SAVED BY THE BELL

Season 4: Episode 08: Save That Tiger

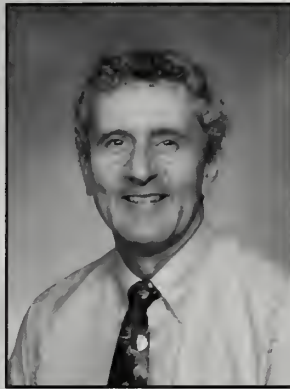

Administrative Staff

What is the best, funniest or lamest excuse you have heard or used for not having homework or an assignment in on time?

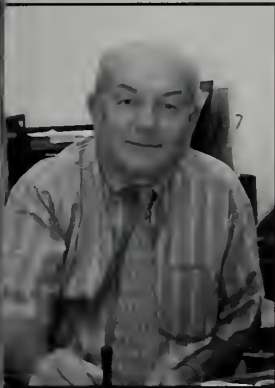

Dr. Mark Masterson
Superintendent

I don't have any really memorable one.....

Daniel Mayer
Assistant Superintendent

The funniest excuse: "What homework assignment?"

John Lent
Principal

A student who was on vacation during school time did the extended assignment as required by the parents, but when the student returned to school, they did not have the assignment. The luggage did not arrive back with them. So the assignment was turned in a few days late.

Arthur Dulong
Interim Principal

I once had a student not turn in work because Dad accidentally took his book to Kenya on a business trip.

Michael Graceffa
Athletic Director

"I made a paper plane out of it and it got hijacked."

Michael Testa
Assistant Principal

About 5 years ago I had a student pass in work that was half destroyed and therefore half done... She lived on a small farm and her goat had actually eaten part of the worksheet.

Linda Koskinen
Administrative Assistant

"I didn't do it because I didn't want to add to my teacher's already heavy work load."

Pam Carter
Administrative Assistant

The dog ate it!

Faculty & Staff

What is the best, funniest of lamest excuse you have heard or used for not having homework or an assignment in on time?

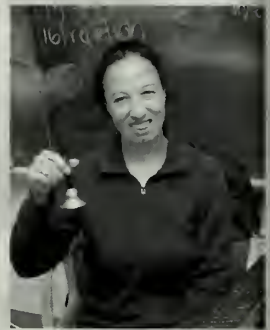

Jennifer Adams

Lamest excuse: "I didn't know what the homework was", as they're sitting in front of the board, with the homework assignment written on it..

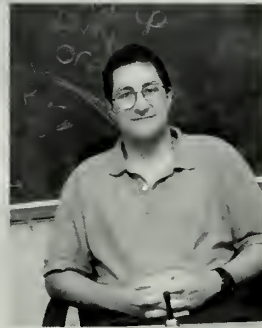

Deb Andrade

"I have a solar powered calculator and it was cloudy".

Patty Brennan

"Galileo didn't know calculus; what do I need it for?"

Steve Caloggero

"My little brother ate it."

Kevin Caruso

I like when the kids say its in their locker and ask if they should go get it and when they come back, they try to sneak in the room.

Laurie Edgar

"I didn't do it, because I didn't want the other kids in class to look bad."

Cindy Erickson

I have two beauties that I swear kids tried to use on me.

1. "I couldn't do it because it was my grandmother's 100th birthday" (The problem was that I had notes from the previous two years that this gradmom had been 100 several times before).
2. "She couldn't do her homework last night because we had previous obligations" signed Laurs's Dad. I asked why her Dad didn't sign his name and she insisted he always signed it that way.

John Flynn

"Too many excuses to remember just one."

Shannon Gallant

My favorite excuse was: My sister was in the hospital having a baby.

Maureen Giacobbe

The best excuses I have heard were, "My file got corrupted" or I attached it to my email, but it's not there."

Faculty & Staff

Fern Green

My homework flew out the car window.

Jon Green

"I couldn't find my mind.... I was sure I had it backed up on a disk somewhere, but I just couldn't find it."

