Dedication

IT IS with deep and sincere appreciation that we, the class of 1958, dedicate this yearbook to you, teacher, advisor, and friend. The pride you have taken in your work has been an inspiration to everyone around you. Your true worth is reflected in your untiring efforts to encourage and persuade us to proceed unflinchingly toward our goals. As a result of these efforts, we approach the future with confidence in our abilities and an eager anticipation of what is yet to come.

It is with gratitude, then, that we affectionately dedicate this SCREECH OWL to you, Mr. Laurence Lerer.

MR. LAWRENCE LERER

To The Class of '58

OUR AGE is one of discovery and invention. A glorious heritage of the Past has given birth to an even more glorious Present. Now we are at the beginning of a new era — an era bright with the promise of achievement. It is with eager anticipation that we, the youth of today, the adults of tomorrow, extend our hands to embrace the key to the future.

It is significant to us that during the past year many inspiring advances have been made in all pathways of the sciences. Because the most revolutionary discoveries have been made in the field of scientific endeavor we have chosen to salute the Space Age by incorporating into this book of memories, past and present, a little of the fascination of the future. It is for this purpose then, that we have portrayed the class of '58, the faculty, and the whole student body as participants of a space voyage. We have been preparing for this voyage throughout our four years at Maynard High School. Now we are ready to commence our journey, destiny unknown, into the future.

MR. ALBERT LERER
Superintendent of Schools

To The Class of 1958 -

IT IS indeed a pleasure to offer my congratulations to the Class of 1958.

The challenges of a complex, troubled world have always been the incentive for positive action among good democratic citizens. You are especially fortunate, for your thoughts and deeds of accomplishment will be sparked by the wonders of the Atomic Age.

It is with confidence that the torch of never ending progress is placed in your hands. Guard well your responsibility; remember that the hopes and prayers of those you hold most dear are with you. Carry on in life so that we may all be proud of you.

Good Luck and God Bless You.

Albert Lerer

MR. FREDIANO D. MATTIOLI
High School Principal

To The Class of 1958 -

AT THIS time, in bidding you goodbye, the Faculty of Maynard High School sincerely hopes that what you have learned and experienced here will help to make your future a more fruitful one, your decisions wiser ones.

