A yearbook is many variations and moods; it is personal, it is wonderful. To complement our yearbook we are offering this supplement.

We are grateful to many people who have helped us complete this 1965 edition of the SCREECH OWL. Our special thanks go to two special people however. Without their valuable assistance the yearbook would not be. They are John Hanson, a former member of our class, and Mr. "Swat" Warila of the ENTERPRISE. We thank Mr. Warila especially for his photograph of the town clock, a tremendous symbol of the spirit of Maynard.

CLASS PROPHECY

Now, assembled for television, the most comprehensive news organization in the world presents the Agin-Grantley World News Report, brought to you by---

"Lehto" Spray Cleaner and the makers of Mother Newton's Fig Cookies.

Now for the news:

Presidential Elections dominated the national news fronts today. As it is, the 1984 elections stand as the most controversial in the country's history. All four of the major party candidates campaigned heavily today. The G.O.P. presidential candidate, Edward Gilleney, made a whistle-stop tour of the Midwest. Tonight he will make a major stop in Sewage Falls, Oklahoma, to speak before the local chapter of the Daughters of the League of Women Cottonpickers. Miss Jean Mason, local chairman of the group, expects between forty and fifty people. Virginia Weckstrom, the lovely Miss Boll Weevil 1984, will present Gilleney with a special award.

Last night in Boise, Idaho, the Republican Vice Presidential Candidate, Sandy Perkins, said in a speech to 50,000: "What this country needs is a good five-cent cigar."

Our NBC reporter, David Chadwick, attended the rally last night, but unfortunately, missed Miss Perkin's speech. However, he had an interesting interview with Convention Hall janitor, Joseph W. Mullin. David will head for the East for a major speech at a rally in Boston at the Saisa-Hilton Hotel on the Charles River tonight.

Senator Charlie McGee, the Democratic presidential nominee, made a stop in Maynard, Massachusetts' North End at Rudy Lattuca's Hair Emporium. Charlie got his first haircut in thirteen years. Political expert, Fran Molle, says he'll do anything to get the vote.

The Vice Presidential candidate, Myrna Gruber, visited former President Johnson today. In a news conference in Rick Davidson's Gym in Washington, they discussed the Panama banana crisis. Banana merchant, Irene Braga, of Braga Banana Limited, met with Panama banana pickers over the wage dispute with the native workers today. No agreement was reached.

Today at Cape Janet Space Center in Florida, preparations were made for tomorrow's launch of the three man Link moon probe. The Link Seven is designed to take three astronauts within the gravitational pull of the moon without actually landing. The three astronauts, Navy Captain David Resuke, Major John Murphy, and Coast Guard Lt. Janet Lankiewicz, are in good shape for the ride. The shot has been postponed twice already. Col. J. Rifford "Shorty" Robblee says everything looks "so fine" for the shot tomorrow, if the weather holds out. The capsule will be launched at 8:30 E.S.T. and remain in flight about three and a half days total. Prime recovery area is in Lake Ontario near the Canadian Border. The U.S. Sixth Fleet, under command of Rear Admiral Dick "over the Hill" has encountered the difficulty of transporting thirty-eight ships across the New England States to inland upper U.S.

Richard Sofka, Head of the Air Force Chiefs of Staff, has offered to airlift and parachute the ships in by helicopter.

I talked to helicopter pilot, Sandy Anderson, part of Sofka's special group.

She said- "What this country needs is a good five-cent cigar."

The Alaskan crisis worsened today. Governor Jim Donovan, again condemned Congress for placing a heavy tax on ice. Riots raged through the capital city, Juneau. Last night, a shipload of government ice was dumped into Anchorage harbor by a band of make believe Eskimos. Alaskan National Guard Commander, Bill Smith, says he is looking for the supposed ring leaders of the group, Maidie Hooper and Diane Geary, Elements of U.S. Marines, under command of Captain James Kessler, gained control of downtown Skagway from rebel leader, Elfego Maglione today. We'll have a special report on that later.

