Commemoration

We the Class of 1967 present this yearbook in commemoration of Richard Walter Johansen.

Richard, Yo-Ho or Rick to most of us, had a special kind of personality, quiet at times, but at other times as loud as thunder. His enthusiasm for Jimmy Brown, Bobby Hull, and hot rods was contagious.

He liked the outdoors—hunting, fishing, and shooting. Football, baseball, and hockey were his favorite sports. He gave his best to all.

We shall never forget Richard's familiar back-slapping or his loud yell, "Hey, wait up!"

It's the everyday things about Rick that we will remember most.

RICHARD WALTER JOHANSEN

Let the Scroll
Fill as it may as years unroll;
But when again she calls her youth
To serve her in the ranks of truth,
May she find all one heart, one soul—
At home or on some distant shore—
"All present, or accounted for!"

Class History

1963 1967

Maynard High School . . . until September, 1964

In September, 1963, we entered Maynard High School on Summer Street, joyful at the big step we had taken into the adult world, yet fearful of the new faces and surroundings. We attended our first high school dance (the traditional "Welcome Freshman Dance," sponsored by the Seniors), elected our class officers: President, Gerry Kane; Vice-President, Nancy Jarvinen; Secretary, Linda Tervo; Treasurer, Frank Rizzo, and established ourselves officially as the class of '67. "Class Ring vs. School Ring" was the major political issue in school at the time, but a world event far more startling was the assassination of President Kennedy. Later that year the Beatles revolutionized the music industry.

Our Sophomore year, 1964-'65, was full of good things. We entered a new building, sampled cafeteria food for the first time, and our float won first prize at the rally. This was a presidential election year and as President Johnson took office to guide the country while we were in high school, so did President Frank Rizzo, Vice-President Rosemary Buscemi, Secretary Mary Ann Colombo, and Treasurer Anna Marie Buscemi take office until graduation. This year, too, brought the "Man from U.N.C.L.E." and "Goldfinger".

As Juniors we settled down to the routine so familiar to us from two years' experience. This year set a precedent in that shop classes were offered to girls for the first time. We received the school rings we had ordered in our Sophomore year. Near the end of October we left the school at the early hour of 6:30 A.M. and travelled to New York City to visit the United Nations. A second precedent was set when our school put on Bye Bye Birdie, the first musical comedy at Maynard High. In the T.V. world there was the appearance of Batman, the caped crusader, and Get Smart with "Would you believe . . .?". This was the year of the Black-Out, Granny Gowns, mod-print suits, and textured stockings were the rage along with long straight hair for boys (but not in school) and girls. The waistband dropped and the hemline rose to make mini-skirts and hip-huggers. In May our hard work was crystallized into one of the prettiest proms the school has ever had—"Moonlit Gardens."

In September, 1966, we returned to school for the last time. We were finally Seniors. In early September we gave the traditional "Welcome Freshmen Dance." We received our Senior pictures and the school buzzed with whispers of, "Do you have your pictures?", "Can I see your pictures?". The yearbook staff was busy on the Screech Owl. Near the end of October the English classes went to see Hamlet at Natick High School. Being measured for our caps and gowns struck a note of sadness. On January 13, Maynard High School was represented on the WHDH T.V. show It's Academic. This last year was one of college and job applications and interviews, of plans and hopes for the future.

Dramatics Club

On stage and backstage with some of the officers and Executive Committee of the Dramatics Club . . .

Staging an annual play is the main activity of the Dramatics Club. Members gain confidence in performing before an audience and increase their knowledge of the world of the theatre through actual experience. Rehearsals got under way in February for a spring presentation of the three-act comedy A Majority of One on April 13 and 14, 1967.

The French Club

Designed to stimulate the appreciation of the French language and French culture, the major activities of the club include sponsorship of French films and an annual trip to a French restaurant.

As members of the F.T.A., students interested in education as a career are enabled to explore the various realms of teaching through lectures, direct observation, and the opportunity to do some practice teaching under the supervision of teachers in the Maynard schools.

Future Teachers of America

Junior Women's Club

Any high school girl willing to submit to a rigorous initiation is eligible for the Junior Women's Club. To achieve their objectives of charitable, cultural, intellectual, and social advancement, members participate in the Cancer Drive, attend lectures and plays, and plan a semi-formal dance at Christmas time and a banquet in May.

Officers and Program Committee

The Library Club

Members of the Library Club work as assistants to the school librarian by checking books in and out, cataloguing, and helping other students during library periods.

Through actual practice under the supervision of Librarian Mrs. Sylvia Clark, club members become acquainted with the complexities of a modern library and learn to utilize its resources efficiently.

Library Aide on duty

Math League

Once each month members of the Math League match wits with members of eleven other high school teams. Open to any student with mathematical ability, the Math League stimulates interest in mathematics, strengthens abilities, and exposes students to keen competition. Mr. Kenneth Najjar is the faculty advisor of the club.