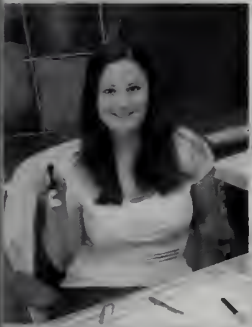

Sandi Hannon

Excuse: "I left my homework at home." (meanwhile the incomplete homework, textbook, and notebook has been left in my room over night by the student)

Terry Herring

The worst story I've ever given was during a Northeast black out on Nov. 9, 1965, I think I was about 12. I could not do my homework because we had no power. That meant no lights, or heat!!! I remember it was really cold, and my Dad had to light a fire in our fire place. I'm pretty sure I volunteered to give him my homework to get the fire started.

Danielle Iandoli

The most outrageous I have ever had was "my homework was in my car and it blew up."

Gary Jusseume

A young lady claimed she did her assignment on the family computer on Sunday evening. On Monday she related that she didn't have her assignment because once it was completed, she mailed it to me. At the moment she e-mailed it she realized she hadn't put my high school address to the assignment. Her conclusion (since I hadn't received it) was that she sent this assignment, but with no address, it must be floating somewhere out in space, maybe on its way to a "foreign planet". When I asked if she made any attempts to retrieve the assignment, she exclaimed, "Ugh, no, it's out in space!"

Kathy Kanniard

Always in a sweet voice with a big smile.... "I am so sorry, I really did it but, I forgot it in my sister's car when she dropped me off, which is now at her work. I promise to bring it in tomorrow."

Jean LaBelle

Here's mine:
"Sorry I couldn't get it done but the Bruce Springsteen concert went longer than I thought..."

Karen LaCure

"I couldn't do it, it was sooo sick last night, I think I should go to the nurse now."

Rochelle Lerner

A few of my students have done their homework while I have been going around the room checking it. I then explained that homework is a compound word coming from home and work and it doesn't count if you do it in front of me when it's due.

Faculty & Staff

What is the best, funniest, or lamest excuse you have heard or used for not having homework or an assignment in on time?

Janice Lind

1. My dad put it out with the recycling.
2. My printer was out of blue ink.
3. I have a religious preference, and this is against it.
4. I had an ice cream headache last night and had to sit in a dark room.

Doug Luther

- "I put it in a safe, but lost the combination."

Maegan Maloney

"Some aliens from outer space borrowed it so they could study how the human brain worked."

Mark Minasian

"I used it to fill a hole in my shoe, you wouldn't want it now."

Kristen Reed

My mom recycled my homework. (pretty lame, huh?)

Shawna Riley

One student told me his homework caught on fire.

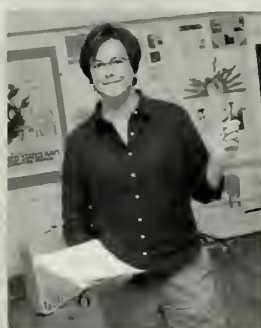

Ann Semel

My excuse is: I forgot to do my homework.

John Sforza

A student once told me that he left his book in his friend's car and that his friend moved to another state.

Stephanie Steigerwald

The wierdest homework excuse: Students had a paper due. One student said my computer broke down. Apparently it was an "Only in Maynard" virus as several others in the class had the same excuse. Amazing !

Mike Stevens

I did do it all, but before I got a chance to save, my book crashed and I lost it all."

Faculty & Staff

Brenda Sullivan

I, like all of my students have never needed an excuse. We are all very responsible and always have our work in on time .

Veneta Tountcheva

"I have the proof, but there isn't enough room to write it in the margin."

Larry Vanaria

"My pig ate it."

Alex Waldron

My cat ate my essay (it really happened to me!).

Mike Waldron

"I'm afraid I simply had better things to do."

Alice Weaver

"I couldn't write yesterday afternoon, I don't understand it, my hand just refused to write. I don't know what got into it, it was like it had a mind of its own, it just wouldn't respond to what I told it to do."

