*MAYNARD PUBLIC LIBRARY
Maynard, Mass.*

You come in the morning when the clouds still hide the sun and your eyes will not open all the way.

The door is heavy when you open it and sometimes it knocks you off balance if you catch it while it's closing.

The halls are dark and restless with people. "Hi Jim."
as you open your locker. Books.
you get what you need for the first half of the day.

"Hi" and move past noisy clusters
"H'Lo Marsha" to your first period class.

At your seat your thoughts collide with the future. Hard.
but not as much as yesterday and even less than the day before that.

For a moment you may pause,
Facing both forward and back.
contemplating the dreams of the future and the memories of the past.

Here we go.

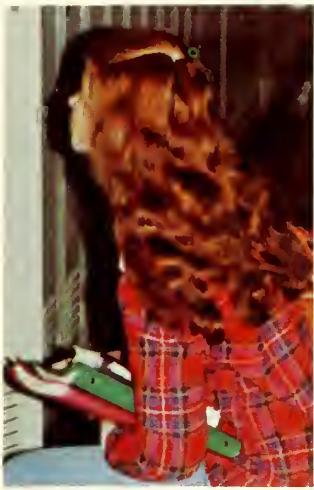

And so we came,
again crossing varied paths Alone, often, you will reflect in silence on your dreams . . .

Our Class

Carrying memories of the past Treasuring hopes of the future you alone will have to build you together will emerge carpenters of the future . . .

The questioning,
The answering,
Laughter subsides And experience is shared.

Pushed and pulled through the halls on your way to classes
You are a boulder tossed by an avalanche of fellow students Your life is changing being molded by a kaleidoscope of forces.
They are personalities your fellow students.
Their dreams, their goals,
their plans for tonight
They all have something to say and they say it.

You listen and talk to them during lunch, after school, in the courtyard.
In class you are working with and against them, Learning.
Talk about life.
Listen.
They are life.
Unconsciously picking up habits, you are putting yourself in their place and feeling how they think.
"I've finally figured you out"
But don't be too sure,
they are changing.
There is growth.
Learn.

Now familiar faces
Laughing, Questioning, Waiting for four years . . .
How soon will they fade Into a blur of yesterdays
A striking resemblance,
A sudden remembrance,
A lasting friendship . . .
Portraits of yesterday
Painted on the mind
Create visions of tomorrow.

Emptiness is speechless as the last student looks beyond the panorama of closed books, empty classrooms, foodless cafeterias, and a quiet campus.

Our School

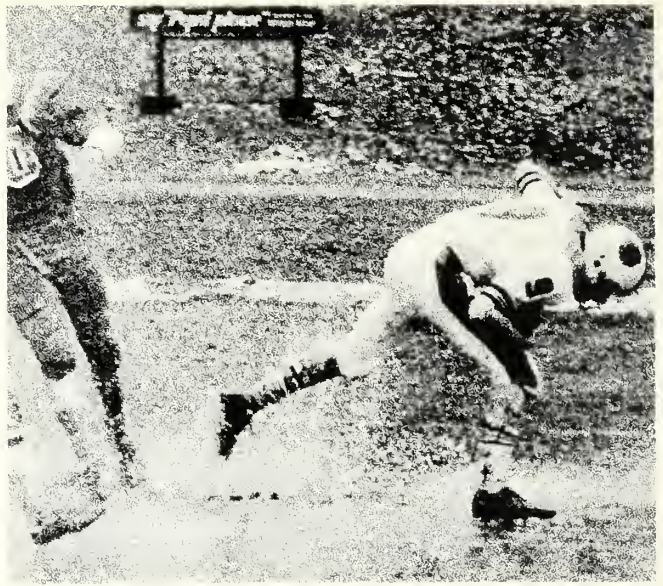

ALMA MATER

*To the glory of our school
 We raise our voices to the sky;
 We pledge our faith and homage ever
 Where e-er our duty ever lies.
 And in the tuneful chorus blending
 Her fame and honor never die.
 To thee our grand old Alma Mater
 Our deerr old Maynard High.*