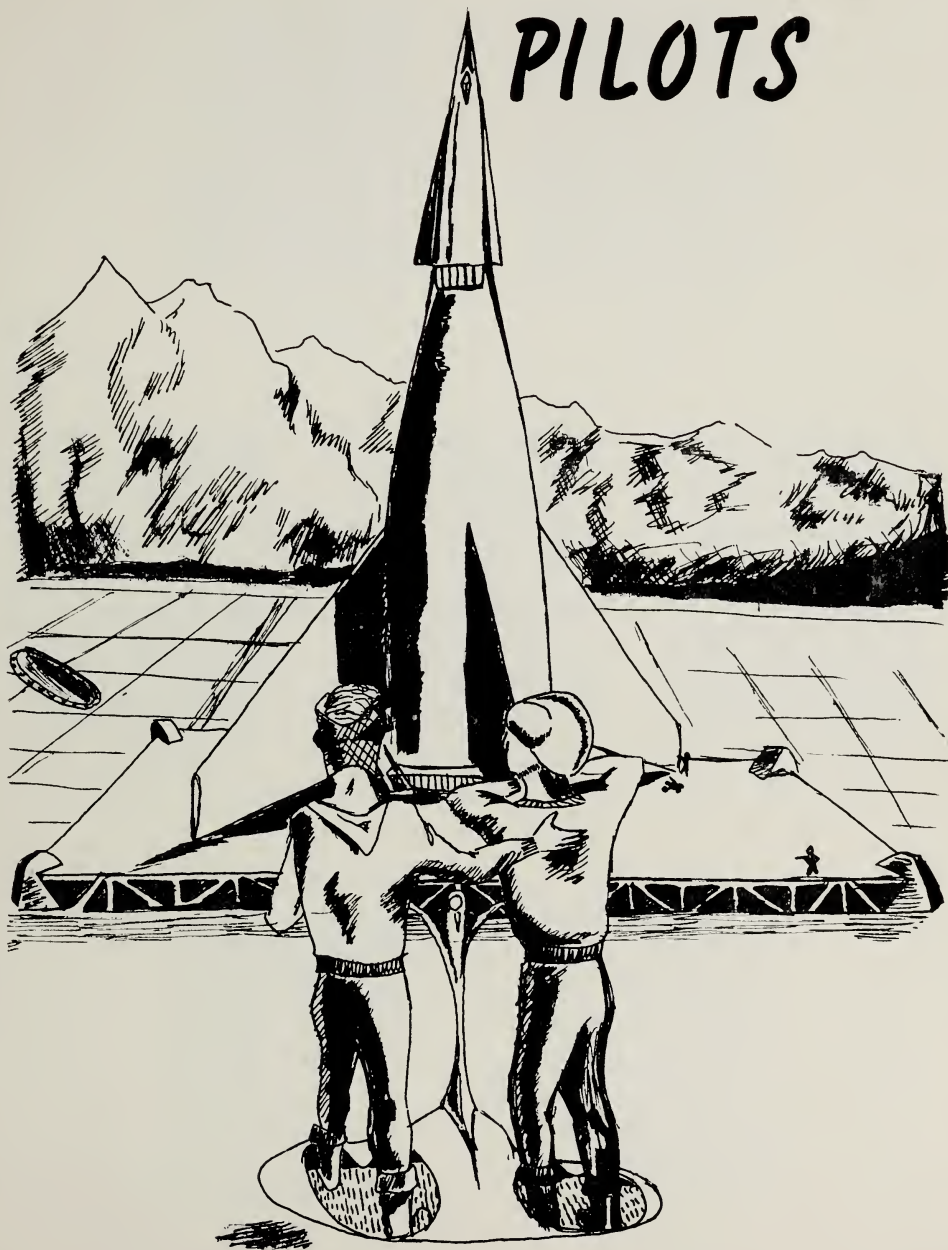

During your years at Maynard High School you have grown physically, emotionally, and intellectually. This growth will continue—but now your own decisions will increasingly be the determining factors in your strides toward maturity.

It is my hope, that with God's help, you will always live in strict adherence to the things you know are right, that you will not compromise with principles nor make concessions to mediocrity.

I wish you happiness and good fortune in the days that lie ahead.

Class Destiny

Time — 1973
Place — Mars

Welcome, classmates, on this beautiful evening, to our first reunion of the class of "58". I hope you enjoyed a comfortable journey on Roger William's Rocket Ship. His able assistants are Caroline Marzilli, chief stewardess, and ticket collector Bernard Meister, both of whom accompany Roger on his Route of the Universe.

The banquet tonight will be brought to you through the courtesy of Cassidy Caterers, with head cooks Carol Massarelli and Lorraine Johnson. Their specialty, of course, is sizzling hot pizza. Until now you may not have regarded this as much of a specialty, but this pizza is made of green cheese imported from the Ray Melanson Cheese Company on the moon. Ray employs two famous chemists, Diane Reynolds and Ed Ferland, who process this cheese by using the moon's rare gases. Also on his payroll are Sonia Denesiuk and Carole Croft, his cheese samplers. After the dinner, Doctor Anne Parker will be on hand with bicarbonate of soda for any one who needs her assistance.

Dinner music for the evening will be presented by the Hathaway-Weaving Jazz Band which is simply out of this world. Unfortunately, our guest speaker of the night, world traveler Anthony Warsewicz, who was to have given a talk on how he narrowly escaped death from the watery craters of Venus on a recent fishing trip, has not yet arrived. When last heard from, he was having trouble fighting his way through the dense woods of this planet.

If time allows, we shall show the Academy Award moving picture, Valiant Search, starring Peter Eley, a wealthy fur trapper on the polar caps of Mars. He is constantly searching for the rare pink mink for his wife Mary Clayton.

One moment please! I have just received word from the earth, through our interplanetary messenger boy, Roy Januskiewicz, who received experience for this job while attending Maynard High School, that Donald Boothroyd and Wanda Zawadzki have won the Mr. and Miss Universe Contest. Donald is the protégé of Frank Perillo and David France who have trained him in the art of weightlifting and principles of nutrition. Pictures of this contest will appear in Mulcahy's Muscle-Moulding Magazine.

Now for the highlight of the evening. Photographer Charles Lowe and his assistant Judy Tower will show a series of candid shots depicting some of us in our everyday lives.

This first picture shows John Bowse, President of the A&P Supermarket Chain, arguing with Bank President Stanley Chapman and foreign Planet Diplomat Edward Robinson, about the price of rocket fuels. Ed, by the way, is also the voice of M.G.M.'s trade mark, the growling lion.