Civil Rights made the news today. Malcolm T., National Nationalist Leader led a march on Miami today. Governor Richard S. Uglevich of Florida, promised to meet with Malcolm, but so far he has been reported as violently opposed to any civil rights movement in the Sunshine state.

We'll be right back after this announcement.'

"Only one kind of soap's gonna get these hands clean -- LATVA."

Says Ray Latva, famous soap manufacturer. Latva has the power to get ground in dirt and grime around knuckles and nails. Use Latva.

WMHS T-V Channel 6 Boston

A Northeast Airlines DC-8 Jetliner today avoided a near disaster when the plane momentarily went out of control over Lester International Airport in Mud Flats, Arkansas. As stewardess Judy Hudson got up off pilot Jack Scott's lap, she knocked the automatic pilot, Dave Grudinski out of commission, Co-pilot, Fred Jaakkola did a skillful job of landing the plane, however, Joan Clarke, one of the other stewardesses, on landing, was found stuck in her parachute. Federal Aviation Board Commissioner, Ronald J. Hebert, says the matter is under serious investigation. During the incident, recalls stewardess Paula Joyal, the movie being shown on the flight, was uninterrupted. The only injury reported was when one of the passengers, Christine Baker, of Los Angeles didn't like the movie and got up and walked out.

New York City's most wanted criminals were apprehended today in the city's East End after a 110 mile-an-hour bicycle chase through Central Park. Baby-Face Whitney and Killer-Diller Miller were apprehended after holding up Maki's Department Store of $150,000 in play money. Judy Ferranti, eye-witness clerk at the store directed the police in the chase. Lt. Patrick Lanigan of the New York City vice squad, said he received a hot tip from Phyllis Whitney, restaurant waitress at Silkonis' Steak House and Hamburger Stand. The two were finally caught in Duchy Delaney's reducing salon on Broadway. F.B.I. agent, Ray Iannuzzo, was injured in the chase when his police car hit a utility pole in front of Sofka's Chinese Cookie Factory. The two men are now in custody.

In Hollywood, the striking Actor's Guild is still at odds with the producers. There is a serious argument over contract rights. Producer Bruce Rawn met with famous stars Janice Harding and Linda Marchold today to try and reach an agreement. Special reporter, Jeff Hunter met with Bob Della Russo, who portrays the famous "Smokey the Bear." Bob said, "I don't object to being used as Smokey, but I think I should get at least as much room service as Lassie."

Construction on the controversial Tomyl Tunnel, between Long Island and the New Jersey coast across Brooks Bay, has again halted because of technical difficulties. Construction engineer, Peter A. Bogonovich, explained that the workers found it difficult to hold their breath and work under water for eight hours a day.

NBC reporter, David McKenna, interviewed one of the female diggers, Miss Laurie Manning, on the tunnel project today. Laurie said, "Blxfpt-nmdjlfh."

Seven-year locusts invaded the little town of Scacciotion-Rye, Ireland today in droves of thousands. Our on the spot newsman interviewed one of the local inhabitants. Housewife Maureen O'Lerer, who was quite disturbed at the attack. She claims it has only been six years since the last invasion and can't understand why.

Today in Washington, the President proclaimed Michael Barrett as Pact Laureate of the United States of America. In impressive ceremonies, Miss Jean Steeves, editor of "See," the National weekly magazine, presented him with the laurel wreath. Barrett gave a rendition of his tone poem "Ode to a Grecian Fern."

At Detroit Zoo Today, near the Tetrault Motor Company Assembly Plant, a large number of incoming animals escaped into the plant from a freight train. Engineer Rick Tervo blames the escape on Carol Berry, one of the animal's attendants, who insisted she take them for a walk. After a careful search, police officers, Bob, Denny, and Jim Hansen, found fourteen tigers in the tanks of the new Tetrault D.T.O.'s. Canary keeper, Jim Connerney, rounded up most of the escaped birds near the Tigers' Stadium during a game with the Orioles. Tigers' manager, Joe Hlavati, said later that he had a tough time telling the Orioles from the birds.

