Dedication

Ms. Klepadlo,

A teacher is someone we can look up to, confide in, work with, learn from, and build a relationship with. Ms. Klepadlo, you have exemplified that in many ways. From being "Auntie Shirley" to "the teacher most likely to have a test planned two years in advance," you have touched many lives and created many loving memories. Your unique teaching style has helped people of all abilities achieve their greatest success. You have made a lasting impression on many of us in the Senior class. We'd like to say Thank You for being such a wonderful teacher and remember . . . when we graduate, that's a lot less papers to correct!

*Thank You!

"Thank You"
Mr. Joseph "Mags"
Magno

The time has come for us to move on. It has been a long journey in our years at Maynard High School; years in which we have learned and matured. Moving through a high school career is not easy for anyone, but luckily for all of us, we had an exceptional Class Advisor. It takes courage, dedication, and persistence to guide a class on such a monumental journey, a task which you took on and tackled with all of your abilities. With your guidance and the hard work of our many class officers over the years, we have had an enjoyable and very successful high school experience.

Despite the difficulties you have faced with this class, coupled with your immensely busy schedule, you have stood by us and supported us at every turn. You always give 110% of yourself to every project that comes before you, a quality lacking in some. We say now to you "Thank You" for the past 38 years of your service to education and "Thank You" for spending the past 5 with us. As we head off to start our careers, the Class of 1999 wishes you Best of Luck in the Future, Mags, and Thank You!

The Class of 1999 would like to give our compliments and our sincere thanks to an outstanding teacher who will be graduating with us, Mr. Robert Coan. His friendly nature and his inspiring sense of humor will always be a highlight of our years at Maynard High.

Mr. Coan has been teaching in the Maynard Public Schools for the past thirty-three years. He always demonstrates enthusiasm for education and extra curricular activities. He is seen at football, basketball, and baseball games cheering on the Maynard teams. His zest for life is encouraging. He will be greatly missed here at Maynard High. Good luck in the future Mr. Robert Coan, and thank you for being you.

Class Will

- I, Suzie Bastien, leave behind all the pens I borrowed from my friends.
- I, Amanda Burgess, leave my dresses, combat boots, eyeliner, pointy shoes, tarot cards, and books on palm reading to those who can use and enjoy them.
- I, Heather Delconte, leave behind my sister to have fun at Maynard High School
- I, Tarl Grenier, leave behind to all that follow a bit of advice, don't try to be something you're not because you're born the way you are, and there is no changing that.
- I, David Hall, leave behind my Jeep to C-BO to beat in the woods.
- I, Jesse Hallett, leave behind to my angel the dates 12/18 and 1/9.
- I, Kelly Harrington, leave behind my basement and my little boys.
- I, Susan Hawk, leave behind my art supplies to Jessica.
- I, Tim Johnson, leave behind a big shiney red apple for Caroline DeRobert.
- I, Amy Leslie, leave behind a heating pad to Isabel and all my "wonderful" memories of MHS to peanut.
- I, Brooke Lockhart, leave behind the spirit of the Pontiac along with the frylights in the cafe to my Mexican, my gym locker full of flipped bricks to Kelly King, my respect to all second year Algebra 2 students, and an oversized bra to who ever welcomes the burden.
- I, Michael MacGillivary, leave behind the backrow to C-BO and Scafidi.
- I, Tamara Maraj, leave behind my cousin (I will always love her) and my best, best friends here at MHS.
- I, Bualy Mathipannha, leave behind the constant making fun of students by Miss Klepaldo.
- I, Kelly Mikkonen, leave behind anything that I forgot.
- I, Scott Milon, leave behind the set to the capable hands of Ross and Zach. The cracked parking space to all new drivers, the CD's to JP, my right shin to the weight team, my player style to Piecewicz, my long hair to Shannon, and my respect to any two year Algebra 2 students.

I, Erin Murphy, leave behind my randomness and way with words to anyone who wants them, some enzyme cleaner to Sheena, my pajama pants for someone else to wear everyday, and to Heather S. some paper to draw the long-awaited picture of the field hockey team.

I, Michelle Nys, leave behind all the rumors that started in 'AVM, all my under arm puffiness to Brian, all my hiccups to Mary, all my "snouffs" to Ms. Klepadlo, all my hugs to Stebbs, all my yearbook struggles to the next editor . . . and, of course, all my love to John

I, Jim Oakman, leave behind some loud noise from Gina.

I, David Parker, leave behind my football equipment and the 100 pounds I needed to lose to fit into it and one more miserable year for the Juniors, ha ha.

I, Frankie Patterson, leave behind my oily parking spot to Pearce so his Camaro can dro in style. I also leave behind my running shoes and a backpack full of coldies to the Ignachuck.

I, Melissa Petersen, leave lots of watermelon to John, many cold mornings at the bus stop to my younger brothers, all my Degler papers to the next kids who are silly enough to take AP, $5.04 to Kelly for her first tank of gas, and to Brian, I leave my key for you to get a ride from, to school everyday.

I, Stacey Pippert, leave the Thumbs to Mr. Flynn and the Bronco Two to the next person who carts around eight people.