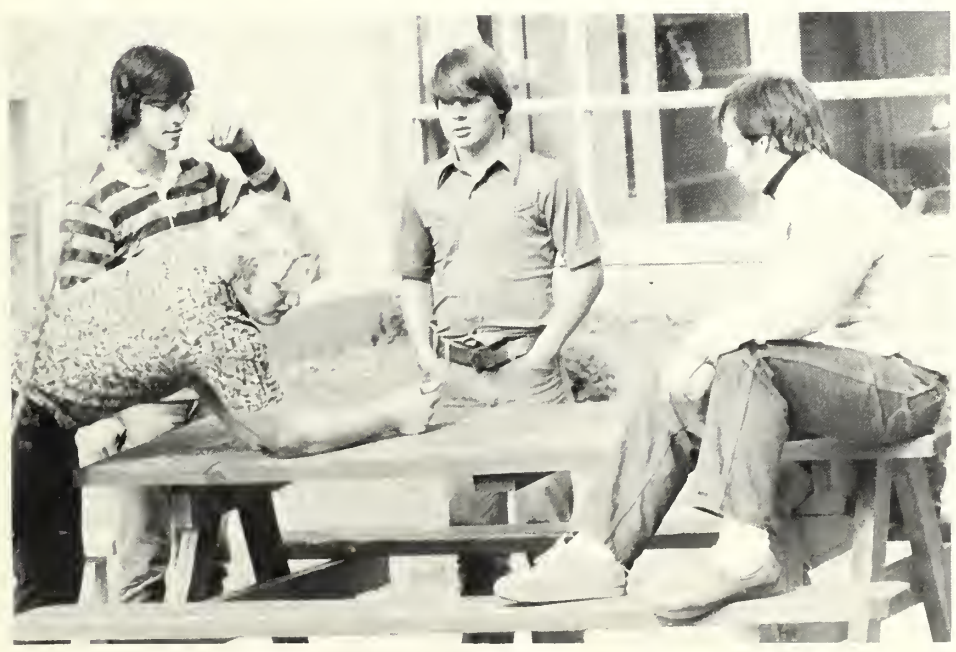

Anxiety, Animosity, Affinity, Affection.
Now we may look back and evaluate what we've done, or look ahead and decide what we shall do, but now is not the time to sit in the sun and close our eyes. We must see for ourselves what we are about, and now is time to begin at the end . . .

. . . the future cannot be stopped
This year you welcomed it as a means to independence.
Soon it will be something to build your life on.

The stars are out
Each one a challenge.
And more not yet come into view

THANK YOU!

Thank you Miss Bartilotti. The class of 1976 would like to express our deepest gratitude to one who has done much, not only for our class, but for the entire school. In addition to being an excellent teacher, you have offered your assistance in various aspects of school life: directing plays, coaching the JV hockey team, advising the Literary Magazine and helping seniors attain college admittance.

You have fired our ambitions and supported our endeavors, consoled us in our failures and applauded our successes. The term "class advisor" does not really fit, but perhaps you have just helped to redefine it.

The counselors share a concern for each student and attempt to add to his academic experience at Maynard High School. They are aware of the demands and expectations placed on all people today, and counselors attempt to help each student become aware of his rights as a person, and to assist and encourage him to assume the responsibilities that accompany those rights. Students are helped to weigh alternatives, consider consequences, and reach decisions after careful thought. Each student is encouraged to develop his unique potential and to become a thoughtful, concerned person.

SPRIS

THE SPIRIT OF '76

The Class of 1976 experienced one of the greatest strives for unity during their senior year. They held a class meeting which involved members of the entire class discussing their feelings, arguing out problems and even shedding a few tears.

They came to realization that unity was the joining together in a common purpose or endeavor. This being happy memories of school days and future years of friendship with all members of the class.

The Spirit of '76 is just that, the entire country is joining together to celebrate and learn to appreciate the United States' bicentennial. The people are trying to abolish the barriers which create resentment between races, religions, nationalities, and financial positions. As a result, friendships are being formed and people are being accepted for what they are.

The Class of 1976 has made progress over the previous three years at Maynard High School. The class has accepted the division of three groups of people, therefore people from all three are coming together in friendships, graduation planning and making sure our high school memories are happy ones.

The 1975 Fighting Tiger Football Team started the season with two big wins, 19-18 over Clinton, and 19-7 over Bedford. Coach Duggan installed a new split offense to put more points on the board. The system worked well in the opening games, but the Tigers were unable to move the offense successfully in the next two games, scoring only 3 points. Determined not to have a losing season, the Tigers bounced back to beat Marlboro 13-0. Weather played a major role in a heart-breaking loss to Milford, but pride, and determination brought home a win against Concord-Carlisle the following week. Algonquin proved to be the most formidable opponent, but the Tigers putting out their finest defensive and offensive effort, completely over-came the "Tomahawks", 30-7.

Facing a young Hudson team for homecoming week, the Tigers easily won 26-12 to avenge last seasons loss.

With the traditional Thanksgiving Day game approaching the Tigers spent countless hours reviewing films and developing the best possible game plan to take to Acton. Sheer determination and school pride led the Tigers to overcome the inclement weather and field conditions to bring home a 9-0 win on Turkey Day.

CHEERLEADERS

The M.H.S. Cheerleading squad is made up of 13 enthusiastic and spirited girls. Throughout the season the girls decorated the team room and actively participated in all rallies. After basketball season, the girls worked incessantly perfecting routines to enter tournament competition. In the past few years the M.H.S. Cheerleaders have proved to be formidable opponents, placing in every competition.

The J.V. squad of M.H.S. has improved greatly over its past three years of existence. The squad consists of 10 freshmen girls under the direction of Linda Panetta. Due to lack of bus room, they do not cheer for away games but they give a lot of moral support during home games.