Time out for this brief announcement.

The next portion of the Agin-Grantley Report is brought to you by Norjoal-Goebel, the makers of NO-BEL diet food and Benny Bloomberg's Chinese Restaurant.

International playboy, Bill Klokman, and his glamorous wife, the former model Mary Dzerkacz were tarred and feathered today in the little Italian village of Cahonna Villa. Townspeople objected to Klokman's attempt at converting the local Sullivani Spaghetti Company into a split level outhouse. The two were relatively unharmed.

The Nobel Peace Prize in astrology was today awarded to Christine Taylor of Kansas City for her work in palm-reading. Miss Taylor was overwhelmed by the news.

In medicine, Dr. Robert Sczerzen, famous surgeon, discovered the cure for dread Osgood Schlatten disease. Pat Molloy and Pat Perillo, Dr. Sczerzen's assistants, were the objects of his experiments and were instrumental in his success. New York's McCarthy General Hospital will be the first to try this new serum. Dr. Daria Setzco has undertaken a vigorous program at the hospital to have everyone inoculated with the Anti-Schlatten Serum. Public Health officials, however, are alarmed that any action to this effect will cause a serious shortage of the serum, desperately needed in New Delhi, India.

In the fashion world today at the Connors Beauty Salon and Health Bar in Evanston, Illinois, a deficiency in the hair dryer wiring caused three young ladies: Elaine Kokalis, Margaret Kizik, and Jo-anne Kransevich to come out completely bald. Contrary to what you might think, the craze caught on, and now Evanston is going bald!

Tonight Radio City Music Hall will feature an all-male chorus, consisting of: "Legs" Pizza, Jim Quinn, John Marcey, Ken White, and Jack Nelson of the Famous Grierson Opera Quintet. The Misses, Nancy Grierson and Patricia Crowther, instructors for the men say the show promises to be a great one. The performance of "Swan Lake Ballet" will begin at 8:15.

In baseball today, there was only one game in the major leagues. Fireball Hudson Jones of the Orioles held the hard-hitting Tigers to only three hits, but gave up fourteen walks to give Detroit a five to nothing victory over the Orioles. It was Jones' twelfth straight loss in sixteen times out. Manager Hlavati says that Jones has finally regained his last year's form.

Champion golfer, Cheryl Palmer today shot a three under par 69 to take the lead in the Women's U.S. Open. She is currently challenging Miss Donna Braman for the lead in top money winners in women's golf. Al Torppa, her professional caddy, said about the round-- "What this country needs is a good five-cent cigar."

The U.S. Olympic wrestling team for the first time all female, competed against Finland today and scored their first major victory.

In the heavyweight division were: Carol Russell, Linda Norgoal, Elayne Milton, and Rita Lalli.

Coaches Gail Lydon and Elaine Erkinen were well pleased with the meet.

Trade was moderately active on the New York State Stock Exchange today. DeRosby Industrial averages showed declines in rails but a gain in commodities. The merger of the Babe Powder Company with Gunn Firearms Corporation, now known as Beebe-Gunn Ltd., showed a healthy gain.

In other stocks--Fuller Brush went up a hair and Herrick Derrick rose slightly in mixed trading---and that's tonight's news!!

Good night Barry --- Good night Dennis and good night to you from NBC.

THE SCREECH OWL

Maynard High School
Maynard, Massachusetts

Graduation is merely a pause before we proceed to higher things, before we attain more awesome goals. It is an important moment in a lifetime of moments. It is the culmination of high school, symbolizing four years of contrasting emotions. High school has been just that – contrasts. It has meant different things to all of us, but at one time we have each experienced failure and success. We have worked hard and played hard; we have emphasized at one time a serious side and at another, a social side. In the future we will look back on our high school years with sentiment. We will want to remember high school as it actually was, and we will turn to this yearbook to remind us. Therefore, we believe that life at Maynard High School can be most vividly expressed through these. . . .
