OUR OFFICERS

Commemoration

We the class of 1960, commemorate this yearbook to our late classmate, Sandra Waldron.

Many times during the two long years of her illness, each of us found ourselves drawing strength and understanding from the quiet courage and fortitude of Sandy.

With quick wit and flashing smile, she made light of her troubles, causing our own to become much smaller by comparison.

The inspiration of her courage and faith will always remain with us.

SANDRA ANN WALDRON 1942 - 1959

*To see the world in a grain of sand
And heaven in a wild flower,
To hold infinity in the palm of your hand
And eternity in an hour.*

Editorial

ALTHOUGH we are aware that there are serious topics with which we must concern ourselves in this age of scientific pre-occupation we have placed the theme of this book in a lighter vein and incorporated a movie production into its presentation.

Upon observation many facts of making a movie can be correlated with the activities of a class in its four years of high school. The success of a movie is dependent upon the effort and individual cooperation that goes into its making. So it is with a class; its success and the success of the individuals in it depend largely upon the teachers and what each student has contributed towards his own benefit and that of the class.

A well made movie is never forgotten as we believe our class shall not be.

We genuinely hope that this yearbook will bring you lasting pleasure.

MAYNARD HIGH SCHOOL - 1960

ACT I

"Class 60" may truly be considered a huge success. The clarity of its presentation, the cooperation and eager participation of its stars, and the fine work of its directors have combined to make it one of the outstanding dramas to be presented at Maynard High School.

In the opening of act one, which depicts scenes from 1956, the actors appeared to be bewildered and perhaps a little frightened by the gigantic task ahead. However, they seemed to go about the procedure of electing officers like true sons and daughters of democracy. The leading characters, Steve Carlton, President; Pat Barry, Vice-President; John Gunn, Treasurer; Jeanne Price, Secretary; and Bev DeGrappo, Kay Cunningham, John Gunn, and Leo Mullin the Student Council Representatives; with the help of the supporting cast, swung easily into the following scenes with conviction and assurance.

Comedy and glamor were portrayed in scene one by the Junior Women's Club's initiation and the first big ball of the production.

It was fascinating to watch the girls prepare for the selection of cheerleaders in scene two. An overwhelming sense of pride at the choice of Pat Barry, Mary Bakun, and Sandra Sluski predominated the setting.

The excitement of the cast as they made preparations to give their first dance could be felt throughout the company. This feeling persisted as scene three passed into the splendor of the annual Freshman-Sophomore Dance which was a complete success.

The enthusiastic and exciting close of act one, depicted by the whole cast on stage at Nantasket

ACT II

Act II opened with less confusion but with the stars still showing a trace of self-consciousness. The role of President was again played by Steve Carlton; Sandra Waldron, Vice-President; and Pat Barry as Secretary. An enlightening scene took place when John Helin abdicated his position as treasurer in favor of John Gunn.

Marion Murphy stepped into the spotlight when she took position on the M. H. S. Cheerleading Squad.

As the curtain closed on Act II the entire cast was once again assembled at Nantasket Beach. The costumes had changed and the faces of the cast were more mature as they looked to the future with excitement and enthusiasm.

ACT III

Shiny symbols of the class and school spirit appeared on the figures of the cast and caught the eye as Act III was introduced. The traditional class rings seemed to give those upper-classmen newly found confidence.

A new star stepped into the light as Leo Mullin became President; Pat Barry, Vice-President; Steve Carlton, Treasurer; Beverly DeGrappo, Secretary; with Bev DeGrappo, Pat Barry, John Gunn, and Leo Mullin representing the cast in the Student Council.

In a solemnly traditional atmosphere Marguerite Angelosanto, Leo Mullin, John Gunn and Steve Carlton were inducted into the National Honor Society.

One of the most inspiring and exciting scenes of act three was presented when the night of the Junior Prom arrived. The splendor of the pastels both in the setting and the costumes aroused even the most apathetic of viewers.

A change of scene and the end of Act III brought us once more to Nantasket Beach.

ACT IV

The final and greatest act of the play opened with profound feelings of enthusiasm among the entire cast. As the curtains parted, the participants were no longer bewildered but demonstrated a feeling of pride for their present success and showed eager anticipation for the future. With this attitude they began serious planning for their chosen careers. Scene I gave the players a chance to give the traditional Welcome Freshman Dance. With a melancholy air they prepared to give their last dance in honor of the new group of bewildered faces.