This second candid shot shows the Army of the Planets awarding the "Medal of Honor" to Generals Beverly Peckala, Cecile Brooks, and Anne Savikoski. They will now retire from their military chores and take up residence at Edith Anderson's Beach Resort in Silver Springs, Florida.

Jack Hagerty, Dave Korsman and Carl Emanuelson are managing a series of space stations where rockets may be repaired or refueled. Like this one in the picture they all contain purple jukeboxes with orange polka dots, installed by the Louis Nicholas Record Company. His latest golden record star, Elaine Morrison, has another hit tune. Bob Graham is Lou's interplanetary disc-jockey of station F.L.O.P.

Here is an adventure shot of explorers Janice Freeman and Irene Budrewicz planting their flag at the Summit of Mount Never Rest, on Jupiter. They purchase all their climbing clothes at the extravagant clothing emporium owned by Benny Salvatore and Walter Sokolowski, whose models are Marylou Duggan and Donna Murdock.

John Boulden, television star of "Space Patrol," is seen here instructing the "little kiddies" in the use of one of his new devices, the cosmic ring.

Willy Bouffard and Buddy Seura have just retired on the funds they have received from their privately owned billiard establishments scattered all over the world. They are shown here, really living it up at Las Vegas.

In this picture world-renowned artists Lila Nelson and Pauline D'Errico are shown designing clothes for Billy Croff's School of Modeling, located a few blocks from the famous "Pat Russo Fly-In Cafeteria."

The next scene shows Ronald Sivonen, Chemistry teacher at Maynard High School, talking to Principal John Tobin about hiring Ed Troisi as football coach.

In the world of sports our class has done quite well. This picture shows Dick Jones, who was baseball's greatest catcher, and who is now Commissioner of Baseball, throwing the ball to start the game between the United States' softball team, captained by Jean Zanelli, and the Martian team, captained by Cathy Kulevich. Donald Thompson, the decathlon star, and Dave Vermilyea of Villanova, are shown receiving their gold medals for the 1972 Olympics.

Automobile engineer, Dick Kangas, and Andy Kulju, an outstanding physicist of the M.I.T. teaching staff, are shown on their annual vacation in Silver Springs.

Now that the films are over we shall go by rocket ship on a guided tour of the Milky Way Galaxy. This trip will end at the estate of the President of Venus, Richard Martino. His mansion has fifty rooms, ten of which possess pool and billiard tables. The thousand-acre estate is taken care of by caretaker John West, who owns a mink farm on the side. Head butler, Ronald Starr, and maid Bev Seppanen, will be on hand to serve your needs and make your stay comfortable.

Well, as you can see, our principal and teachers were certainly right when they said we were a hard-working class, the best they had seen in all their years of teaching. We all have been a success.

Our rocket ship will be returning shortly, so please join me now in singing Auld Lang Syne.

BEVERLY PEKKALA

Class Will

We, the class of nineteen hundred and fifty-eight of Maynard High School, town of Maynard, County of Middlesex, Commonwealth of Massachusetts, being of sound mind and body, do hereby make, publish, and declare this to be our last Will and Testament.

To our class advisor, Miss Dutilly, we leave a generous amount of "thank you's," and a large amount of appreciation for all that she has done for us.

To our faculty, we leave our sincere appreciation for all the aid they have willingly given us.

To the under-classmen, we leave several sets of slightly used textbooks.

Edith Anderson leaves Mr. Ryder, but doesn't want to.

Donald Boothroyd leaves the Quinn brothers without a ride to and from school.

Wilfred Bouffard leaves his carefree manner to Ronald Burt.

John Boulden leaves to Cyril Spratt his curly hair.

John Bowse leaves M. Murphy walking to school.

Cecile Brooks leaves without regret.

Irene Budrewicz bestows her quiet ways on John White.

Ronald Cassidy leaves the Driver's Ed. car without a scratch.

Stanley Chapman leaves his graceful dancing manners to Peter Maglione.

Mary Clayton leaves to Heather Jenkins a book on "How to Get Along with your English Teacher" in three easy lessons.

Carole Croft leaves and is glad it's over with.

William Croft leaves for the Navy.

Sonia Denesluk leaves her bookkeeping set to anyone who may need it next year.

Pauline D'Errico leaves — I wonder where she's going — Fort Devens maybe?

Marylou Duggan leaves her athletic ability to Audrey Malcolm.

