Computer pioneer joins Digital team

Maurice Wilkes has accepted a permanent full-time position as staff consultant in Corporate Research. Known as the father of microprogramming and the developer of the EDSAC (the first operational stored-program computer), he was the guest of honor who delivered the inaugural lecture at the opening of Digital's Computer Museum last fall.

A scientist and engineer of world reputation, Wilkes is one of the handful of men who originated the modern computer. He was personally responsible for construction of EDSAC 1, which was working in May 1949. Some of the concepts first proposed by him, such as microprogramming, have continued to grow in importance. Today virtually all computers manufactured in the world are designed using this technique.

For the last 35 years, he worked at

Can computers create art?

Leonard Cohen uses a tiny computer-controlled robot to create artwork. He will explain his technique at Digital's Computer Museum Sept. 23. (See page 5).

Bornstein fills new Personnel post

Larry Bornstein has been named associate manager of Personnel according to Shel Davis, vice president of Personnel. Larry, who has been with Digital for eight years, will work along side of Shel Davis; a two-person in the box arrangement. His appointment is effective at the end of September.

In this newly-created position, Larry will be responsible for the development and implementation of manage-

Parker St. helipad moved temporarily

During construction of the new Parker Street helipad on the rise at the edge of the woods, the flight path of copters has to be altered for safety reasons, (to avoid flying directly over workers' heads). Therefore, effective Monday, September 15, copters will be using a temporary landing area in the parking lot to the left of the existing helipad.

Cast of thousands stands behind VAX

An estimated 2200 Digital employees posed behind a VAX computer Wednesday Sept. 4 on the lawn in front of Parker Street. Overhead, first in a helicopter, then leaning from the uplifted bucket of a "cherry picker" truck, freelance photographer Leon Kuzmanoff shot the photos that will soon appear in ads for Digital's Customer Services. Volunteers came from Maynard, Bedford, Sudbury, Tewksbury and as far away as Merrimack. A few employees in town on business from more distant sites (such as Puerto Rico and Geneva) also took part in the photo session.

As a thank you to everyone who participated, Customer Services will distribute reprints of the ad as soon as they are available, probably in about two months.

Using five motor-drive Nikon-F cameras, Leon shot over 450 pictures in 31 minutes. As Leon shot, his assistant reloaded the cameras and took photos of Leon in action. Meanwhile, Digital photographers and a videotape crew from Media Services documented the event from the rooftop and the ground.

For the organizers, the day's drama centered around assuring that a VAX would be on hand. They would have preferred just a cabinet, explains Roger Bentley, marketing communications manager for Customer Services. But with the machines in high demand and tight production schedules, it was

Employee discount

Employees can participate in selected fitness programs at the Harvard Ridge Pool Club in Boxboro at 10-15% discount. The programs include family night, running clinic, pre-natal fitness class and women's fitness class. For further information, contact Sue Damitz at (617) 779-2702.

easier to borrow an entire machine than to have half a machine built to order. So they got a VAX on one-day loan from Salem Systems Manufacturing.

Thanks to elaborate preparations, everything ran smoothly. In two dry runs, they made calculations, checking the angle, depth and width of field of various lenses, determining how the area should be laid out and going over details of crowd control and security.

Leon was no stranger to helicopters and unusual photo assignments. Once he had to shoot tied horizontal on a platform hanging by four ropes from a helicopter. The client wanted a shot of an elaborate farming operation. By hanging over the edge of the platform and using a fisheye lens, Leon was able to get a shot that showed a full 360° horizon, with the farm in the middle.

'Who' really is on first

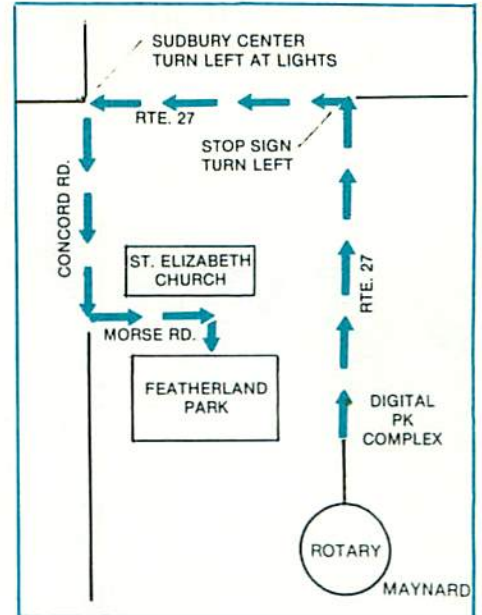

Bill Eash has disclosed his full roster of 21 players and Al Bertocchi a partial roster of eight players for the upcoming United Way softball game. To show their support for the United Way campaign, representatives from the Operations Committee and the Technical OEM Group will play their second annual softball game, starting at 5:30 p.m., Tuesday, September 23, at Featherland Park in Sudbury (see map).