The leading roles for this last act were again given to Leo Mullin, President; Pat Barry, Vice President; Beverly DeGrappo, Secretary; Steve Carlton, Treasurer; Sandra Sluyski, Pat Barry, Walter Wasiuk and Steve Carlton as Student Council Representatives. In view of his past achievements, Leo Mullin was elected President of the Student Council Council.

Incidents in scene III, relating an exchange trip with Fair Lawn, New Jersey, were varied and amusing. Notable was the friendliness between the groups as they exchanged greetings and traditions.

Joyce Rawn, Kathy Simons, Kay Cunningham and Walt Wasiuk were chosen to join the veteran stars in the National Honor Society.

A trip to Birch Toft Lodge by the entire cast was not only amusing but hilarious. As this scene was brought to a climax, the company was already planning ahead for Class Night and the Graduation Exercises.

The curtain opened for the last time on the most solemn, impressive scene. It was presented when the cast met on stage for the last time as they received their diplomas and took that big step from the doors of Maynard High School.

The stars of the minor roles whose names were not mentioned in this review were also highly commendable. There is little doubt that the public will follow with interest the careers of all the stars of "Class 60" as they go on to their major roles in life.

COMING ATTRactions

It is the year 1980. Erick Starr, Principal of Maynard High, has just won a trip to Hollywood in a contest sponsored by Dicky Bain's Coco-Puffs Company. There he hopes to meet some members of his old high school class.

Erick first stops to buy a car from "Honest" Butchie Anderson. The bolts are adjusted and final screws are put in place by Jon "Fix-it" Armour and Ed Hoffman. Leaving the garage he passes David Croft's Funeral Home. He waves to Croft's right and left hand men, Tony "Curly" DeMambro and Anthony "Doc" Maria. He stops in front of the Maureen Mullin Theatre, to give Karalee Manty, the Maynard Art teacher, a ride to school. She tells Erick that she met Sandra Peary, who now has her own dye factory. They both wave to Dick Massarelli, the football coach, as they drive into the school yard. Then saying goodbye to his secretary Donna Kennie, Erick starts on his journey.

After driving all day Erick stops for the night at the Ralph Kelley Motel, and has dinner prepared by the wonderful chef, John Helin. To relax during the evening, Erick reads the paper and finds that Billy McDowell, assisted by Dr. William Toohey, has finally landed on the moon. He sees that David Kauppi and Doty Knowles have created a comic strip called Mr. Badoo, and that Janet Kane has won the Kentucky Derby while riding one of Clifty Whitney's horses. Another item of interest is that Claudette Knickerbocker has bought the New York Yankees, who have a new pitcher, Lee Prescott. Erick leaves the motel after having his car washed at the Wasiuk Carwash.

Driving along that day, he is surprised to see a picture of Jeanne Hanson, the new Halo girl. He then tunes in American Bandstand which has been taken over by Ray Crowley and is sponsored by Elaine Colleton's vacuum cleaners. Following this, Dave Glazier comes on with his sportscast. He announces to the world, that Jeanne Price has just won the Olympic Medal for skiing, and that due to the genius of Pat Tobin, the Veracka twins wonderful tag team is victorious over Al "Killer" Micciche.

Erick decides to spend the night at Joyce Rawn's Health Ranch in Colorado. Here he meets Peggy Angelosanto, now in charge of weightlifting, and her assistant, Mary Bakun. He also finds Steve Carlton and Carolyn Carey on the first aid staff. Upon leaving the next morning, he is nearly killed by Ronnie Laasanen and Adele Croft, well-known race track drivers.

That night, Erick arrives in Las Vegas. He decides to spend the night at the Stefanowicz Hotel, where beatniks like Richard Machold, Carol Olsen, and Diane Annett gather. He also visits the "Lucky Dollar," owned by Bev DeGrappo and Charles Wilson, where he sees Kathy Simons, the new writer of the Louella Parsons column, talking to Judy Lesser, who was recently made President of the First National Bank.

Before starting on the last part of his journey, Erick stops at Disneyland. While walking through Frontierland, he sees two cowboys who look vaguely familiar. They are Doug DeRosa and Billy Duggan, being chased by a band of Indians led by Tom Vincent and Arner Tibbetts. When Erick goes to see Mark Twain's boat, he is surprised to see that the captain is none other than Jean Pierozzi. Now he is ready for Hollywood.