I, Sandra Racine, leave behind all my friends in younger grades that they have fun in Mynard High.

I, Paul Rando, leave behind the empty bottle of Mountain Dew in my locker and all of my wonderful math skills, which I don't have.

I, Mike Reilly, leave my 100 pound backpack to Mr. Linney . . . my TI-82 to Mary . . . a big bucket of CHOW MIEN to Kyle . . . the cavalier-blue to Jen and Jessica . . . my notes from Geometry about "Stickboy" and "Bobbo" in front of Mr. Wing to Angela.

I, Erin Roblee, leave behind my use of pencil for all the teachers to get mad over and wished I had used a pen.

I, Pat Sheehan, leave behind all the stuff to throw at people in the hallways to C-BO and Nick.

I, Zach Smith, leave behind the pit, the soda can and the tradition for the young ones to keep.

I, Rob Thorp, leave behind my keys and my laziness.

I, Maria Tongol, leave behind to Tiff, the Fleepo video. I finally leave to the rest of the cheerleaders a "smile".

I, Matt Tuomi, leave behind my green Nike sweatshirt to Scotty Ignachuck, so everyone can ask, "why are you hanging out with that dope?" And to everyone, just tell your parents you're sleeping over somebody's house so you can stay out late and party. Scotty, keep the fire burning.

I, Jessica Urquehart, leave behind my inability to tie my shoes, a protein deposit to Sheana. Snow days to Jackie and Gina, and the police at G.M. to Harry.

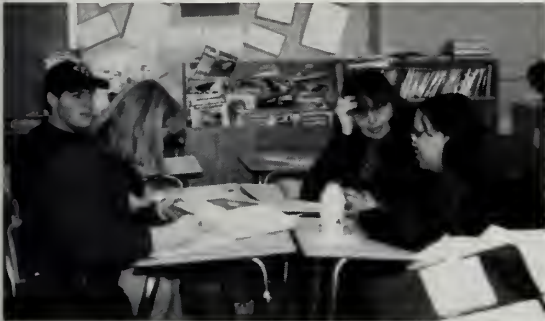

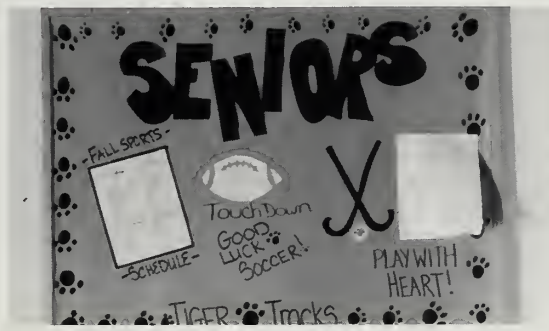

I, Mary Vek, leave behind my shyness, my endless laugh . . . I'll always have my loud laugh, my obsession of my favorite person to Heather Z . . . Mentos and other candies to my underclass friends, hugs to Brian G . . . my days of crying when I laughed so hard.

I, Mia Walsh, leave to Aunt Debbie and Uncle Frankie a thank you for giving me a chance. Without you, I wouldn't be where I am now. To my parents I leave my love; you have taught me everything. To B.J., you have always been there for me- I love you. You gave me the strength and a new view.

I, Karen Weir, leave behind my "I don't care" attitude, my loud obnoxious voice, and my lady bug to whoever wants her! And of course I leave behind all the after party pick-ups to Kelly's dad.

I, Paul West, leave behind my stereo to Nick and lifting in the morning to Kyle.

I, Brian Zancewicz, leave the key to my Jeep under the left rear tire.

Some Missing Prophecies

In seven years I, Tamara Maraj, will be working and happy!

In seven years I, Paul Rando, will be on vacation in florida not wanting to go back to work for channel 5.

In seven years I, Sandra Racine, will be working at a day care.

In seven years I, Matti Tuomi, will be wondering why I didn't try just a little bit harder in school. Then maybe I would have a good job and get a good amount of money. Sorry to all who cared.

You are so many wonderful things! To say that we are proud of you is an understatement. Your accomplishments are a continuing source of pride, yet it is the person behind these achievements that this family is most proud of. You have become, through your hard work and by making good choices (also enduring many lectures!), a beautiful, confident young woman. We congratulate you and we thank you for being the truly awesome daughter and sister that you are. Spread your wings and fly.

Love,
Mom, Dad and Boy

The world is your stage. GO FOR IT!! May you be successful in your life and everything you do. Never forget, we are here for you no matter what.

We want to wish you the best of luck in your college years and thereafter. But, maybe luck doesn't really come into it as you have shown us during four years at Maynard High that your determination, perseverance and hard work have shown that you know where you're going and how to get there. We are all very proud of you.

Love, Mom, Dad, and Billy

Dear Karen,

We wish we could save these moments and put them in a jar. We wish we could stop the world from turning and keep things just the way they are. We wish we could shelter you from everything not pure and sweet and good. We know we can't, but we wish we could.

We love you, Mom, Dad, Jerilyn, and Kacey