Rehearsal in the Music Room

Best Musicians

Judy Hytonen and Dennis Iannitelli

Maynard High School's music department, under the direction of Mr. Charles Garabedian, offers a variety of musical activities which give interested and capable instrumentalists and vocalists the opportunity to perform in a group. For a vocalist there are the Boys' and Girls' Glee Clubs and the A Cappella Choir; for the instrumentalist, the Dance Band, High School Band, the Brass Choir, and Orchestra. In addition, there are the Majorettes, baton twirlers who perform separately and as part of the marching band.

These organizations perform twice a year—at the Christmas and Spring concerts. There is also an annual exchange concert with another town or a concert tour.

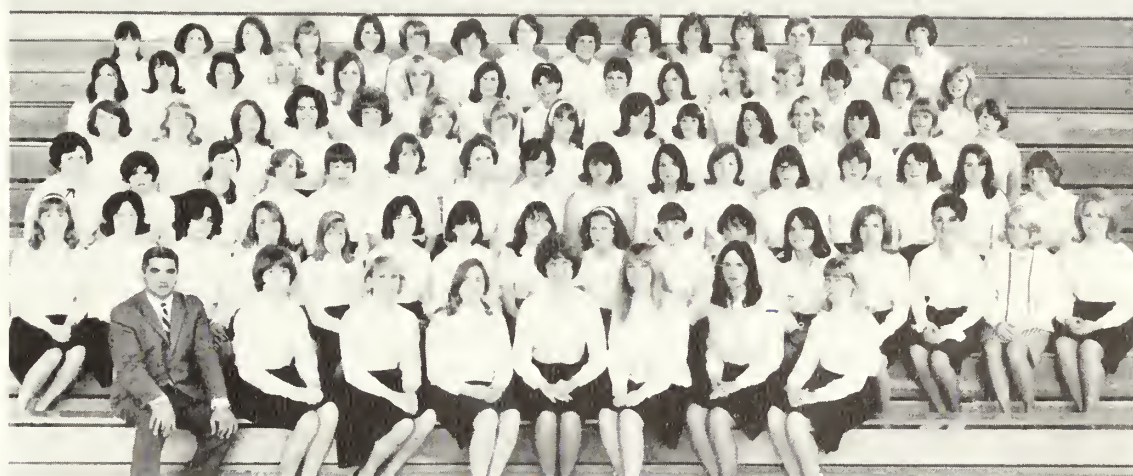

It is the aim of all of the musical groups to develop a deeper appreciation for music as a fine art and to give practice in the performance of music.

The Student Council 1966-1967

The promotion of good citizenship and the general welfare of the school as well as the improvement of student-administration and student-teacher relationships are the main purposes of the Student Council which serves the student body through class and home room representation.

National Honor Society

Aims

To foster among the student body:
enthusiasm for scholarship
desire to render service
development of character
leadership

Activities

freshmen orientation
sponsorship of educational programs
serving as guides on Parents' Nights
ushering at graduation

Fall Induction Ceremony, 1966. Seven newly elected members recognized for outstanding scholarship, leadership, character, and service joined seven members of the National Honor Society who had been previously honored.

Science Club

The Science Club provides the aspiring student with many opportunities to develop his scientific potential. The selected members are divided into groups of their choice: radio, photography, flight chemistry, or astronomy. The Club's activities include trips to the Museum of Science and lectures given by authorities in various fields of science.

As the only student publication of Maynard High School, the yearbook known as the SCREECH OWL is designed to give an overall view of student life throughout the entire school year.

Initiated in the late 1920's as a quarterly paperback, the SCREECH OWL contained no pictures until 1932 when pictures of the graduating class were included in the final issue of the year. In the mid 1950's the SCREECH OWL became a yearly publication, but not until 1964 was it bound in a hard cover thereby joining the ranks of typical high school yearbooks.

Work began on the 1967 edition of the SCREECH OWL in the summer of 1966 when Mary Ann Colombo, Senior Staff editor, regularly held meetings of her staff to work on the senior write-ups and the "Remember Whens". This work, along with the compilation of information for the senior directory, continued well into the fall of 1966. During the summer, Susan Tucker set up a schedule for senior portrait sittings, and by the time school opened, almost all seniors had been photographed.

Early in September, the Business Staff, headed by Wesley Hiron and under the direction of Miss Dorothy O'Malley, started its solicitation of advertisements. So successful was this campaign that the size of the book had to be increased from one hundred and twenty-eight to one hundred and forty pages.