Peter Eley leaves his wide-awake manner to Steve Carlton.

Carl Emanuelson leaves his quiet ways to Marty Malcolm.

Edward Ferland leaves Mrs. Holt without her best patient.

David France leaves his scientific ability to Edward Cantino.

Janice Freeman leaves with Irene.

Robert Graham leaves — this time for good.

John Hagerty leaves his muscular build to Roy Gould.

Swift Hathaway leaves his enthusiastic ways to Leo Mullin.

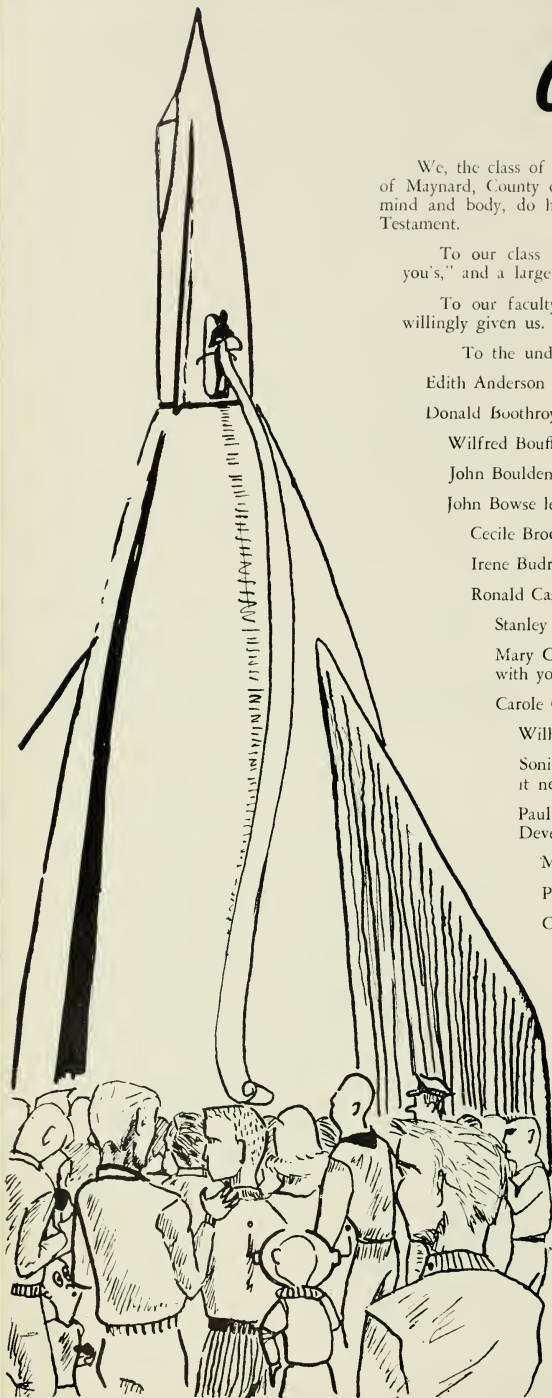

Kathleen Hinds wills her Shorthand book to anyone who wants it.

Roy Januskiewicz leaves Mrs. Ayotte without an errand boy.

Lorraine Johnson leaves a worn out fountain pen and a package of stationery to anyone who can use them as much as she has.

Richard Jones leaves his athletic ability to Paul Lukashuk.

Richard Kangas leaves Sally Chapman.

David Korsman leaves Elaine Colleton walking alone.

Catherine Kulevich leaves her megaphone to anyone who can use it.

Andrew Kulju leaves to Harold Hatch his many hours of study.

Charles Lowe leaves to Larry Karpeichik his perfect posture.

Carol Massarelli bestows her Betty Crocker Award upon Lee Robinson.

Richard Martino leaves the English class in an uproar.

Caroline Marzilli leaves all the boys in the under-classes broken-hearted.

Bernard Meister bestows his scholastic ability on Thomas Vincent.

Raymond Melanson leaves for Norwich. Too bad, Ray, it isn't co-educational.

Elaine Morrison wills her singing ability to Jerry Dec.

William Mulcahy leaves to Joe Graceffa his many trips to Marlboro.

Donna Murdock leaves with a hop, skip, and a jump.

Lila Nelson wills her stylish clothes to Leena Saastamoinen.

Louis Nicholas leaves to Edward Mullin his ability to get along with the teachers.

Anne Parker leaves, taking all her honors with her.