Secrecy surrounds the selection of the remaining Op Committee team members. Some speculate that the entire team has been selected and that the unnamed players have been practicing intensively at a training camp in the mountains. Others say that recruiters have been holding tryouts throughout the company. When asked about these rumors, team captain Al Bertocchi declined to comment. Asked about possible recruiting rules violations, he answered, "What rules?"

(Rumor has it that Bertocchi himself is a ringer. He used to play third base in the Quincy Organized Softball League, and his team won the New England Softball Championship -- a mere 30 years ago).

Everyone is welcome to attend. An announcer will provide play-by-play commentary over a public address system. Hot dogs and hamburgers will be on sale; and, based on a drawing, two attendees will receive pairs of tickets to the Patriots-Jets game on November 2.

Featherland Park is about three miles from Parker St. (10 minutes in 5 p.m. traffic). Morse Rd. is the first left off Concord Rd.

Jogging trail named

How do you get to Every Which Way? Just follow the Yellow Brick Road, then go down the Primrose Path...

The trail names chosen for the jogging path at Parker Street will make for some colorful and unusual directions: Yellow Brick Road, Marshland Loop, Northwest Passage, Every Which Way, Off the Beaten Path, Lady Slipper Lane, Nature's Way, Pine Tree Path, Woods Meeting, Primrose Path and Short Circuit.

Jogging path closed

Due to the temporary relocation of the helipad at Parker Street, the jogging path will be closed for the season. Helicopter pilots taking off and landing cannot see joggers or walkers entering or exiting from the main path and, as a result, there is potential danger to jogging path users. PLEASE AVOID THIS AREA.

Boston softball up and running

Anny Cooper of the Boston Plant takes a throw from third baseperson Petronia Jenkins to put out a Polaroid runner at the plate. Digital eventually lost in a close game, 7-5, played in Medford August 12.

Now seasoned veterans of three months, the 22 players of the Digital Boston Softball Team have taken on the likes of Polaroid, University Hospital, Stop & Shop and Pug's Pub. They are still looking for their first victory, but have fared well against established teams that were champions in their own leagues. After getting a late start (the plant just officially opened in July), the team has improved steadily, under the leadership of Coaches Chuck Roberts (Production Supervisor) and Herod Shelley (Lead Security Guard).

Merit Exams set for Oct. 21 & 25

Children of all full-time employees can compete in the Digital National Merit Scholarship Program, provided they take the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (PSAT/NMSQT) given in the fall of their junior year of high school.

National Merit has set two dates, October 21 and 25 on which high schools may schedule the exam. Students should check with their guidance counselor to determine which date their school will use.

National Merit sends applications for scholarships to semi finalists in the fall of their senior year. Digital does not distribute applications.

For further information about the Digital National Merit Scholarship Program, contact Donna Spencer, DTN 223-5320.

How to manage distributed data processing

Managers often have to make decisions as to what computing resources to use to solve business problems. A three-day non-technical seminar "Management Control of the Distributed Computing Environment" (Oct. 1-3 at Bedford) will provide such managers with tools for evaluating whether distributed data processing (DDP) meets their needs. It also will suggest steps to insure that distributed data processing matches their business structures.

Areas to be covered include: organizational impact of DDP, features/benefits/opportunities matrix, office automation in the distributed environment, the DDP decision matrix, risk management of DDP, pitfall, cost occurrence vs. frequency of occurrence, and the changing roles of the data processing manager and staff.

Seminar leaders are Donald T. Winski, general manager, Management Information Services, Scallop Corp., a Royal Dutch/Shell Group Co.; and Michael O'Connell, manager of long range planning for Educational Services at Digital.

This seminar is open to managers in any discipline. To register or for further information, call the Seminar Registrar, DTN 223-2858.

the University of Cambridge, England, as head of the Computer Laboratory. He and his wife have relocated from England to the Maynard area, as he now begins a new stage in his distinguished career.