Miss Klepadlo has been the M.H.S. cheering advisor for 6 years and a very good one at that. Compliments from her were few but very sincere since she excepted nothing less than perfection. Under her direction the M.H.S. cheerleaders have brought home many a trophy and set up high expectations for future M.H.S. cheerleaders.

This year Miss K. found herself unable to advise and Linda Panetta, a former M.H.S. cheerleader, has taken over the responsibility. Since Linda was also under the direction of Miss K., her aims are basically the same. She is very enthusiastic about competition and this year's routine looks very promising.

The key to the successful season gained by the girls varsity field hockey team was pride, skill, and determination. The girls ended their season with a proud 6-4-4 record. The varsity team will lose five senior members this year, their positions will be quickly filled by a strong up-coming junior varsity team.

The Maynard High School Basketball season started with great promise and concluded with great disappointment.

Although there was great talent, it never seems to come together. Injuries and three weeks of the flu epidemic also hampered the team effort. Seniors, Steve Aulenbach, Joe Kalinowski, Jamie Forster, Roger Alatalo, Karl Nyholm gave it their all, but it was not meant to be. Jim Aulenbach, Jeff Lent, Doug Johnson and Dave Mariani will be back to form the nucleus of next year's team.

VOLLEYBALL

The 1975 girls volleyball team had a terrific year. Though it was the first year of league play, the girls came through with a 5-4 season, 3rd place in the league. The new coaches, Mr. Lincoln and Mrs. Mason, did well to train their teams with only three weeks before the seasons' opener. Even with the loss of seniors Ali Rock, (captain); Robin Rogers and Tanya Zantow, next year looks promising.

The Girls Cross Country Team, led by seniors Betty-Ann Doucette, Barbara Regan, and Debbie Tyler, had a very good season. Many new faces added to the largest membership for the team in three years. With the expert coaching of Mr. Cusson, the girls won every league meet and came in 7th out of 30 teams in the Semi-Final State Division. Thank you, Miss Bartolotti, for your guidance and aide in making this a memorable experience.

They are held at different colleges each year, where the high school students hold state and local positions within the college, in order to see how their government functions. The sponsors of the Maynard students are the American Legion and the Auxiliary. To be chosen, one must be a junior, in the upper third of their class, with qualities of leadership and good citizenship. The junior class votes for candidates of which six are selected by a representative of the Legion. This years members are A. Guay, R. Zbink, K. Brown, S. Aulenback, B. Gatley, and R. Alatalo. Only the best candidates are sent, so it is an honor to attend either of these functions.

SAVINGS ACCOUNTS.

Think of them as your own money machines.

Remember the saying about the best way to double your money is to fold it in half and put it in your pocket? What it meant was that there wasn't really any sure way to invest it. Well, there is today. In a savings account at ASSABET.

Besides being a safe place to have your money, a savings account earns interest, makes your cash readily available, lets you plan future purchases with peace of mind, makes down payments easy, and, best of all, gets you out of that buy-now-pay-later habit that somehow never seems to work out right.

All Accounts Insured in Full by the Deposit Insurance Fund

So take your money out of your pocket, unfold it, and put it to work in any or all of these quick-cash generators:

- Regular Accounts
- N.O.W. Accounts
- Special Notice Accounts
- Christmas, Club Accounts
- Savings Certificates

You'll like the sounds it makes. Remember? Money talks.

"One morning I removed my forgotten high school yearbook from my bedroom closet. I dusted it off and began to flick through the pages of my past. My children gathered around me and laughed at the faded styles, while I slowly faded away into the pictures."

Everyone enjoys to reminisce about their high school days. The best way to restore memories is through pictures. Imagine looking into a book and seeing all the friends of your youth. You can look back and decide which teachers you liked or disliked, the activities you participated in, what it is like to see yourself in a classroom or in the cafeteria relaxing with your friends and a coke.

High school years are important in developing a responsible adult. In joining clubs, being voted as a representative for your class or just working for good grades, we begin our preparation for the outside world.

The closing of a lifetime of security is represented by a class' yearbook. This makes the book's contents very important. Pictures and topics must be chosen with the entire class in mind. Every member must have some part in this collage of memories.

Our greatest thanks are extended to a large number of people. Without their help our deadlines would never have been made. Mr. Chan Lincoln added his imagination and creativeness to many of the mood pictures. Thanks also to Bob Gately, pilot-photographer, who is responsible for the excellent aerial shot which was chosen for the insert cover page.

We would like to give our very special thanks to Mr. Paul Henning who donated many long hours to teaching yearbook layout and design and guided us through many hours of decisions, arguments and hysteria.

Due to unexpected circumstances Mr. Henning was unable to direct us through the first deadline. We therefore would like to thank Mrs. Betty Hill and Ms. Celia Bartilotti for their assistance in typing alignment and activity write-ups.

The Yearbook Staff greatly depreciated after the semester break, however a handful of devoted students stayed together to meet the largest deadline. To these students a special thanks from the Class of 1976 is well deserved.