When he arrives at his destination, he first stops for lunch at John Piantedosi's Drive-In, where Lynda Palmer waits on him. During the meal he sees Marion Murphy, the world's champion woman wrestler, and Roberta Cuttell, who just lost to Carla Rommel in the hop-skotch finals. After that he gets a suite at Leo Hayes' beautiful hotel. His bag is carried by David Katvala, the chief bell hop. That night he attends the premiere of Gunny Production's new movie, "The Life of Edward Byrne, Scotland Yard Detective." The movie is directed by David Lent and stars Tony Bader and Roberta Navedonsky. Ronald Burt is Tony's understudy. At the premiere, Erick sees many notables, such as Pat Barry, now a member of the Royal Family of England, and Francis King, who has taken over DeGaulle's place in France. Also present are Carolyn Cunningham, the United States Ambassador to South Africa, and Sheila Nee, the Vice-President of the United States. Other celebrities include Bob Brenn, captain of the Celtics, and his manager, Joe Beavis; Leo Mullin, a new movie idol, and his private secretary, Judy Nowick; the new star, Diana Jones, who just got her first, real break when Susie Koskiren went to Europe; and Gail Swett, Hollywood's famous stunt girl. Joanne Terrasi, a prompter, is there with Walter Sokolowski, who designs those famous women's hats.

The next day, Erick has a ticket to attend a fashion show put on by Paul Setzco and Michael Donahue. Their leading models are Caroline Maria and Janice Uglevich.

That afternoon he is taken on a tour of the studios by the studio guide, Dennis Murphy, where he sees Charlie Norgoal hard at work painting scenery, and Paul McDonnell practicing his ballet for the next scene. His car is driven out to him by Susan Scacciotti, the studio chauffeur. As he leaves the studio, Erick waves goodbye to Sandra Sluyski, the last member of the Class of '60, who is reshingling the studio roof.

Football 1959

Another school year is gone and with it goes another winning season for the football squad. This year, Coach DeRosa's team, as in past years, had lots of drive and, most important, spirit, as was proven in their startling twelve to nothing upset victory over Marlboro.

Following a solid opening day victory at St. Mary's the "Tigers" lapsed into a tailspin that saw them lose to Hudson, Notre Dame, and Wayland before winning the "game of the year" with Marlboro. From there on in Maynard outscored their opponents better than two to one and surged on for a share in the Midland League Title. November saw them with an over-all record of five wins and four defeats.

Boy's Basketball

 Second row: Mr. Formosi, Coach; L. McDonnell, H. Hatch, R. Bain, J. Mancini, R. Johnson, R. Hytonen and W. Martino, Managers.
 Third row: C. Rutkowski, W. Larson, R. Cox, J. Mullin, W. DeRosa

In spite of the many obstacles with which the boys were faced, the spirit of the team under Coach Formosi was remarkable. It was a determined five that faced a heavily favored Marlboro team in the opening game of the season. In the thrilling contest that ensued, Maynard emerged the victor in overtime.

The Maynard team further amazed the experts by winning two of the next three contests and had a three and one record at holiday time. However, upon the return of the boys to the court after vacation, the roof caved in. Maynard was able to win but one of the next six games. Included in this skein was a heart-breaking loss to Northbridge. The fans saw a fighting Black and Orange five come back from thirty points down to within a basket of their opponents only to see victory elude their grasp in the last seconds of play. This proved that the team had the courage and fortitude to come back.

After the Milford loss Maynard was able to tie together a three-game winning streak, including another overtime victory; this time with Auburn. The last four games were lost to the foe, all by the smallest of margins. The boys ended the season with a respectable seven-ten won-loss record.

Starting off the 1959-60 season with drive, determination, and new warm-up jackets, the girls, led by Coach Martha Whittemore and Captain Beverly DeGrappo, went on to an undefeated season.

Following the season, the girls successfully entered the Central Massachusetts Class B Tourney in Grafton, Massachusetts. By beating Charlton, 35-22, on March 5th, Maynard entered the finals. On March 12th, they beat North Brookfield, 48-38, thus winning the Class B Crown and wrapping up an outstanding season.

The girls brought home a beautiful trophy for Maynard High School, and received some of their own. Of the six girls selected for the "All-Tourney Team," Maynard is proud to boast of an all-star four: Captain Beverly DeGrappo, Elaine Colleton, Sandra Melanson, and Arlene Chyzus. Elaine Colleton was also awarded a trophy as the M. V. P. of the tournament.

Congratulations to the 1959-60 girls' basketball team!

Although the JV's weren't as fortunate as the varsity, they showed great promise for next season. The JV's were led by versatile Ann Marie Martucci. High scorer for the season was Ann Marie Graceffa.

Their total record for the season was five wins and three losses. Next year some of the JV's will be expected to fill the shoes of the six graduating seniors.

The JV's too, led by Janet McGarry and Barbara Hatch, are to be congratulated on their fine work. They should be a promising varsity team in the future.