Beverly Pekkala bestows her long pony tail on Jesse Pieciewicz.

Frank Perillo leaves Mr. Capone without his biggest headache.

Eleanor Pilecki leaves the halls echoing with her laughter.

Elizabeth Reynolds leaves in the direction of Acton.

Edward Robinson leaves his gentlemanly ways to Peter Niemi.

Patricia Russo leaves her shorthand ability to all Junior stenographers to divide among them.

Benedetto Salvatore leaves with pleasure.

Anne Savikoski leaves to Judy Byrne her lady-like manners. We hope Judy uses them at field hockey games as Anne did.

Eleanor Savosh leaves her past illnesses to any junior who wishes an excuse to stay out of school.

Carlo Seura leaves Maynard High without a basketball captain.

Ronald Sivonen leaves Mr. Lerer without a right-hand man.

Walter Sokolowski leaves, still not believing it's all over.

Ronald Starr leaves his carefree walk to Ralph Kelley.

Donald Thompson leaves his little black book to John Helin.

John Tobin leaves his photographic knowledge to Ronald Laasanen.

Judith Tower leaves her baton-twirling abilities to Doug DeRosa.

Edward Troisi leaves as quickly as possible — for Stow.

Patricia Uglevich leaves her chemistry ability to James Harris.

David Vermilyea leaves his argumentative ways to Walter Wasjuk.

Anthony Warszewicz leaves as quietly as he came.

Raymond Weaving leaves his math ability to Paul Barilone.

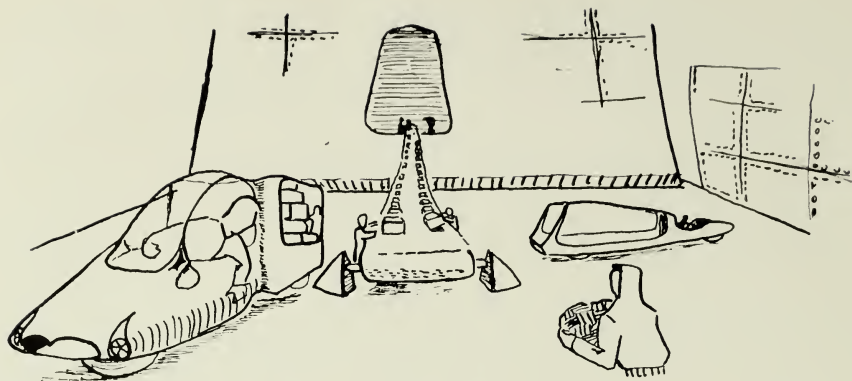

John West leaves the football team without a center.

Roger Williams leaves his artistic ability to Fred Hortskotte.

Jean Zanelli leaves, taking her comb and compact with her.

Wanda Zawadzki has only one prize possession — Harold — whom she refuses to leave.

STARDUST

The Log

In September, 1954, our class entered the portals of Maynard High as freshmen. The confusion of the first week vanished as we gradually became accustomed to our routine, aided by our teachers and the example of upper-classmen.

Our first official meeting as high school members was for the purpose of choosing Freshman Class Officers. The following were elected. Richard Martino, president; Jean Zanelli, vice president; Diane Reynolds, secretary; Edward Robinson, treasurer.

Shortly afterwards, Student Council elections took place, and the following class members were accepted: Louis Nicholas, Janice Freeman, Anne Parker, Wanda Zawadzki, David Vermilyea, and Richard Martino.

Near the end of our first month in high school, the Senior Class presented us with a "Welcome Freshmen Dance." It was our first social affair as freshmen, and one which almost everyone will remember.

December brought the annual Junior Women's Club Dance to which the initiated freshmen girls invited their favorite beaux. The couples enjoyed dinner afterwards, making it a memorable occasion for all.

In the spring our class was allowed to present its first dance, which was jointly sponsored by the Sophomores. The Maynard Chamber of Commerce offered to aid us in making this one of the biggest affairs of our Freshman year. So it was! We danced to the music of a vibrant orchestra, accepted unique gifts and listened to celebrities.

June arrived and preparations were made for the class trip. As in previous years, and following the example of the upper-classmen, we decided to go to Nantasket Beach. It was a beautiful day and the entire class enjoyed themselves. Returning tired, sunburned, and happy, we each went our separate ways into the summer months.

