen as cheerleaders: Carol Laskowsky, Heather Jenkins, Karen Grandell, and Judith Byrne.

Our Freshman year came to a climax with a wonderful day spent at Nantasket Beach. Remember the weather?

Midst tales of summer vacation we plunged into our Sophomore year. To lead our class we selected: John White, President; Heather Jenkins, Vice President; Audrey Malcolm, Secretary and Thomas French, Treasurer. Also chosen for positions on the Student Council were: Karen Grandell, Judy Byrne, Edward Mullin and Walter Crowther.

Among the outstanding events in our Sophomore year was the May Day Festival in which many of our classmates participated. Do you remember our Square Dancing days?

Before we could wink an eye, our class outing was upon us. Our destination, of course, was Nantasket Beach. Although we had been there before, we all looked forward to another enjoyable trip. And so it was!

In September we returned as upper-classmen, ready for another busy year.

The first item on the agenda was the election of class officers. They were as follows: John White, President; Heather Jenkins, Vice President; Audrey Malcolm, Secretary, and Walter Crowther, Treasurer. Remember when we almost lost Heather and Karen became Vice President?

One of the most exciting days in high school was the day we received our class rings which officially made us upper-classmen. Of course, we proudly displayed our rings to all around us.

We also had the pleasure of electing our Student Council members that year. Those chosen to represent our class were: Karen Grandell, Judith Byrne, Edward Mullin, and James Brooks.

That year the Dramatic Club presented a play entitled "The Bat" in which our class was well represented by Karen Keto, Karen Grandell, Vincent Buscemi and David Kuleisus.

In November, at a solemn ceremony, the school's highest honor was bestowed on five members of our class when Elaine Joyal, Karen Grandell, Judith Byrne, Karen Keto and Walter Crowther were inducted into the National Honor Society.

From among the many girls in the Junior Class, Judith Kane was selected for Girls' State and Karen Grandell was chosen as alternate. Edward Mullin and Walter Crowther were selected from among the boys to go to Boys' State and their alternate was Clark Smith.

The decorations of a hard-working and enthusiastic Prom committee helped to make this memorable affair one of the most extravagant proms Maynard High had ever witnessed. The theme and atmosphere were Hawaiian. The night was called "Aloha." The evening's Queen was Leena Saastamoinen. Her gracious court included: Audrey Malcolm, Betsy Fouratt, Sandra Gunn, Constance Lowell, Karen Grandell, and Susan Wilcox.

To climax that wonderful week-end we attended the annual Sport Banquet, at which Cyril Spratt and John White were chosen to captain our gridiron favorites in the coming year.

Once again "Nantasket Beach Time" brought a busy year to its close.

At last our big year arrived! We were the "upper" upperclassmen of the school. Boy, we had finally made it! Realizing all the work ahead of us we elected our senior class officers who were to guide us through our final year. The following were chosen: Walter Crowther, President; Heather Jenkins, Vice President; Karen Grandell, Secretary and Edward Mullin, Treasurer.

Our year commenced with the annual "Welcome Freshmen Dance" at which time it was our pleasure to welcome the bewildered newcomers.

The class must have been pleased with the work of our Student Council members of the previous year, for they were unanimously re-elected. At a National Honor Society program, Judith Kane and Larry Colleton were inducted into the Society, thus joining the other five as outstanding leaders of our class.

In spite of the heavy study program prescribed for Senior year there was still room for extracurricular activities. The "Senior Sno-Ball" provided just the right touch to lift our weary spirits.

As our year slowly came to a close, we looked forward with anticipation to the forth-coming events. The Junior-Senior Prom stood high on the list. Then the greatest week of all four years — Graduation, Class Night, and the Class Trip.

As a parting word we would like to thank Maynard High School for the many wonderful ways in which it has enriched our lives. To the teachers, for their untiring devotion, our heart-felt thanks. And we know that whatever role in life our classmates may choose, they will be successful and will never forget Maynard High School — our Alma Mater.

FOOTBALL - 1958

As August was fading lazily into September, people who rode by the beautiful Maynard High School football stadium, Alumni Field, saw several young gentlemen in shorts running around the cindertrack. They wondered why these boys were doing all the exercises.