Lisa MacLean

My students always had their homework done.

Elizabeth Schuster

"My mom forgot to remind me it was due."

Korey Barkley

"My baby brother puked on it"

Maureen Sullivan

"A sudden wind blew it out of my hand and I never saw it again."

- I, Kevin Petersen, leave my mediocre baseball skills to anyone who can improve them; my Oldsmobile to Celi; my drum set to anyone worthy enough for it; the Buick to anyone willing to fix it; my locker to Amy, everything else will be left for Visco.

- I, Ashley Poh, leave MHS to my little sisters (Meg, Ally & Kenzie) and Jimbo, being blonde to McGurn, diffy and the basketball court to Jackie, good times at the house to Colby and Nikki, the good life and Mr. Carusso to Becky D., laughing at everything to Maddi, a Captain OJ to Amanda F., the Club to Steve, the hood to Danielle, being broke to anyone who spends their money as quickly as I do, and biggest ego to anyone man enough to handle it.
- I, Gerber Polanco, leave my Los Hocoscopos CD to WAVM.
- I, Brian Radler, leave my tardiness A Block to anyone who cant get up in the morning and my lady skills to Daniel Visco.
- I, Brandi Ramos, leave Jon, Julian, and Eric a group of severely buttered up teachers (use them well), Jess and Angie hugs and cookies, Helisson a piece of my mind, James a bowl for his lucky charms, Dan one last tickle-poke (I win), Emily the ability to be mellow (at times), and the teachers the knowledge that I was joking about being buttered up.
- I, RaeAnn Rolla, leave behind good times at the Quarterdeck to Melissa. The most amazing CD project from Mr. Waldrons class and Chi from Sams to Bridget and a huge bag of Jolly Ranchers to Isaac.
- I, Ian Rumrill, leave my hair to Ryan Brooks. I leave my sword Excalibur to Eric Arntzen, the French horn to the next poor sap that has to play it, and both of my lockers (neither of which close) to Ian Weyburne.
- I, Jim Salvati, leave the random noises I make to anyone that can make them, and my shelf in band to anyone who is man enough to bend over.
- I, Justin Searle, leave my drum sticks to Isaac Ford. My mallets to James Goddard.
- I, Amanda Shaw, leave my field hockey #40 to Colleen Powers, my locker to anyone who wants to see Brendas shining face every morning, and my track memories to Melissa Chiasson.
- I, Helen Silkonis, leave Jess Barbagallo my seat at the lunch table and anything I forgot in my locker.
- I, Kerri Sluyski, leave a few cold drinks to Nikki Tyler, my locker to any freshman who thinks they can handle it, and all the fun times at MHS to everyone.
- I, Nick Spencer, leave T-nips with the famous quote and guitar playing for party entertainment. Danielle with the ring on Amandas key chain, wild memories, and Nightly car rides and Amanda with a Marlboro and flake

- I, Dan Stevens, leave my brother Jeff with 2 more years at MHS, James Goddard my chemistry skills and Scott G. 3 more years.
- I, Sam Stone, leave Mick all the change in my pocket, Shaun a test tube, Nikki the b-ball court and an awesome senior year, my sarcasm to anyone who doesn't take life seriously, my procrastination skills to anyone who thinks they can keep up and my spot on the bench to anyone daring enough to try and handle it.
- I, Paul Sulzer, leave CEO to Eric, some good times at MHS to Jake and Zach, a job at the paper for anyone who wants the stress, my fantasy sports dominance to Jon Chow and a sweater vest to Visco (if he needs another).
- I, Paul Tieri, leave my excessive anger to Eric Arntzen.
- I, Alex Tober, leave nothing; I'm taking it all with me.
- I, Krystal Tupper, leave my cheerful, smiling nature to Alex Sweeney.
- I, Kevin Turano, leave the alto sax section to Kristin, my sax music to Pierre, my loud singing voice to any male willing to take it.
- I, Jeffrey Walsh, leave my brother Steve, the Walsh empire. Jessica B. my hello kitty bling. I leave my street job to James D. I leave behind the memory of being the school's most androgynous.
- I, Michelle Wasiuk, leave Phil one more year, Stephanie four years. Locker 52 to any freshman who thinks they can handle the door, Lauren 2 more years, hamburgers to Pokey and fritos to Marilyn, shoelaces to Amy, all those photos to the next band historian, and as many great memories as I have to anyone who deserves them. I also leave the Vermoster bucket to anyone who thinks that can beat our record.
- I, Ellen Wesley, leave Adam my car, Erin and Hannah my closet full of Vera Bradley and Evan my locker to fight the crowd.
- I, Jennifer Whitney, leave the underclassmen to know at times when things get tough, it's going to get better.