It was fall again, and the slumbering school once more awakened. We had begun another year at Maynard High School. Soon election of Sophomore class officers took place. Satisfied with their previous work, we re-elected: Richard Martino, president; Jean Zanelli, vice president; Diane Reynolds, secretary; and Edward Robinson, treasurer.

The graduation of three Senior girls left openings in the cheerleading squad. Catherine Kulevich, Marylou Duggan, and Wanda Zawadzki were chosen to fill these positions.

That year the following were selected to represent us as a class in the Student Council: William Mulcahy, Swift Hathaway, Anne Parker, Jean Zanelli, and Richard Martino.

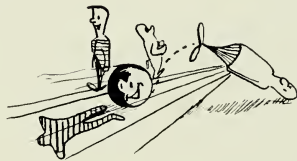

The Freshman-Sophomore dance was again sponsored by the Maynard Chamber of Commerce.

Attendance was excellent, and the dance itself was very successful.

A banquet was held by the Junior Women's Club at Twin Tree Cafe. Jean Zanelli was selected to be a member of the program committee for the ensuing year.

As our days in the second year of high school drew to a close, once again we planned to make Nantasket Beach the destination of our annual class trip. A happy and satisfied group returned in the evening, regretful that, as ever, all good times must come to an end.

School days commenced and we began our Junior year. An entirely different situation prevailed. No longer were we the younger members of the High School. As upper-classmen we found that each of us had new responsibilities, and that our example was imitated by the younger pupils.

At the end of the Sophomore year we again re-elected the following officers to lead our class: Richard Martino, president; Jean Zanelli, vice-president; Diane Reynolds, secretary; and Edward Robinson, treasurer.

Student Council elections took place and the following were selected: Marylou Duggan, Anne Parker, Edward Robinson, Richard Martino, and Swift Hathaway.

There was never a prouder class than on that day in the Junior year when our rings arrived. Somehow there is a certain significance allied with this small piece of jewelry. It both unites the class and advances pupil-school relationship.

During our Junior year a select group of our classmates received the school's highest honor. Richard Martino, David Vermilyea, Anne Parker, and Bernard Meister were inducted into the National Honor Society.

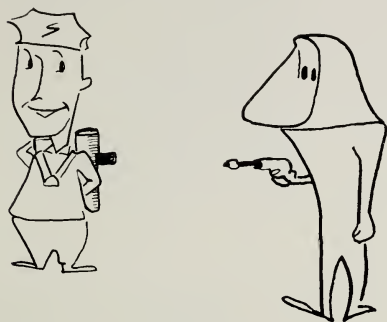

As Juniors, Bernard Meister received an award for winning the spelling contest, and David Vermilyea was selected as a member of the All-State Band.

In April, preparations began for one of the most enjoyable evenings of our high school career. Thus, on May 10th, we presented our Junior-Senior Prom. It was held in the auditorium of the new Green Meadow School which had been elaborately decorated in accordance with our theme, "Stardust." Music was provided by Baron Hugo. Wanda Zawadzki was chosen Queen and reigned over this memorable evening with beauty and elegance. The members of her court were: Catherine Kulevich, Carol Massarelli, Lila Nelson, Beverly Seppanen, Patricia Uglevich, and Jean Zanelli.

Nantasket Beach was again designated for the class outing. The weather was very inclement, but the lack of sunshine was soon overcome by the gaiety. Evening brought departure and the beginning of carefree summer.

Three years have flown past, and now we entered high school for the last time. As this was our final year, we made a continuous effort to present the school with an outstanding Senior class.

Events began to occur immediately. The class officers of the previous year were again re-elected. During the first few months of school, graduation colors were chosen and gowns fitted. Class pictures, as well as numerous other poses for our yearbook, were taken by Samuel's Studio.

At a special assembly, Carol Massarelli, Catherine Kulevich, Jean Zanelli, and David France joined the other four Senior members of the National Honor Society.

Interest in sports increased appreciably for us since the captains of the teams were chosen this year from our class. Edward Troisi and William Mulcahy were elected co-captains of our football team, Carlo Seura, captain of the basketball team, Richard Jones captain of the baseball team, Jean Zanelli, captain of the girls' basketball team and Wanda Zawadzki, captain of the field hockey team.

Jean Zanelli, Richard Martino, Anne Parker, Swift Hathaway and Edward Robinson attained positions on the Student Council.

At present we are in the midst of work on our yearbook. The entire staff is outdoing itself to present us with a book of which we can be proud.