Wilkes is a Fellow of the Royal Society, a Fellow of the Institution of Electrical Engineers, a Fellow of the British Computer Society (of which he was the first President), a foreign associate of the U.S. National Academy of Engineering and a foreign associate of the U.S. National Academy of Sciences. He has received honorary doctorates from five universities in three countries.

Can computers create art?

To demonstrate the artistic potential of computer-generated graphics and artificial intelligence, the Digital Computer Museum is holding a lecture and demonstration by Harold Cohen on Tuesday, September 23 at 5 p.m.

Cohen, a professor at the University of California, San Diego, creates his works using a PDP-11/45, a Tektronix display terminal and a 'turtle' (small mobile robot) that draws from directions from a sonar navigation system. Cohen's program, which steers the turtle, can differentiate between figure and ground, open and closed forms, insiderness and outsiderness and other cognitive constants. The rules it follows refer to what has been completed, with some randomizing to provide variety. Using these techniques, he created a nine foot by seventeen

He has had several Personnel assignments here, including working on the corporate staff and building major Personnel organizations in the Technical Group and the

Employees hold racquetball tournaments

Thirty-six employees participated in the second Digital Racquetball Tournament, held Aug. 25-28 at the Wayside Racquet & Swim Club in Marlboro. Trophies went to the winners and runners-up in three divisions, as follows: Men's A -- Bob Rehler (Northboro), Doug Herron (Hudson); Men's B -- Mike Lorian (Hudson), Dave Bunzow (Hudson); Women's -- Gloria Wilder (Parker Street), Jane Rehler (Parker Street).

Another tournament is being planned for mid-October at Wayside. You do not have to be a member of the Wayside Club to participate. Some players are also interested in forming a Digital racquetball league. For further information, contact John Pinho, HL1-1/E03, DTN 225-4556.

To further show what can be done with computer-generated graphics, the Museum is now holding an exhibition of 45 works representative of the development of this art form over the last 20 years.

Fun Run reminder

The United Way Run for Fun will take place Tuesday, September 16 (rain-date September 19), noon to 1 p.m., starting at the visitor's entrance to PK3. Food will be on sale outside by the shipping dock. For further information, contact Donna Spencer, DTN 223-5320.

former Win Hindle group, an organization which consisted of six product line groups," states Shel Davis. He notes that Larry's exposure to Personnel includes compensation and benefits, facilities management, site development, Personnel administration, employment, Affirmative Action and organizational development.

Larry's most recent assignment was group Personnel and Facilities manager for the Technical Group. He has been in this position since 1978, when the company reorganization aligned the product line groups into the three current organizations: Computer, Commercial and Technical. He joined Digital as Corporate Compensation and Benefits manager in 1972.

Are you involved in health care?

Digital is looking for ways to help contain the cost and improve the quality of health care in the communities where it operates.

As a first step, John Rosala, manager of health care planning, Corporate Compensation and Benefits would like to find out what employees and spouses of employees participate on boards of directors of hospitals, health maintenance organizations (HMOs), health systems agencies (HSAs) and other organizations that address health care issues. Depending on the level of interest, a planning session may be scheduled for such people to discuss key health care issues and Digital's health-related activities.

If you are interested in participating or know someone else at Digital who would be, please call John Rosala, DTN 223-5064 or (617) 493-5064.

Horseshoe tournament to benefit United Way

A roundrobin horseshoe tournament, to be held on the newly constructed horseshoe courts beside PK1, will benefit the United Way. Teams consisting of two members, preferably representing a department or group, will play during the week of Oct. 6-9 from 11:30 a.m. - 1:30 p.m. To advance to the next round, a team must win two out of three matches.

Teams must obtain a minimum of five sponsors, pledging at least $1 each to the United Way, to participate in the tournament. The total amount of money collected by each team must be submitted with the pledge sheet in the form of a check payable to "United Way" no later than September 26. All monies collected will be matched by Digital.

Play will follow the official rules of the National Horseshoe Pitchers Association, which means that women may stand ten feet closer to the stake than men.

Winners will receive gift certificates: $25 for each member of the first place team and of the team with the highest dollar pledge amount, and $15 to each member of the second place team. A trophy with the winning team's name will be displayed in the trophy case at PK1.

For further information, send the following coupon to Donna Spencer, PK3-1/C38.