September first came, and those people saw even more activity. Its source? — A squad of boys dressed as football players and working very hard to become gridiron stars. During the next four weeks, these forty boys, led by their two able captains, White and Spratt, became tough young men because of the drills they were put through by Coaches DeRosa, Start and Kulevich. These young gentlemen, after twenty-eight days of hard work, formed the 1958 Maynard High School football team which was looking forward to tackling a tough nine-game schedule.

Then September twenty-eighth came. These same people were riding by Alumni Field and decided to stop to see what the commotion was at the mighty coliseum. They found out!

From the first game to the very last game of the schedule Maynard fought hard and nearly always emerged victorious. The victories were due to very fine teamwork and to a tremendous desire to win. The backfield and the line fought together as a unit to win six games, including the one with Concord whom they had not defeated in eighteen years. Just as hard-fought were the two games in which the fighting Maynard team went down to defeat.

And those who had been riding by Alumni Field in August, and who went to the games, know now that they witnessed one of the best football teams in the history of Maynard High School.

Maynard High School's basketball team began practicing the day after the football season finished. The main objective for the 1959 team was to start the ball rolling and win some ball games to break the bad luck streak that dogged last year's team. The squad practiced diligently under the able direction of Coach William Formosi but ran into some hard luck and some good ball clubs that set them back.

Maynard finally broke the string of some twenty straight losses when they walloped Hale High of Stow. The team also beat Clinton to tie for fourth place in the Midland League. Although the club lost by heavy scores, it never lost its spirit and will long be remembered as a hustling club. High scorer for the season was Doug DeRosa.

The J.V.'s had a fairly good season, winning five and losing seven, thus taking sole possession of third place in the League. Several of these boys show very good promise for future seasons.

THE CHEERLEADERS

At the end of each year girls are selected from the Freshman class to become cheerleaders and thus fill the vacancies left by the graduating seniors. These girls work all summer to be ready for the football season. In addition to cheerleading at all games, these girls are asked to solicit ads and collect for other causes which will benefit the sports organizations.

A cheerleader must exhibit, above all, the fine qualities of good sportsmanship. She must remember that her behavior reflects upon her home, school and town, and to a great extent determines the behavior of the fans. Cheerleading, then, is a responsible job and a vital part of any sports activity.

The cheerleaders this year are: Carol Laskowsky, captain; Judy Byrne, Karen Grandell, Patsy Barry, Mary Bakun, Marion Murphy, Sandra Sluyski, Judy DeGrappo, Sandra Melanson and Mary Lee Darcy.

The opening of the 1958 Maynard High School Field Hockey season climaxed weeks of long and arduous practice. Under the direction of Miss Martha Whittemore, the Black and Orange met their opponents on the field with the confidence and the determination needed for a successful season. The Varsity, captained by capable Leigh Robinson, went all-out in the effort to bring victory to Maynard High. Exhibiting excellent teamwork and close co-ordination, the team overcame all their opponents with the exception of Bedford and Concord. After playing two exciting but scoreless games with Bedford, and having been edged out in the last five seconds of their game with Concord, the Black and Orange ended their season with four wins, two ties, and one loss.

The Junior Varsity, captained by Beverly DeGrappo, had an exceptional season, losing only to Concord in the last few seconds of the game. The Junior Varsity's final record was six wins and one loss.

Among the top scorers of the season were Judy Byrne and Mary Bakun of the Varsity and Arlene Chyzus, Judy Martino and Anne Martucci of the Junior Varsity.

At the start of the '58-'59 Maynard High School Girls' Basketball season the team had one objective—to beat Concord. Most of the members of this year's squad were two and three-year veterans who had seen the realization of this hope vanish year after year. The all-important game with Concord found the girls tense and excited, but eager with the determination to win. The game was hard-fought on both sides with each team exhibiting cleverness and adroitness, and an almost professional accuracy. Concord seemed to be overpowering, and Maynard, trailing by ten points during the final quarter, seemed doomed. Then the long-hoped-for phenomenon occurred. The Black and Orange, capably captained by the skillful Leigh Robinson, began to click, scoring basket after basket, point after point. The final score—Maynard 36, Concord 33. For the first time, the Black and Orange girls had beaten Concord, our nemesis of many years.

Maynard, fighting hard throughout the whole season, ended up in a three-way tie with Hudson and Marlboro for the Midland League Championship. The over-all record for the varsity was four wins and three losses.

The Junior Varsity, unbeaten and untied, has shown great promise of future championships at Maynard High School. This unbeaten team was captained by the versatile Sandra McDowell.