As spring comes everyone is anxiously awaiting the events it will bring — the Junior-Senior Prom, Memorial Day Parade, Class Outing, Class Night, Class Week and finally the climax of four wonderful years, Graduation.

Commencing, as freshmen, a trip abounding in knowledge and social experience, we have remained united as a class throughout these four years. Now we pause, momentarily, on a new horizon, anticipating with confidence the realization of our abilities. Commencement arrives and we wing on into the future.

Football-1958

As the 1957 season opened, it looked as if Maynard were going to have a disappointing year. The Black and Orange went down to defeat (20-6) at the hands of a mediocre St. Mary's eleven.

The following Saturday told a different story, however. Backed by a tremendous rally and encouraged by overwhelming support, Maynard rolled to its first win over Hudson (24-20) in six years. It was a great victory as well as a boost in the Midland League standing.

During the next four weeks Maynard was soundly beaten by only one club, Marlboro showed why it was the Eastern Massachusetts Class C champ by trouncing Maynard (35-7). The Maynard fans witnessed tough losses to Notre Dame (12-9), Wayland (33-13), and Concord (20-12).

The Saturday after the Concord game the Orange traveled to Milford and pulled the League upset of the year by coming out on top of the Red Raiders (7-0).

On the basis of that win, Maynard was a strong favorite to beat Clinton on Thanksgiving morning. This prediction proved true as Maynard rolled over the Green Gaels (25-13). The entire squad was in top shape and gave evidence of it with Johnny White and Eddie Mullin playing an outstanding game.

The 1957 season was very successful as far as the league standing. Maynard had three wins and one loss, thus taking second place in the Midland League.

The Clinton game was the last for eight seniors: Bill Mulcahy, Ed Troisi, John West, Swift Hathaway, John Hagerty, Dave France, Ray Melanson, and Dick "Toe" Jones.

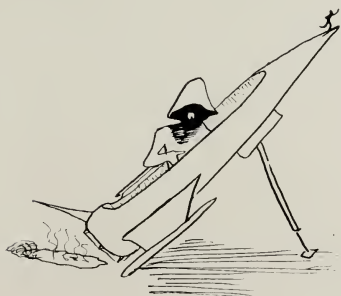

It is the belief of these seniors that they will be able to look back and say that they were instrumental in the birth of a long winning streak for Maynard High.

BOYS' BASKETBALL

In spite of an undaunted spirit, the Maynard High School basketball team suffered a winless season. The official record was 0 wins and 14 losses. There were many close games, however, the result of some of which was in doubt until the last few seconds. This high-spirited orange and black team was relentless throughout the season in their efforts to bring home a victory. Several of the boys had good seasons. Among these were captain Carlo Seura, Swift Hathaway and Richard Jones, juniors John White and Norman Hannon, and sophomore Doug DeRosa.

GIRLS' FIELD HOCKEY

The Maynard High School Field Hockey team under the direction of its new coach, Miss Whittemore, had a very good season. Both the Varsity and Junior Varsity exhibited excellent teamwork throughout the season.

The Varsity was captained by Wanda Zawadzki with Catherine Kulevich as high scorer of the season. The vacant places on the varsity left by the seniors will be filled by several outstanding veterans of the Junior Varsity, of which Judy Byrne was J. V. captain. The high scorers of the Junior Varsity were Mary Bakun and Judy Byrne.

The varsity ended with a record of 2 wins, 2 ties, and 1 loss.

The Junior Varsity's over-all record was 4 wins and 1 tie.

The M.H.S. basketball team had a very successful season as it ended with an overall record of 5 wins and 3 losses to place second in the Midland League. The Varsity was captained by Jean Zanelli. High scorer was Leigh Robinson. The black and orange fought hard and lost its games by only a few points. The seniors leave six vacant places on the Varsity which will be filled by promising under-classmen.

The Junior Varsity ended with an over-all record of 5 wins and 1 loss. Judy Byrne was captain, and high scorer was Elaine Colleton. The team's one loss was by a single point.

CHEERLEADERS

J. Byrne, M. Bakun, W. Zawadzki, K. Grandell, M. Duggan, Captain C. Kulevich, S. Sluyski, J. Barry, C. Laskowsky.

The cheerleaders this year have done much to boost the school spirit of Maynard High. In their chic new uniforms of black jumpers and white blouses they were really an addition to our football and basketball games. In April they competed against various other schools and brought honors to Maynard by winning third place in the David Prouty Cheerleaders' Tournament.