Then I will call the girls and tell them my place tonight, come over, and bring some wine.

Patrick Brennen, will be bad Boston fire fighter or state trooper.

Shana Brier, will be living in MA with my husband and three kids. I will be a nurse and work with infants in the hospital. I will have a huge house with lots of land so I can have my close friends from high school over and we will remember the days when we were young and stupid.

Kaitlin Brooks, will be on your favorite news station, telling you what's crackalackin, while engaged to my future husband if I haven't become a cat lady yet. If those things don't happen, then hopefully I'll be living large and in charge.

John Cannistraro, will be working as a Forensic Scientist solving the crimes that the Class of 2008 will commit.

David Carter, will be a doctor in Boston saving lives, going home to my smoking hot wife or out with the boys reliving the glory days.

Louis Elliott

dedicated educator and friend

For over 30 years, Louis Elliott was a vibrant part of the Maynard Public School system, as well as the Maynard community. Lou, as his friends and fellow staff members called him, taught English and reading at both the Fowler Middle School and Maynard High School during his career in Maynard, in addition to coaching the volleyball team for ten years. Aside from teaching and coaching, Lou was a fun-loving guy and enjoyed playing tennis or a round of golf, participating in Fowlers Student vs. Faculty basketball games, and traveling with his wife. Lou Elliott was a dedicated family man with a big heart, and it showed during his years at Maynard. Though he lived and worked in large towns, Lou enjoyed the small-town, provincial feel of Maynard, and proved to be an excellent fit. Lou quickly and truly became an important part of the Maynard community, and it a part of him. That said, we would like to dedicate this yearbook to our fond memory of Louis Elliott, whose presence and personality is greatly missed.

Captain's Message

Speaking for the seniors of the team, we can truly say that we had an awesome season. We don't have to look at how many wins or losses we had, it was more about how we grew as a team. I, personally am so excited to come back and watch you girls play. I'll never forget all we did, all the memories I have made throughout my four years and the lovely ladies I like to call the Meffs. Thank you all for a memorable senior year. I will miss you dimes.

 We'll start off by saying that it was a great season, 14-2-2 is pretty impressive. The captains, as well as the seniors will fondly remember the great times we had this year. The whole team, JV and Varsity, has a lot to be proud of; first league title, a trip to the district championship and the best record in school history. We wish you all good luck next season and just remember, "Just because you get a year older, doesn't mean you get a year better".

Congratulations on a great season boys. Although there were a few injuries and set backs, we all have a lot to be proud of. To play in the finals of the Clark Tournament and the semi-finals of the District Tournament are excellent accomplishments. We finished with a 17-7 record, and had the opportunity to compete on multiple college courts. The seniors showed great leadership and we will miss playing Maynard basketball with Coach Howes and with all of you. Remember, always leave your heart on the floor. Thanks to the fans for all their support.

Although we lost a lot of contributors from last year, overall we had a winning, successful season. People took responsibilities in their new roles and worked extremely well as a team. Goals were tough to come by so defense was the key. All in all I think that our season was a success and it was fun to be a part of the team.

High sticking, tripping, slashing, spearing, charging, hooking, fighting, unsportsmanlike conduct, interference, roughing... everything else is just figure skating. ~Author Unknown