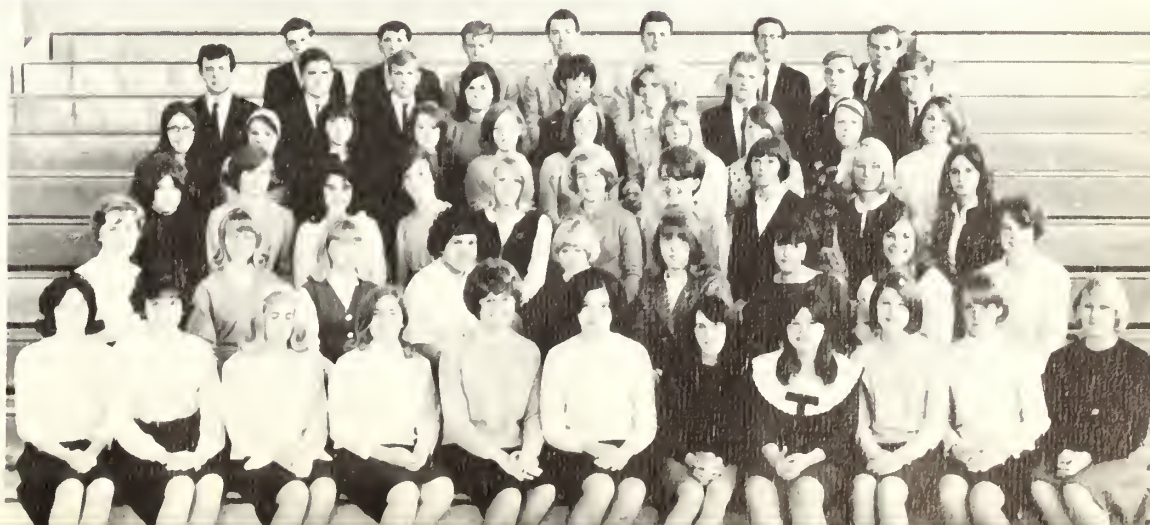

While the Business Staff was gathering advertisements, Editor-in-Chief Sherry Mayes was occupied with gathering hundreds of photographs for possible use on the yearbook pages. Photographers were frequently on the M. H. S. scene snapping candid photos of students and faculty as well as group pictures of various organizations and activities.

Once the photographs were printed, the editorial and lay-out staffs, working with advisor Betty R. Hill, began selecting material and preparing it for publication. Meeting the publishing company's deadlines meant ceaseless work and called for work on Saturdays, nights, and during vacations. A dedicated few responded. We gratefully acknowledge the special assistance of Lay-out editor Linda Lankiewicz, Debbie Lee French, Brian Campbell, Rosemary Buscemi, Stephanie Gramolini, Wesley Hiron, and Rostic Zerchikov.

The staff of the 1967 SCREECH OWL extends its gratitude to the patrons listed on the following page. It also extends its appreciation to Purdy of Boston for the fulfillment of our picture requirements and to Mr. Richard Weir, representative of the American Yearbook Publishing Company, for his courtesy and efficiency in helping us produce this book.

In Memoriam

FERDIANO D. MATTIOLI
Principal, Maynard High School
1955-1967

To dream the impossible dream,
to fight the unbeatable foe,
To bear with unbearable sorrow,
to run where the brave dare not go.

To right the unrightable wrong,
to love pure and chaste from afar,
To try when your arms are too weary,
to reach the unreachable star!

This is my quest,
to follow that star,
No matter how hopeless,
no matter how far;
To fight for the right
without question or pause,
To be willing to march into hell
for a heavenly cause!
And I know, if I'll only be true
To this glorious quest,
that my heart will lie peaceful and calm,
When I'm laid to my rest,
And the world will be better for this;
That one man,
scorned and covered with scars,
Still strove with his last ounce of courage,
To reach the unreachable stars.

THE MAYNARD DRAMATIC CLUB

(Organized November, 1939)

PURPOSE . . .

To present the "best-of-Broadway" plays for the entertainment of the local "theatre-goers".

MEMBERS . . .

From all walks of life, drawn together by an interest in the theatre and a desire to express themselves on the legitimate stage.

RECORDS . . .

To date presented 37 Broadway plays (last 7 sponsored by Maynard Lions Club for their Scholarship Fund) plus one-act plays for various organizations.

INVITATION . . .

In its desire to continue the cultural interests of the town, an invitation is extended to the graduates of the Class of 1967 or any person who lives in or around Maynard interested in any phase of the stage to join our group. Contact any member of the Dramatic Club for details.

Graduation Begins The Excitement

Upon graduation from high school, you may want to enter the dynamic, exciting field of computers. Right here in Maynard, there are fine openings at Digital Equipment Corporation whose computers are doing significant work in leading laboratories throughout the free world.

As your counselors about Digital, or even better, drop into our Thompson St. Employment Department to discuss opportunities in many areas: secretarial, wiremen, trainees, stock, silk screening, personnel, purchasing, etc. Visit anytime Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. or Thursday evening, 6 to 8.

Should you decide to attend college or vocational school (particularly in the technical fields), keep in touch with Digital. We have continuing needs for engineers, programmers, draftsmen, and technicians.

Digital takes pride in its community, and encourages local people to apply for good jobs and enjoy our liberal benefit programs.
